TIMELY REMINDERS FROM PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE

Crow Winter Vegetables—
Asparagus, rhubarb, and Witloof chicory are vegetables which may be produced from December to May. Forcing these vegetables may be done in a cellar where the temperature can be kept from 50 to 60 degrees.

Preparation Aids Trees—
Black walnut grows well on well-drained, fertile soil. The Pennsylvania Agricultural Experiment Station has found a 10 per cent greater survival where tree seedlings were planted in furrows instead of unprepared ground.

Will Show Poultry—
Poultrymen of the State will share a prize fund of $3500 at the 1930 State Farm Products Show in Harrisburg next month. Turkeys and capons will be shown and there will be classes for all kinds of chickens.

Prevent Milk Souring—
Bacteria cause milk to sour. They can be controlled by thoroughly sterilizing milk utensils, removing loose dirt from cow's udder with a clean, damp cloth before milking, and cooling the milk as quickly as possible to 50 degrees F. or less.

Learn to, Then Act—
Before treating birds for parasites or disease be sure that the trouble exists in the flock. State College poultry specialists urge.

Provide Good Care—
Dairy calves should have clean, light stalls or pens and can be provided with an abundance of good feed and water during the winter.

Eliminate Guesswork—
Plan to take an annual inventory of the farm property at the beginning of the year. Then proceed to keep books on all farm operations. Figures sometimes surprise, for losses may occur where profits were expected. It pays to know these facts.
