

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Homan, Mr. and Mrs. John Slack, drove to Williamsport for shopping and to attend to other matters in that city.

Curtis B. Reber is working as a substitute in the Lewistown postoffice during the holiday season. He is on the Civil Service list, and is working his second year in the Lewistown office.

Arthur Kline and family, of Altoona, and George Kline and family, of Salona, were guests on Sunday of Mrs. Margaret Godshall where the father of the gentlemen as well as of Mrs. Godshall, makes his home.

About two inches of sleet fell on Thursday afternoon and evening. Friday morning sleet was followed by rain until the middle of the afternoon. Saturday morning opened with all snow and sleet on roads, fields and mountains gone. The air was warm much like an ideal April day. Sunday came along with more sunshine, but a bit cooler.

J. W. Decker, supervisor of the agricultural department in the Gregg Township Vocational School, and his assistant, John L. Phillips, who is engaged in his second year's work in that institution, were in town on Monday evening, and favored this office with their presence. Mr. Phillips is a native of Hickory, Washington county, and is a recent Penn State graduate.

Maurice Kelley, a lumberman, and J. Bruce Davis, cashier of the Reedsville bank, were here on Monday evening on business with A. H. Spayd. Mr. Kelley reported his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kelley, after the first of the year, will go to Dallas, Texas, for the winter. They will stop in the Lone Star State town with their son, Walter Kelley, who has been located there for a number of years.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mrs. L. E. Stover, of Millheim, was a visitor in town on Monday.

W. H. Lingle, of near Tusseyville, was a caller Saturday.

To facilitate road building in the Seven Mountains forest district a grader and tractor were received by Forester T. C. Harbesson, at Millroy.

It is claimed that Lewistown and its suburbs have a population of 25,000 persons. Lewistown proper has residents to the number of over 15,000.

The Reporter is sorry that much news matter was crowded out of this week's issue due to the heavy demand made on its advertising columns at this Christmas season.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. McCormick, Laura McCormick, Miss Caroline McCluskey, Mrs. Frank Palmer and P. A. Carson, were Potters Mills residents who on Tuesday attended the funeral of Harry L. Hutchinson, in Bellefonte.

The eight months old daughter of Prof. and Mrs. J. F. Wetzel, on Tuesday, fell from its chair to the floor and for a time it was thought very serious injuries followed. After a few hours the child apparently fully recovered.

The word "sweetmeat" means a candy, jelly or preserve, but a nearby farmer has a lot a really and truly sweet meat since a butchering of a few days ago. You see, some one got the sugar, instead of the salt, when mixing the sausage!

At the public sale of real estate and personal property of the Simon Corn state, at Fiedler, the farm property was purchased by the three oldest children for $500. The purchasers expect to occupy and cultivate the farm land.

Treasurer L. L. Smith will make sale of household goods at his home in Centre Hall on Saturday, December 28th, at 1 o'clock, following which he will remove with his family to Bellefonte, where he has built a new home and has business interests.

Miss Mabel Detwiler, daughter of A.

O. Detwiler, of near town, a graduate nurse of the University Hospital, Philadelphia, was seized with appendicitis on the morning of the 8th of this month, and the same evening an operation was performed at the University Hospital. Latest advices are to the effect that she is improving nicely.

After being employed two years as a night man at the Homan Motor Company garage here John Lutz discontinued his services here a few days ago and is now driving a truck for George Harper. At present he is engaged in hauling on the construction of the new State Highway from State College to Waddie. Glenn Tressler is now the night man at the garage.

The Grand View Poultry Farm will advertise its baby chicks, and other products, over the air on and after the first Monday in January. The Kelvin period, covering a fifteen minute program, will be heard from 7:00 to 7:15 o'clock each Monday and Friday evening from Station WJSV, 1400 k.c., from Mt. Vernon Hills, Virginia. This is the first firm in the central portion of the State to use the radio as an advertising medium.

Farmers in the eastern portion of Penns Valley continue to hold the ribbon for growing the heaviest hogs in Centre county. It has long been a find with them, and to do so this year a hog had to be developed to over 605 pounds, the weight of a hog killed by L. E. Stover, of Millheim. Fred Vonda came to the rescue to give Aaronsburg recognition, and by careful feeding beat Mr. Stover's record by eighty pounds. 685 is the weight he reports.

Maynard Barger, of the Red Mill district, was a business caller here on Wednesday. Mr. Barger is one of a number of farm owners between Tusseyville and Potters Mills over whose farms the proposed State highway from the latter place to State College passes, providing the survey now being made is finally adopted. Like many others, Mr. Barger would hesitate to retard road building by litigation, but do in selecting that section in which feels that the damage to him may be considerable. Harry W. Potter, of Centre Hall, accompanied by Dr. J. V. Foster, of State College, and the latter's daughter, Miss Loretta Foster, made a trip to Philadelphia, last week, to consult Dr. Renninger, the noted eye specialist. Mr. Potter was treated for his eye trouble, while Miss Foster had her left eye removed. It will be remembered that this young lady was struck in the eye by a missile about a year ago, in State College, which resulted in total blindness of that eye.

Albert Jacobs, tenant on one of the Allison farms at Potters Mills, advertises a clean up sale of farm stock and implements for March 17th. Mr. Jacobs bought a small truck farm west of Manhattan, and will devote his time exclusively to trucking and marketing his products in Lock Haven, Jersey Shore, Williamsport and Renovo. Mrs. Jacobs was reared in the vicinity in which the truck farm is located, which fact had much to do in selecting that section in which to make their permanent home.
