STATE ATTORNEY GENERAL SETTLES ORPHANAGE ISSUE

Opinion Removes Three Mile Limit On Four Year High School in Upper Augusta Township—I. O. O. F. to Pay.

Below is reprinted an article that recently appeared in the Sunbury Item, and refers to the attempted establishment of a Township Four-Year High School in the I. O. O. F. Orphanage, near Sunbury:

End of the bitter controversy over establishment of the township High School in the I. O. O. F. Orphanage is seen in an opinion from the Pennsylvania Attorney General received by the Upper Augusta township school board recently. The objection to this school came because of its location at the far end of the township and pupils residing within a three mile limit would be compelled to attend. It became an issue at the last election and resulted in the decisive defeat of two directors favoring the proposition.

The opinion of the Attorney General removes the three-mile limit and makes attendance at a township High School discretionary with the board of directors and further states that the directors cannot be surcharged individually for payment of High school tuition to an outside district.

In addition to this opinion the board received a letter from the Odd Fellows educational committee stating that the order would bear the difference between the State appropriations and the actual cost of educating the children in the orphanage. This means that, as in the past, the operation of this school will not cost the township a cent nor will it be necessary to bill back to the districts where the children came from for the cost of their education.

The complicated school situation was given careful study by officials in the Department of Public Instruction at Harrisburg and the decision of the Attorney General clears the way to the tangle and it is believed will remove the objections to a four-year High school course at the orphanage.

The board has already established a fund in which all State appropriations due the orphanage have been placed and in this fund will be placed such other money as the Odd Fellows educational committee may turn over to meet the current expense of educating the 173 pupils in their institution.

The educational committee is co-operating fully with the township board in carrying out its obligations and with the solution at hand and there is little likelihood of another flare up occurring for a long time to come.

GREGG TOWNSHIP VOCATIONAL SCHOOL NOTES

Milroy High Basket Ball Teams at Spring Mills Friday Night.

Friday night the strong boys' and girls' basket ball teams representing Milroy High will visit Spring Mills where they will play the Gregg Township boys' and girls' teams. The two schools split even last year, both winning on their home courts. The games Friday night should be interesting and exciting due to the fact that both schools have practically the same teams that faced each other last year. The Spring Mills teams count this game as being the hardest of the year on the home floor. The girls' game will start at 7:30 P. M. with the boys' game following.

Mifflin county has a tax rate of ten mills.

HOOPER'S PUBLIC WORKS PLAN BORROWED

Democratic Platform Adopted at Huston Advocated Appropriations for Public Works During Depression Periods.

President Hoover's conferences with business men and his advocacy of utilizing public works, both state and national, for the purpose of promoting business stability and checking unemployment has received the wide commendation it deserves. It might be suggested, however, that those persons who express wonder as to what the Democrats would have done if their party were in power and confronted by a similar situation should take the trouble to read the Houston platform, which was adopted one year before Governor Brewster of Maine, as spokesman for Mr. Hoover, outlined a similar plan to a conference of Governors at New Orleans.

Under the title "Unemployment," the Houston platform declares:

"We expend vast sums of money to protect our people against the evils of war, but no government program is anticipated to prevent the awful suffering and economic losses of unemployment. It threatens the well-being of millions of our people, and endangers the prosperity of the nation.

"We favor the adoption by the government, after a study of the subject, of a scientific plan whereby, during periods of unemployment, appropriations shall be made available for the construction of necessary public works and the lessening, as far as consistent with public interests, of government construction work when labor is generally and satisfactorily employed in private enterprise.

"Study should also be made of modern methods of industry and a constructive solution found to absorb and utilize the surplus labor released by the increasing use of machinery."

WALKER RETIRES AS KIWANIS PRESIDENT

Served as Head of Club Since Organization Three Years Ago—Vice President Johnson Becomes President.

At last week's meeting of the Bellefonte Kiwanis Club, W. Harrison Walker, Esq., retired from the presidency after serving in a most proficient manner for three years, or since the organization of the club. It is a well known enthusiastic spirit put into all his undertakings that peculiarly fits him for the leader of an organization such as is that he served so faithfully.

Mr. Walker's retiring address is printed in part below, and at the close in fitting remarks lauded the gavel and official button to his successor, J. Kennedy Johnston, Esq.:

"The one great secret of the phenomenal success of our club has been brought about by the cheerful and unselfish co-operation on the part of its members. All of you have been most loyal. You have been true to the Kiwanis Creed, its ideals, its objectives. You realized that you were passing through this world but once, and that whatever good you might do, whatever service you might render, or whatever kindness you could show, that right here it was not neglected.

"Kiwanis, 'We Build That's our motto. There are 'grouches' and 'knockers' everywhere and on every side. We have them right here in our club. We have been criticized in the club and out of it, but that of course is perfectly natural; it's human; some people can't help it. If we must 'hammer' why not try to build something. The fellow who does very little or nothing worth while is usually found to be the severest in denouncing and criticizing the acts of some other fellow who is honestly trying to render a public or private service. A critic is a man who has tried and failed, or one who has never tried to do anything.

"We, as members of this club have at all times been pleased to have been labeled by members of other Service Clubs as one of the very best clubs in International; that our programs are all of the very highest type, being not only interesting, but instructive; that we function one hundred per cent in all worthy community causes; that we have brought about a better understanding between the urban and rural populations; and that we do render a signal service to the crippled and under-privileged children.

"Within the past year our club has contributed no small amount of money for certain community activities, and I take it that it is only right and proper for me at this time to say to you that I believe our club has functioned in the most conservative manner, and that out of our finances by reason of this sane and conservative operation, it has been made possible for us to contribute to the following worthy community projects:

"To apply on the purchase price for real estate to be used for State Armory, $50.00; to Centre County Hospital, $100.00; to Y. M. C. A., $100.00; Nurses Memorial Home at Centre county hospital, $1,000.00. From the above we will have to come to one definite conclusion that we have been 'Builders'.

"Forgetting all that has unjustly and thoughtlessly been said about our club; forgetting the unselfish service rendered to the crippled, unfortunate and under-privileged children of our community and its surrounding area; forgetting the many miles traveled and the days 'taken off' by many of our members who cheerfully and unselfishly transported these little children to the State Hospital at Philadelphia for treatment and operations; to numerous clinics at the Lock Haven hospital; conveying thirty or more kiddies to the Centre County Hospital for surgical operations; forgetting the items of dollars and cents appropriated to worthy charities located in our community; forgetting the frequent contacts which we as a Club have made with the farmers and grangers of Centre county, thereby securing a better understanding among the urban and rural people of our county; forgetting the substance of many wonderful addresses delivered by men and women of recognized State and National ability; yet with all these entirely forgotten, if that were possible, there is one great and immeasurable thing which our members cannot and will not forget, and that is, that we have Built Lasting Friendships."

Chevrolets Drop in Price.

Announcement of substantially reduced prices on the new 1930 Chevrolet Six, at the same time that the car embodying many distinct improvements made its public bow, created a sensation in automotive circles.

Reductions range from $25 to $50 on seven of the twelve models in the 1930 line, while three new body types are introduced for the first time this year on models retained in the current series. The present base price of $495 brings the six cylinder Chevrolet to within five dollars of the lowest price at which even the four-cylinder Chevrolet was ever sold.

An eight-hour working day for rural mail carriers who now perform their work in some instances in less than five hours, is favored by the Postmaster General Walter F. Brown, who is prepared to go to Congress and ask for new legislation that will give these employees additional duties. The Postmaster General has been informed that new legislation will be necessary before the postal laws and regulations can be changed.

NEW STATE HIGHWAY TO BE WITHOUT CURVES

Road from Potters Mills Runs in Direct West Course to Tusseyville—Route No. 250, Between the Two Points, Barely Touched.

The center line lay-out for the proposed concrete link in the Lakes-to-Sea highway from Potters Mills to Tusseyville runs almost in a direct line west between the two points. There are but two slight curves, only one of which will be noticed in driving. This is where the proposed road crosses Route No. 250, east of the Emerick, formerly the McCoy farm. The other is a slight curve to the west side of the W. R. Neff farm barn.

Beginning at Potters Mills, the intersection with Route No. 53, is east of the new bungalow built by Warren Slack, and through the house owned by Earl Smith and occupied by John H. Bitner, to the rear of the Smith store building, on the north side of the old mill race; through a small portion of the Allison farm, where it crosses Route No. 250 close to the south side of the Emerick, formerly McCoy, farm barn.

From this point the survey continues due west through a large portion of the Emerick farm, on through the Maynard Barger and Mrs. Frank Tate farms. At the Barger place the center road line runs about 25 rods north of the buildings, and at the Tate place 20 rods north. Over the fall on the W. R. Neff farm, tenanted by John Neff, the road runs about 25 rods north of the barn. About 50 rods south of the Fletcher school house the new road crosses the township road north for a short distance and then takes the township road to the E. H. Rockey land, close along the south side of the George W. Spangler house, crosses Sinking Creek and again crosses Route No. 250 between the Charles Stoner and M. F. Rosman properties. A few rods further the State road is intersected over which it runs to a point west of the David Portney farm house, where the survey follows westward through the W. P. Hosterman farm. From this point the survey was made heretofore.

The W. P. Hosterman watering trough is the point nearest to Tusseyville. At but two points—south of the Fletcher school house and at the Portney place—does the proposed road run over the bed of any of the numerous roads on the south side of Potter township.

Parties through whose lands the survey runs are: Warren Slack, Earl Smith, Allison heirs, Mrs. Emma Emerick, Maynard Barger, Mrs. Frank Tate, W. R. Neff, Fletcher farm, William Bitner, W. F. Rockey, Charles Stoner, David Fortney and W. P. Hosterman.

LETTER FROM MINNESOTA.

Sebeka, Minn., Dec. 30, '29.

Dear Editor:

I enclose check for another year. Your ever-welcome paper comes every Saturday noon.

A Happy New Year to you all. We are still on earth after having a very dry year to contend with. Crops were not so good this year, and to top it off we got good and cold the last of November, which makes the winter longer. Feed is short, which makes it hard to figure how things are going to turn out. Stock went down; wages went down, and we don't know what else is going down—hoping that Congress will soon start to go down on the farm problem they are talking of.

10th Prohibition Anniversary.

The local W. C. T. U. will celebrate the tenth anniversary of National Prohibition, in the Methodist church, Rev. Newman, presiding, on Sunday evening, at 7:30 o'clock.

Parishioners of Centre Hall Methodist Church Pay Pastor Visit.

On last Friday evening, the Methodist parsonage at Spring Mills, was the center of a fine social gathering when members of the Centre Hall Methodist church paid their pastor, the Rev. Harry W. Newman, and family, a friendly visit. A telephone call a few days before had informed the household of their coming and hence everything was in readiness for their arrival. A most delightful evening was spent together. The young people played games and the older ones engaged in social intercourse. Baskets filled to the top with refreshments were brought along and there was an abundance for all. Besides this they left a fine donation of supplies for the pastor and family.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Spiker, Alice, Jane and Martha; Mrs. Salome Spiker, Mrs. Robert Campbell, William, Jane and Robert; Mrs. Margaret Godshall, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Moore, Mrs. Thomas Smith, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Emery, Isabel and Marjorie; Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Emery, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Puff, Mrs. John Mowery, Mrs. Elizabeth Devine and George Devine, Mrs. Helen Bitner, Misses Marion and Roberta Smith, Mrs. Larson Burris, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Jodon, Cherry and Isabel Jodon, John Coble, Mrs. Clara Leister and Blaine Leister, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Fague and Donald; Rev. Harry W. Newman.

BOROUGH COUNCIL REORGANIZES

Three New Members Inducted Into Office—D. M. Bradford Elected President—Secretary Searson Retained—Committees Appointed.

The borough council as organized a year ago wound up its business at a brief session held Monday evening. The retiring members are W. H. Homan, A. H. Spayd and M. L. Emerick.

The council as now constituted is composed of D. M. Bradford, president; A. W. Alexander, W. A. Homan, George Searson, hold-over members, and Richard Brooks, C. F. Emery and Fred Bender, new members. Brooks and Emery were sworn in by Justice Slack.

The appointive officers and committees are named below:

Secretary, LeRoy G. Searson.
Treasurer, Penna Valley Bank.
Street Commissioner, J. H. Puff.
Attorneys, Spangler & Walker.
Street Committee: George Searson, Fred Bender, W. A. Alexander.
Water Committee: W. A. Alexander, W. A. Homan, George Searson.
Light Committee: W. A. Homan, Richard Brooks, C. F. Emery.
Nuisance Committee: Fred Bender, Richard Brooks, C. F. Emery.
Fire and Police Committee: Richard Brooks, W. A. Homan, W. A. Alexander.
Finance Committee: C. F. Emery, George Searson, Fred Bender.

BOWER FARM SOLD.

The place above Potters Mills long known as the Bower place, was recently purchased by Orville Lee, of Bellefonte, a nephew of Frank D. Lee, of Centre Hall.

Boyd Smith, who purchased the place from the William Bower heirs, lives on the place now, and it was he who sold it to Mr. Lee. The consideration is not made known.

John Jordan Property Sold.

The John E. Jordan property, one-half mile south of Colyer, was recently sold to the Reiber Realty Company. The property consists of a dwelling house, small barn and about six acres of land. The price paid is not made public, but from valuations put on it by Mr. Jordan prior to the sale, a good guess is between $1400 and $1600.

With the purchase of this tract, the Reiber Realty Company, which may be regarded as a holding company for A. W. Reiber, of Johnstown, now owns a large tract of land, all contiguous to the Reiber homestead and entirely surrounded by a public road.

MILK PRICE FOR JANUARY TAKES DROP

Farmers the Poorest Consumers of Their Own Products, Says League News.

The Dairyman's League News makes the announcement that milk prices for January will be lower. A reduction of five cents per 100 pounds on Class 1 milk to become effective January 1 was authorized by the Board of Directors at their regular monthly meeting in New York, Dec. 18.

Reductions of 20 cents per 100 were authorized on Class 2-A and Class 2-B and 10 cents per 100 on Class 2.

These lower prices were regarded as necessary in view of present market conditions, which include large supplies available for the fluid markets, and the seeking of new outlets for milk from ordinary manufacturing sources because of the over stocks of manufactured products.

The price schedule thus set for January is: Class 1, $3.37; Class 2-A, $2.26; Class 2-B, $2.51, Class 3 $2.25.

The Dairyman's League News follows up the above announcement in an editorial, a portion of which is reprinted below:

The over-production situation grows more serious every day. In the west where there are great over-stocks of butter, cheese and condensed milk, dairymen have their eyes on the eastern cream markets. They are sending cream into these markets which are outside of New York City inspection in large quantities and offering it at almost any price that will move it. This situation added to the production conditions that already exist in our own territory gives us a problem that will demand the best effort and co-operation of the whole industry to prevent demoralization of our markets.

As a rule farmers are the poorest consumers of their own products. Now is the time to increase your consumption of milk on the farm in every possible way. A quart or two increase in every home used on the table or in cooking is not only good business but in the interest of good health. More milk for real calves, a more liberal use of butter, all of these things multiplied by the hundreds of thousands of farmers in the country, means a great deal of milk. Increased consumption of milk has been preached to city people for a long time. There never was a better time and we never had better reasons to try increased consumption on our own farms.

Col. Henry W. Shoemaker, editor of the Altoona Tribune, with a summer home and park at McElhattan, has purchased the collection of deer horns formerly owned by the late A. K. Pierce of Renovo. There are 19 heads in the collection, the smallest rack being larger than the largest in Col. Shoemaker's present collection of Pennsylvania antlers. The heads represent the northern type of the native deer of Pennsylvania, a type now extinct, noted for their immense racks, with long sharp-pointed prongs.

MILLER—NEFF.

Edgar W. Miller and Miss Edna Neff were united in marriage Saturday morning at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. C. R. Neff, west of Old Fort. The beautiful ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. R. Keener, of the Reformed church, and pastor of the bride, at 8:00 o'clock, after which a wedding breakfast was served. The marriage was witnessed by only the families of the high contracting parties and a very limited number of close friends.

The breakfast over, the newly married couple started on an auto trip to the National Capital and other points east.

The bride is a graduate of the local High school and of the University of Pennsylvania Hospital Nurses' School, and has been practicing her profession since in New Jersey.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Miller, of town, and for two years has been employed by F. V. Goodhart, and is now a registered assistant undertaker. Both Mr. and Mrs. Miller are favorably known to a large circle in the valley. They will begin housekeeping next spring in a home purchased by Mr. Miller a year or more ago, located next to the Goodhart undertaking establishment.

AUMAN—FOOTE.

The Lutheran parsonage at Scarsdale, N. Y., was the scene of a very pretty wedding ceremony at high noon on Saturday, December 28, when Harold H. Auman, of Williamsport, and Miss Martha I. Foote, of Millheim, were united in marriage by the brother of the groom, the Rev. Russell F. Auman, B. D., pastor of the Redeemer Lutheran church, of Scarsdale, N. Y.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Foote, of Millheim, and until recently was in the employ of the Penna Valley Hosiery Mills, of Millheim. The groom is a son of Thomas A. Auman, of Rebersburg, and has a position with the Railway Express Agency, Inc., at their Williamsport office.

The couple was unattended, the only witnesses being the sister of the groom, Mrs. Harry F. Conner, of Madisonburg, and Mrs. Russell F. Auman. A sumptuous wedding dinner was served following the ceremony.

The couple is now living at 325 Hepburn St., Williamsport.

GIFFORD—CRAMER.

John C. Gifford, of Du Bois, and Mrs. Blanche Cramer, formerly Miss Tressler, were united in marriage at high noon, Saturday, December 28th, at the Criterion Club, State College. The bride was attended by Miss Lillian May Gifford, daughter of the groom, and Master Bobby Cramer, son of the bride. Rev. A. L. Baker officiated, using the double ring ceremony. Prof. Clifford E. Gifford, of Butler, played Lohengrin's wedding march, and during the ceremony the orchestra softly played "I Love You Truly."

Following the ceremony a dainty lunch was served the half hundred guests present.

The bride is a successful business woman of State College while Mr. Gifford has been State president of the Barber's Union and is at present an official representative of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor.

Rev. Moyer Goes to Carbon County

Rev. W. W. Moyer, for about four years pastor of the Rebersburg Reformed church, resigned his pastorate there to accept that of the New Mahoning Reformed church, with residence at Leighton, Carbon county. Rev. Moyer will be dismissed from Classis here to the Lehigh Classis, on Saturday, and will take charge of his new field, if so thought, some time in February.

County Tax Up Two Mills.

The Centre County Commissioners at their meeting on Friday, fixed the county tax at ten mills, an increase of two mills over last year.

Damages, real and prospective, due to taking land for State highway purposes, is in some measure responsible for the rise.

Meek's Fishing Lodge Burned.

The fishing lodge owned by George R. Meek, of Bellefonte, along Fishing Creek, in Culvy's Gap, was destroyed by fire Sunday night. The place was occupied on Sunday, and on leaving it a few live coals are thought to have been left in the fire-place, but how the building was set afire is a mystery.

The lodge stood at a secluded place. It was two stories high and well equipped. The loss is considerable.

A Thirteen-Month Year.

With a thirteen-month year, the "Fourth of July" would fall on the 17th day of Sol. It would require an expert mathematician to locate your anniversary day.

It would destroy the unbroken continuity of the weekly cycle once each year and twice in leap year, as a unit of measurement of time, causing the present Sunday and seventh-day Sabbath to fall on different days of the week each year, thus destroying their religious significance.

The next session of the Central Pennsylvania Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church will be held in the F. K. Street Church, Harrisburg, Wednesday, March 13th. Rev. Dorsey N. Miller, D. D., host, and Bishop E. R. Richardson, presiding.

Edward Durst publishes letters of administration in the estate of his mother Mrs. Alice J. Durst, deceased, in this issue.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS.

Statements of condition of the First National banks of Centre Hall and Spring Mills appear in this issue.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Weaver and children recently spent a few days with relatives in Altoona.

Mrs. J. W. Carr and daughter, Miss Margaret, of Johnstown, were recent guests of Mrs. Margaret Godshall, in town.

Centre Hall Lodge of Odd Fellows will hold their anniversary banquet on the evening of Wednesday, January 23, in Grange Arcade. Tickets are $1.00.

The members of the Sunset Club and a few invited guests spent an evening at the club house last week. Card games and dancing were engaged in as amusements.

A daughter was born last week to Mr. and Mrs. Byers Ripka at the F. W. Keller home south of Millheim. This is the second daughter in the family and she has been named Iris.

William Forest Burlew, elected treasurer of Mifflin county in 1899, died in Lewistown at the age of seventy-two years. At the time of his death he was connected with a number of business interests in Mifflin county.

Thanks to Hon. John L. Holmes, Centre county's representative in the lower branch of the State Legislature, for a copy of the laws of Pennsylvania, 1929, which reached the Reporter's desk at the beginning of the new year.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis B. Reiber, recently married, set up housekeeping in the Reiber home formerly occupied by Mrs. Della Reiber, daughters, Mary and Ruth, and Curtis. Mrs. Reiber and her daughters are now living with Mrs. Reiber's mother, Mrs. Annie Bartsch.

Two girls recently escaped from the Laurelton State Village. They were missed shortly after their disappearance and a number of men sent out in search of them. They were found in a farm house near Rays cemetery at Hartleton and quickly returned to the institution.

Mrs. John Smith, well known in Gregg and Mills townships, this county, and about Lamar, Clinton county, who had changed her residence from Harrisburg to Philadelphia, is back to the State capital again and is living at 229 Yale street, with her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Steingard.

Miss Gladys Heckman, a student in the nurses' school in the York hospital since last summer, was with her sister, Mrs. Arvey Moyer, during her vacation. Mrs. Moyer entertained at dinner her sisters as well as the husbands and children of the married ones, making a group of some twenty.

All the children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Emery surrounded a banquet board at the Emery home, on New Year's day, at which time a 21-lb. turkey and all the trimmings were enjoyed. The two daughters from out of town, present with their families, were Mrs. R. R. Finkle, of Milliford, and Mrs. T. S. Foss, of Bellwood.

The Farm Products Show in Harrisburg, on the 21st to 24th of this month, is expected to be visited by over one hundred thousand persons. One hundred and ten thousand feet of floor space will be occupied by exhibits, and twenty thousand feet more could have been contracted for if it had been available. More than $10,000 is offered in cash prizes. Congressman John C. Kechem, of Mifflin, lecturer of the National Grange, will be the speaker for the opening gathering on Tuesday evening, 21st inst.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Shaeffer and daughters, Mrs. G. W. Shaeffer and Mrs. Lawrence Bowser, all of Altoona, drove to Centre Hall on Thursday of last week and for the day were guests of Mrs. Shaeffer's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Larson Burris and mother, Mrs. Catherine Burris. It will be interesting for the readers to know that Catharine Shaeffer, the eldest of the Shaeffer girls, is married to the eldest son of G. W. Shaeffer, head of the Shaeffer Storage Company. Mr. Bowser is also a grocer, conducting a store of his own in Altoona.

Through the efforts of F. P. Geary, a male chorus has been organized in the town, composed of the following: Rev. J. M. Kirkpatrick, F. M. Fisher, F. P. Geary, R. P. Campbell, tenors; C. Wm. Booser, F. E. Snyder, J. E. Haney, W. W. Keelin, A. M. Riegel, Elwood Smith, H. L. Ebricht, Edw. E. Bawley, basses. Mrs. J. M. Kirkpatrick is the very proficient pianist. The news last week received a set of new song books and are holding weekly rehearsals. It is planned to sing on various local occasions, and probably at some future date give a concert.

Young people from about Spring Mills who are students in educational institutions who were at their respective homes during the recent vacation were: E. F. Lee and W. E. Wolfe, of Pierce Business College, Philadelphia; C. F. Bartsch, of Harrisburg, who is with the American Railway Express Agency; Misses Dolie Morris and Ethel Musser, teachers, both of Doylestown; Miss Bernadine Wagner, of Harrisburg, who has a position in the Capitol; Miss Josephine Duck, a student in a New York music school; Miss Mae Musser, a student nurse in the Hannaman Hospital, Philadelphia, and Mrs. Harry Detwiler, of State College.
