FARM CALENDAR

TIMELY REMINDERS FROM PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE

Produce the Best—
In planning the year's operations on the farm, it is a good idea to consider the opportunities for marketing high quality products. Gaining a reputation for producing the best brings established customers who will be loath to change to an uncertain supply.

Improve Home Grounds—
Old lawns should be gone over carefully at this time. Unsightly depressions which cannot be removed by rolling can be eliminated by lifting the sod, filling with good soil, and replacing the sod. Where this is impracticable, fine loam can be spread over the lawn to a depth of three inches. The existing grass will force its way through the new soil.

Protect Eyes from Light—
Every light bulb which can be seen by the eye should be of the frosted type to cut down glare. Every light should have some kind of a shade to protect the eyes and also to reflect the light down where it is wanted. Great irritation to the eyes is caused by unshaded clear bulbs.

Save Oat Smut Loss—
For 2 to 4 cents an acre the oat crop can be protected from smut. Last year Pennsylvania farmers paid a ten percent toll to this disease which can be controlled easily by treating the seed with formaldehyde. Why pay the extortor when it can be avoided?

Use Small Greenhouse—
The sash greenhouse is displacing the manure-heated hotbed in the growing of plants for a few acres of early vegetables. It is easier to work in the sash greenhouse and to control temperature, moisture, and ventilation. The small greenhouse also is economical to build.

Give Birds Exercise—
Give the breeding birds free range during the pleasant weather. The addition of one pint of cod liver oil to each one hundred pounds of mash will increase fertility and hatchability.

"TRAIL OF '98"

Great Fire One of Many Thrills in the Startling Film Showing at Municipal Theatre in Millheim.

The emperor, Nero, who fiddled while Rome burned, would get a "kick" out of seeing "The Trail of '98," the great Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer epic of the north directed by Clarence Brown which shows at the Municipal Theatre in Millheim, Saturday evening, March 15th.

One of the most gigantic fires ever registered in a motion picture story is but one of the many thrills contained in this great film.

It represents the burning of Dawson City when the Klondike gold rush was at its height.

In order to get this spectacular scene an exact duplicate of Dawson City at that time was built in the hills back of the studio at Culver City, Calif. The huge setting was several blocks square, built mainly of wood and containing a number of two- and three-story buildings. After Director Brown had filmed his street scenes and all of the picture was completed with the exception of the northern conflagration the torch was applied to the gigantic set.

The fire was set on a dark night so it would stand out in bold relief against the skyline. As the thousands of extra players milled through the streets the buildings toppled and fell, a great battery of motion picture cameras recorded the awe-inspiring scenes. The result was one of the most thrilling fires ever flashed upon the screen.

More than fifty well-known players appear in the cast. The romantic roles are played by Ralph Forbes, Dolores Del Rio and Harry Carey.

A PITTSBURGH dealer telephoned a farmer near Dunbar, Pennsylvania, offering to buy seven steers at a very satisfactory price. The drawback was the long truck haul, made particularly difficult by a recent heavy snowfall. Learning that the dealer was in the market for additional cattle, the farmer then telephoned his neighbors, who pooled sufficient stock to warrant shipping by freight from the nearest railroad.

The Modern Farm Home Has a TELEPHONE

Four hundred and ten farm homes in Centre county are credited with having radios in them. In the State the farm homes equipped with radios number 48,550. These figures are given out by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture and apply to January 1st of this year.
