"Millheim Narrows."

From the "East Penn's Valley High School News" is reprinted a poem by Woodrow Bartsge, a junior in that school:

As we enter Millheim Narrows,
With its beauty everywhere,
We must not forget the Maker
Who has placed all beauty there.
First we see the towering mountains
With a beacon on the heights—
It has guided many a pilot
On dark and dreary nights.
Next we see the water trough,
As it was in days gone by;
But the modern automobile
Does not often go dry.
We are now close to the toll gate
That has changed into an Inn,
If we feel that we are hungry
We can turn and walk right in.
As we travel down the highway,
Seeing trees on every side,
We come up to Phillips Creek
With its clear and sparkling tide.
Next we come to Elk Bend cottage
With a cottage on each side,
But by paying close attention
We find that no one here resides.
Then we drive into the country,
The Grimes homestead meets our eyes—
With a pump along the roadside
And a house behind it lies.
As we drive around the curve
And the mountain scenes are o'er,
We may still remember
The country has much more in store.

DEATHS

LOHR.—James Hale Lohr, a resident of Centre Hall prior to locating in Philadelphia more than thirty-five years ago, died shortly after noon on Sunday at his residence at 112 Linden Avenue, Rutledge, Delaware county, a Philadelphia suburban town. The information received by telegraph by the Bartholomew family here, was meager but indicated he had died from a heart attack very suddenly. He had previously suffered from rather serious but less severe attacks.

The body is expected to be shipped to Lewistown and arrive here in care of Undertaker Goodhart on this (Thursday) afternoon, and will later be on view at the home of Mrs. Lucy Henney, on Church street. Interment will take place on Friday morning, ten o'clock. Rev. Morrow, pastor of the Morton Methodist church, of which congregation the deceased was a member, will accompany the friends and have charge of the funeral services. Rev. Harry Newman, pastor of the local Methodist church, will also have a part in the services.

The deceased was born in Benner township of August, 1860, making his age almost seventy years. He was a son of William and Sarah (Shannon) Lohr, and lived during his youth in Potter township and later in Centre Hall.

He was studious as a school pupil and without special preparation was granted a certificate to teach in the public schools. This he followed for a few years, and then engaged as a track hand under the then foreman James H. Smetzler. In addition to performing the manual labor of a track hand, he kept the records for the foreman. The neatness and absolute correctness of these records was sufficient recommendation for him to secure a clerical place in the Broad Street Station, Philadelphia, where he made application. He liked the particular class of work he was assigned to do and continued to do it until his death, repeatedly refusing to be transferred to other branches of railroad services.

There survive the deceased a wife, whose maiden name was Miss Annie Welsh, of Carlisle. Also three children, namely, William Shannon Lohr, a member of the Lafayette College faculty, at Easton; Miss Nellie, a teacher in the Lakewood, N. J. High school, and Miss Mabel, a stenographer in the Episcopal book house, Philadelphia. Mrs. Susan Lutz, Centre Hall, and Mrs. Ella Pringle, Lock Haven, are surviving sisters.

Had Mr. Lohr lived until August he would have been eligible to retire with a pension from the P. R. R.

FRANK.—Teeste Grace Frank, wife of Thomas K. Frank, of Millheim, died in the Lock Haven hospital where she had been under treatment. Funeral services were held from the home in Millheim, Wednesday afternoon; services by Rev. F. V. Leisher, of the Lutheran and Rev. H. C. Kleffel, of the Evangelical churches.

The deceased was a daughter of Frank Yearick, and was born at Madisonburg. She was aged 32 years, 11 months. She is survived by her husband previously mentioned, to whom she was married Feb. 14, 1917, and three children—Richard, Catharine and Marion; also by her father and three half-brothers and sisters: Mrs. Winfield Bartsge, Millheim; Mrs. William Yearick, Mill Hall; J. P. Eckola, Belleville; Samuel Yearick, Madisonburg, and Evan Yearick, Akron, Ohio.

NEIDIGH.—William A. Neidigh, a native of College township, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Edward J. Harris, at Homewood, near Tyrone, following a prolonged illness with a complication of diseases.

He was a son of John H. and Rebecca Strouse Neidigh, and was born near State College on June 19th, 1857, hence was in his 73rd year. On July 4th, 1882, he married Miss Mary Ellen Johnston, at Bardsburg, and for a number of years they lived at State College where he followed the occupation of a laborer. Later he moved to Tyrone where he was in the employ of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper company. He was a member of the Reformed church for many years.

He is survived by his wife and two daughters—Mrs. Charles Simpson, of Pennsylvania Furnace, and Mrs. Harris of Homewood. Funeral services were held at the Harris home, by Rev. Edward M. Morgan, the remains being taken to Pine Hall for burial.

DEATHS.

Miss Margaret Louise McManus, who came with her father, James McManus, from Carlisle to Belleville many years ago, died at her home on Allegheny street, Belleville.

Daniel H. Martin, in Belleville, aged 51 years, 3 months and 9 days.

On Friday night at Spring Mills two basket ball games will be played in the local gymnasium. The local girls team, which has not been defeated this season, will play the McClure High School girls. This is the first time the two teams have been scheduled and an exciting and interesting game is to be expected. Immediately following the girls' game which will start at 7:30, the East Penn's Valley High School basket ball team will play the local second team. This game is one which will be full of pep and excitement from start to finish as the two teams should be quite evenly matched, and every one is looking forward to a hard clean game when these two teams come together for the first time in the history of the two schools. Boys Beat Bardsburg and Petersburg While Girls Beat Belleville H. Y.

G. T. V. S. basket ball teams were successful in winning three games last week. On Tuesday night at Spring Mills the boys team easily defeated the inexperienced Bardsburg team by a score of 66-9. The work of the second team was outstanding in this contest. The local girls played their hardest game of the season, and were successful in defeating the Belleville H. Y. girls' team by a score of 24-13, handing the Belleville team their first defeat of the season. This game was very close during the first half but the last half found the Gregg Twp. girls making their shots good which made possible the piling up of a good lead.

The boys journeyed to Petersburg on Thursday night where they defeated the Petersburg Voc. High School team by a score of 20-6, thus piling up a third string of consecutive wins to number seven. The boys played a good defensive game, shutting out the Petersburg team as far as field goals were concerned, and holding them to six points for the evening.

A LIVESTOCK dealer telephoned a farmer near Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania, and offered what then was a high price for five calves, although he was looking for a larger shipment. Remembering several neighbors who had good quality calves for sale, the farmer bought nine by telephone and closed an advantageous deal with the broker.
