NO. 10

COURT NEWS.

(Reported by S. D. Gettler, Esq.)

In the case of Donald Davis, indicted for enticing, etc., of a female minor child for immoral purposes, the verdict of the jury was guilty in both counts.

Comm. vs. Earl Breen, indicted for the same as Donald Davis. Prosecutor, Leo Boden, county detective. The verdict was guilty on the first count and not guilty on the second count.

Comm. vs. Clifford Davis, indicted same as above. Verdict not guilty but pay the costs.

Comm. vs. Paul Panning, indicted as above. Verdict not guilty.

These cases grow out of a minor girl, not sixteen years of age, and in charge of the officers of the Juvenile Court and subsequently incarcerated at Sleighton Farms by order of the Juvenile Court, becoming too intimate with these defendants at the troop barn at Coleville, near Bellefonte. Harry Cox, another member who was indicted entered a plea of nolo contendere. The young men were called for sentence and the following disposition made of the case:

In the case of Donald Davis, Earl Breen and Harry Cox, the sentence of the Court is that each of them shall pay the costs of prosecution, a fine of $150.00, and undergo probation for a period of five years. These cases caused considerable excitement, especially in and around Bellefonte, and the Court house was crowded during the trial.

Comm. vs. Andy Shoultis, indicted for larceny; prosecutor, John Basalla, and grows out of the stealing of five chickens by the defendant from the prosecutor and after trial a verdict of guilty was found.

Comm. vs. Yony Lingle and Susan Lingle; prosecutor, Ellery Vance. Indicted for assault and battery. The case was from Green Briar, Penn township, and grows out of a disputed road and the trial resulted in a verdict of not guilty and a division of the costs equally between Yony and Susan Lingle one-half and the prosecutor one-half.

Comm. vs. Harry Ramey, prosecutor, Norman A. Grauer; indicted for larceny. The defendant waived trial and plead guilty.

Comm. vs. Harry Ramey, indicted for larceny. Prosecutor, Barney Finberg. The defendant waived trial and plead guilty, and in the first count was sentenced by the Court to pay the costs of prosecution, a fine of $1.00 and not less than one and one-half years nor more than three years in the penitentiary. The second sentence to begin with the completion of the first sentence.

Comm. vs. George Skack; prosecutor, Paul Stover. Indicted for larceny. The facts in the case took place during the hunting season last year and both the prosecutor and the defendant claimed that their party had gotten the deer into possession. The deer being a wild animal is not property until reduced to possession or having received a mortal wound by some hunter or other. Both parties claimed the carcass of the deer and trial resulted in finding the defendant guilty. A motion was made by defendant for a new trial.

Comm. vs. Steve Beranty. The defendant waived a trial and plead guilty of stealing three chickens from John Basalla and was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, a fine of $1.00 and undergo imprisonment in the penitentiary for a period of not less than five years nor more than ten years.

Comm. vs. Andy Shoultis. This man was convicted of stealing and sentenced to pay costs of prosecution, a fine of $1.00 and undergo imprisonment in the penitentiary for a term of not less than five years and not more than ten years.

Comm. vs. Ralph Snyder, indicted for violation of the liquor laws in two cases; prosecutor, A. E. Youred. The case resulted in a verdict of guilty and the sentence of the Court was in the first case to pay costs of prosecution, a fine of $250.00 and not less than nine months nor more than eighteen months in the Allegheny County Work House, sentence to begin at the completion of the sentence he is now serving by order of the United States District Court for the Middle District of Pa. In the second case the sentence is to pay the costs of prosecution, a fine of $250.00, and not less than nine months nor more than eighteen months, to begin at the completion of the sentence of the first imposed by this Court.

Comm. vs. Albert Ernest, indicted for assault and battery; prosecutor, Wassil Zupko. Verdict of not guilty but both the prosecutor and defendant each to pay one-half the costs.

Court adjourned on Friday evening until Monday morning at 10 o'clock when some criminal cases were brought up and the civil list for this week was taken up.

Comm. vs. George Robinson, Jr.; prosecutor, Mary Maxmunkny, indicted for wantonly or playfully displaying firearms at Stob Hill in Snow Shoe township. Verdict of not guilty and the costs divided equally between the prosecutor and the defendant.

Comm. vs. William Hendershot, indicted for larceny as ballee. Prosecutor, Willard Bekel. This case grows out of a card game, the prosecutor having put up his watch as security for a short time. When he had the money to lift the watch the defendant refused to return same, claiming that it was in the pot. Verdict guilty. He was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, a fine of $1.00 and undergo imprisonment in the Allegheny County

15TH U. S. CENSUS WILL BE TAKEN MONTH OF APRIL

Twenty-four questions to be asked—Requires 100,000 Enumerators—Efforts Will Be Made to Enumerate Every Person Insofar as Possible.

The fifteenth decennial census of the United States will be taken during the month of April. The enumeration will be made by a force of about 100,000 enumerators who will go from house to house and secure the information required for the census. Every person is to be enumerated, so far as possible at his "usual place of abode" or the place where he usually lives. Where individual members of a family are away from home at the time the census is taken they will be reported to the enumerator by other members of the family.

For cases where it is known in advance that the whole family will be away from home at that time, special provision has been made by the director of the census in the form of an absent family schedule which is to be filled out by some responsible member of the family in advance of the census date and transmitted to the local supervisor of the census.

Five new questions, never before asked in a United States census, will be included in the total of twenty-four to be requested of each household. These new questions cover the ownership or rental of homes, the possession of non-possessions of a radio set, the age at the time of first marriage, whether the "provider" is actually at work, and World War service.

The list of questions, as announced by the census bureau, is as follows:

1. Relationship to head of family, including a statement as to the home-maker in each family.
2. Whether home is owned or rented.
3. Value of home, if owned, or monthly rental, if rented.
4. Radio set? (yes) or (no).
5. Does this family live on a farm? (yes) or (no).
6. Color or race.
7. Age at last birthday.
8. Marital condition.
9. Age at first marriage (for married persons only).
10. Attended school, college, any time since September 1, 1929? (yes) or (no).
11. Place of birth of person (state or country).
12. Place of birth of person's father (state or country).
13. Place of birth of person's mother (state or country).
14. Place of birth of each foreign born person.
15. Year of immigration to the United States (for foreign-born only).
16. Whether naturalized (for foreign-born only).
17. Whether able to speak English (for foreign-born only).
18. Occupation of each gainful worker.
19. Industry in which employed.
20. Whether employer, employee or working on own account.
21. Whether actually at work (for each person usually employed but returned as not at work additional information will be secured on a special unemployment schedule).
22. Whether a veteran of the United States military or naval forces, and for each veteran, what war or expedition he served.
23. The law prescribes penalties for refusing to answer and for giving false answers, and imposes penalties as well upon the enumerator for publishing or communicating information that may come into his possession by reason of his employment in the census.
24. The enumerators as a rule will be paid on the basis of the number of persons and farms enumerated, so much per person and so much per farm, the amount varying some what according to conditions. In the census of 1920 nearly all the enumerators were paid four cents per name and 30 cents per farm.

Union County Jail Breakers Captured Near Millifinburg.

Marilyn Fredericks and Charles Cashner, prisoners of Sheriff Lester M. Craik, who were to be brought to trial Thursday morning on charges of breaking, entering and larceny, escaped from the Union county jail at Lewisburg some time during Wednesday night of last week. Their escape was made possible by the use of a piece of electric conduit pipe.

A third party, Joseph Yoncoskie, of Shamokin, who also occupies a cell in the jail, was asleep, and of course, did not gain his freedom.

Their freedom was of short duration, however, as the boys were captured at the home of the Fredericks boy's mother, three miles northwest of Millifinburg. William Diehl, of Millifinburg, special deputy, corralled the escaped prisoners single handed in a field at that place about 2 o'clock Thursday morning. They were discovered by Mr. Diehl about 12 o'clock mid-night in a field north of the farm buildings where the Fredericks boy makes his home, but Mr. Diehl was unable to get close to them until he started slouching in regular Sherlock Holmes style.

Their sense of direction was very poor and Mr. Diehl took advantage of it. He discovered that they were walking ahead of him and keeping just far enough away to avoid capture, so he used the backward step and when he started walking in that fashion the pursued became the pursuer and Mr. Diehl led them in this way within close proximity of the place that had been searched earlier in the night. Then he took them by surprise at the point of gun and neither boy ventured resistance.

More Mountain Cabins Looted.

The first arrest for a series of burglaries that have occurred near Meyertown and Newton Hamilton was culminated last week when State Police officers from Huntingdon placed Fred Miller, of Newton Hamilton, in the Millifin county jail in default of $1000 bail on a charge of breaking and entering and larceny.

He was arraigned before Justice of the Peace D. S. Norton of Newton Hamilton, Saturday, where he plead guilty. He will be sentenced at the May term of court.

A number of cottages in the west end of Millifin county have been looted during the past several months, in one case the entire contents of the cottage were removed. Miller was found in possession of a Victrola, a lamp, and some lace curtains from one of the cottages.

Private Nicholson, of the Huntingdon State Police office, and another officer of the same detail, made the arrest. Police indicated that several others would follow.

He Raps Athletics in School.

Frank Tomlinson, writing the Aaron's column in the Millifin edition, strikes a sour note when he says:

"I would like for some one to tell me just how far 100 per cent. perfect in basketball, football or baseball will go towards fitting a young man or woman for his or her life's work."

Evidently Mr. Tomlinson is thinking that athletics are going ahead of scholastic activities in our public schools, and colleges, for that matter. Maybe he's right. But this is certain: a boy or girl who becomes "100 per cent. perfect" in any of the branches of sport, Mr. Tomlinson enumerates, has fitted himself or herself to a large degree for life's work. First of all, there's the sound mind in the sound body. There is no disputing the value of the robust body developed through proper athletics, a body to stand the strain of mental exertion. Then again, athletics develop the spirit of fair play, a quality without which no boy can hope to achieve success in any business endeavor.

Yes, Mr. Tomlinson, a "100 per cent. perfect" in athletic activities, granting the scholastic standing reaches three-quarters way to that mark, will go far toward fitting a young man for his life's work.

Democrats Name Ticket.

At a meeting of the State Executive Committee of the Democratic party held in the Penn Harris Hotel, Harrisburg, last week, the following ticket was recommended to the voters in the State:

For Supreme Court Justice—Judge Henry C. Niles, of York.

For Superior Court Judge—Aaron E. Reiser, of Butler, and George F. Douglas, of Philadelphia.

JUNIOR CLASS C. H. H. S. REALIZES $65.00 FROM PLAY

The junior class of the Centre Hall High school presented a play, Friday and Saturday nights, in the Grange hall, which, we say without any hesitancy, was superior to any school play presented up to that time. Perhaps it was due to the selection of characters to fill the cast; this was done by Miss Agnes Geary, English teacher. Or, perhaps, to the splendid direction of the play, as handled by Prof. Joseph Haney. More probably to a nice combination of both.

"Stop On It, Stan," was the title of the three-act comedy-drama, which the young people put across with so much success.

Both nights the hall was well filled, and as a result the treasury of the class is enriched to the extent of $65.00.

"Stan" is called the town's leading failure, and his reputation is largely due to the machinations of one Ray Cryder, "the town's leading citizen," who is really a wolf in sheep's clothing, and through his evil designs has placed "Stan" in the gutter while he himself has risen to glorious heights. But "Stan" has friends, whose motto is "You can have anything in this world if only you want it enough." "Stan" is a real fellow, and capable, but his many misfortunes, both financially and "with the ladies," has developed a pessimistic mood which his friends find hard to combat. Here comes Sara Boggs, straight from the country, but not so dumb. She makes an important discovery—a mineral spring on a vacant lot owned by Cryder. An idea blooms to let "Stan" and his friends buy it and erect a hotel to defeat Cryder who is now building a handsome hotel in another section of the town. The mineral spring will draw a large tourist trade and prove a veritable gold mine. Through a clever ruse an option is obtained from the unsuspecting Cryder and the money raised. But on the day of the expiration of the option friends fail to extend the necessary cash to close the deal, and failure threatens as Cryder, having learned of the scheme, now holds the upper hand. However, by a lucky break, "Stan," through the continued insistence demands of "Peggy Brooks" who is "Stan's" constant source of inspiration, drives a car in an auto race and with the shouts of his friends, "Stop on it, Stan," ringing in his ears, wins the prize money, and saves the day.

"Charlie Norris" also believes that "we can have anything we want if only we want it bad enough," for his Romeo nature refuses to take "No" for an answer from "Hazel Wilton," the object of his affections, until Hazel succumbs.

The cast was published last week, hence it will not re-appear this week. Every one taking part is deserving of the highest praise for the manner in which they put over the play.

Between acts the girls of the Junior class sang several songs, and the diminutive Robert McCormick and Mary Allen put on "The Dude," a short number in which the boy's lady friend takes the conceit out of the dude by "flooding" him just when he was about to be "sitting pretty."

Helen Odenkirk presided at the piano in a very able manner.

Johnson, of Lock Haven, and Miss Agnes Zettie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Zettie, of Spring Mills, were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon of last week by Rev. T. H. Thena at the parsonage of the Reformed church at Bellefonte. They were accompanied by Samuel Meekels, of Lock Haven, and Miss Ethel Lee, of Hubbersburg.

The bride and groom will reside in Lock Haven, at the home of Mr. Johnson's father.

Dr. Hugo Eckener is preparing to make his third flight to America. He expects to start within two weeks.

The dispatches said the Zeppelin would fly to Rio de Janeiro, thence to North America and from there back to Europe, adding that 12 passengers would be taken aboard at Seville, the first stop of the trip.

LOCAL K. G. E. TO CELEBRATE 24TH ANNIVERSARY, MARCH 11

Rev. Walter H. Williams, of Williamsport, to be speaker.—Basket Banquet.

Next Tuesday evening (March 11), Centre Hall Castle No. 355, Knights of the Golden Eagle, will celebrate their twenty-fourth anniversary. The hour is 7:30. Because a large attendance is expected, the local Castle has engaged the commodious quarters of the local Odd Fellows' hall for holding the celebration.

A basket banquet will be a feature of the program.

Prominent among the speakers will be Rev. Walter H. Williams, Past Grand Chief, of Williamsport.

An orchestra will provide splendid music and there will be singing.

Local Justice Performs Marriage.

Justice of the Peace C. W. Slack performed his first marriage, on Sunday afternoon, since taking his office. The couple were strangers, and appeared at the Squire's home asking whether a Sunday wedding was legal, and being informed it was, requested it performed at once. The groom, however, failed in the necessary formality of having procured a marriage license, so Squire Slack made arrangements with Register Rossman to open his office for the benefit of the impatient bridegroom. The young man lost no time in making the trip to Bellefonte and return, and the marriage was performed with dispatch and legality.

The Justice is pledged to secrecy as to the names of the contracting parties. Their names appear under the head of "Marriage Licenses" in this issue, so pick 'em out; your guess is as good as ours.

Youth Badly Burned.

The last issue of the Millifin Journal contained this item: Paul Vonada, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Vonada, of Fiedler, a farm hand in the employ of J. C. Musser, near Woodward, was painfully burned about the face and almost lost the sight of both eyes last Friday afternoon when he ignited some gunpowder with a match. The young man was assisting Mr. Musser in preparing for the latter's sale and subsequent moving to the former J. O. Martin home. Among the articles to be cast aside and destroyed was a cigar box containing some gunpowder. Young Vonada took it outside to ignite it. There was a brisk wind blowing and in shielding the lighted match he got too close to the explosive. The young man got the full force of the subsequent explosion. His clothing was set afire, his eyebrows and eyelashes burned off. He was totally blind for several hours, and getting no relief from local medical treatment, he was taken to a specialist at Lewisburg, who restored the young man's sight and cleaned his burns. He is recovering nicely at this writing.

Brunettes Outclass Blondes at College.

Gentlemen may prefer blondes, but brunettes win the heart of the college man. In the nearest approach to a popularity contest ever held at the Pennsylvania State College, the election of three honorary colonels by the R. O. T. C., the titles all went to ladies with brown eyes and dark hair. The honorary colonels, Miss Helen Keepers, of Greencastle, Miss Anne E. Hoke, of Harrisburg, and Miss Anne E. Ghouly, of Johnstown, were presented at the annual Military Ball. In their special uniforms they were presented with the reviewing officers at all formal appearances of the college regiment.

Mrs. Reber Acquires D. L. Bartges Home.

The Bartges home in Centre Hall, owned and occupied for years by Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Bartges and after the death of Mr. Bartges by his widow, Mrs. Annie Bartges, was recently conveyed to her daughter, Mrs. Della Reiber. Mrs. Bartges and her daughter, and the latter's two daughters, now occupy the home.

The home was built during the latter eighties or early nineties by Mr. Poulson, who came here from Howard with the purpose in view of establishing a handle factory.

The home recently conveyed by Mrs. Bartges to her grandson, Curtis Reber, was erected by the late A. Kerlin, during the early eighties, before Centre Hall was incorporated, which accounts for its being set as far west from the street line as it is.

Bell "Time of Day" Information.

Saturday, March 1, marked the establishment of the Bell Telephone Co. of a special time of day information service, plans for which were announced recently by J. H. Caum, the manager at Bellefonte.

Telephone users here are now able to obtain the correct time at any hour of the day or night by asking the operator for "the time." The service is planned to meet the general demand for this form of information. Since its institution throughout Pennsylvania will create an additional operating expense for the Bell Company, a charge of five cents is to be made for each call for time of day information.

Census takers are getting ready to start their work, and the chances are that they will find most women younger than they were ten years ago.

During 1929 it cost the State a total of $72,162 to pay for the damage done by dogs, 2333 sheep and 5433 chickens, reported killed, were paid for. Practically every class of live stock and poultry suffered damages.

Always about the time of year there is a desire on the part of many country folk to be the first to have a "mess of dandelion," that delicious spring green. Wolfe, of near Centre Hall, represented District No. 1, comprising all the towns in this region, of the Sheffield Farms Co., Inc., at a meeting held in the Sheffield building, New York City, the latter part of last week. By now a least a portion of the route of the proposed new concrete road over Sand Mountain, of the Seven Mountains, may easily be followed, provided one is interested enough to do so. The course of the road is being staked in a similar way to that laid out last fall from Potters Mills to Tusseyville. The road in question is a continuation of Route No. 53, beginning immediately north of Reedsville.
