

SPRING MILLS

Eugene F. Lee and Walter S. Wolfe, who left here last September to attend Pierce's Business College in Philadelphia, are at present spending their holiday vacation at their respective homes. They report favorably of the course they are taking and intend to return about January 6th. It will be remembered that Mr. Lee had been assistant cashier in the First National Bank here, and on last Monday he occupied the place of H. F. Eirdley in the bank, and it seemed quite natural to see Mr. Lee back of the counter again, while Mr. Eirdley was away on a business trip.

T. R. Wagner, mail messenger on the Williamsport Division, spent a few days at his parental home. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wagner.

It is reported that C. L. McCool has bought the home on Long street now occupied by Charles Grenoble, and expects to occupy it in the spring.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Rachau and Miss Lulu, of Bellefonte, spent a few hours in town last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McCormick, of Sunbury, spent a day among some of his old friends in town.

The Christmas services on Sunday evening in the Methodist church were enjoyed by a large audience. The band under the direction of Prof. Harry Acker, of Aaronburg, rendered some fine and appropriate selections, and the Rev. Harry Newman gave a very nice and impressive address.

There was an unusual program rendered last Saturday afternoon at the Gramar school, of which J. Russell Condo is the teacher, which consisted of vocal and instrumental music, recitations, etc. Instrumental music was rendered by four boys—Stover Musser, Cameron Musser, Robert Corman and Glenn Long; recitation by Lois Wise; Christmas carol by four girls; recitation by Bernice Walker, dialogue by Irene Eungard and Stover Musser; a play by 7th and 8th grade pupils; recitation by Jean Rishel; saxophone solo by Robert Corman; reading by Geraldine Bitner; music by four boys; Christmas carols by the girls; recitation by Robert Corman; recitation by Emma Grove; presentation of gifts by Bernice Smith and Helen Zettle. The Christmas carol was sung by Bernice Smith, Jean Rishel, Mabel Eungard and Twila Beightol. The 7th and 8th grades presented their teacher, Mr. Condo, with a beautiful shaving set, and an electric Christmas wreath. Mr. Condo has been very successful as a teacher of the grammar school and apparently has the respect of the pupils as well as the parents, as was plainly
