

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Sale of the Bairfoot properties, next Saturday.
We put rubber tires on boys' bicycles and wagons.—W. H. Miller, Bellefonte.
Tom R. Buck, of Berwick, paid a surprise visit to the home of his sister, Mrs. F. P. Geary, in town.

William P. Winegardner, of Milroy, a retired merchant, whose illness was noted heretofore, is not improving.

If you are in need of a heating stove, I will put a "Sunbeam" in your home, with board and pipe complete, for $70.00.—W. H. Miller, Bellefonte.

Fred Homan, a Williamsport plumber, was a guest of R. S. Hagan here over Sunday. He was at State College looking for work in his line, but found no opening.

Dr. Hugh Morrow purchased a new "Straight-Eight" Dodge sedan from the Hagan Garage here. The car will be used in his business, taking the place of the Chrysler formerly driven.

Some wag ventured to say that the county court house janitors are like beavers, won't work when watched, when a second disputed it by citing the grand jury's report. So there you have it.

Guy W. Jacobs, of Steubenville, was here to attend the funeral of his aunt, Mrs. Ellen M. Stuart, in State College on Saturday afternoon, and remained over Sunday at the home of his mother, here.

Larue Decker and Martin Shreckengast, both on R. D. No. 2, Centre Hall, are the most recent employees taken on at the Kerin poultry plant. All the old seasonal employees are also back at work.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Palmer are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby girl, born March 9. It has been named Shirley Marie. The mother is under the care of Dr. H. S. Braucht and her daughter, Mrs. Clyde Walker. Mother and babe are getting along fine.

The trolley company at Jersey Shore is taking measures to have its franchise changed from electricity to gas-line as power. The company proposes operating a bus service from Jersey Shore to Avis shops over one or more convenient routes.

B. D. Brishin has decided to break up housekeeping and spend the remainder of his days with his daughters in New England. He advertises public sale of his household goods, to be held on Saturday, April 19th, and a short time thereafter will leave Centre Hall.

Stock of all kinds and implements in good repair are bringing very fair prices at public sales. A sale of new and used machinery held by Cleve H. Eungard, near Spring Mills, last week, was a surprise to many. Everything offered were sold, and on the average good prices obtained.

While crossing Nittany Mountain on Sunday, the Cleveland touring car driven by C. H. Price, of Burnham, took fire from wires becoming shorted. Not a great amount of damage was done. The car was brought from the top of Nittany Mountain to the Hagan Garage for repairs.

The members throughout the Centre Hall Evangelical church and many others not connected with that denomination, are glad to learn that Rev. W. E. Smith has been returned here. The minister and his good wife and children have endeared themselves to the people in general during their stay here.

Monday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wert and family, and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lee drove to Lewistown and surprised their sister, Mrs. Charles Duck, it being her birthday. Mr. and Mrs. Jennie Bishop were also present. Refreshments were served consisting of sandwiches, chicken, pickles, ice cream and cake.

The Centre Hall hotel restaurant has been leased to H. F. Bosley, of Boalsburg. He is said to be an experienced man in the restaurant business. Since early fall he has conducted the Boal Tavern, at Boalsburg. The restaurant here will be taken over by him about the 15th instant. John D. Homan has been conducting the place during the past year.

Miss Emily T. Deubler, of Penhurst Farm, Narberth, was a guest of Miss Agnes Geary over the week end. The girls were chums during their freshman year at Penn State, and subsequent to Miss Deubler's graduation last year from the Houve School of Physical Education, in Boston, she accepted a position in The Friend's Select School in Philadelphia.

F. V. O. Housman, Millheim contractor, and force of workmen, on Thursday evening completed the wood-work connected with the remodeling of the T. A. Hosterman private house into a store room and residence. Mr. Housman became slightly indisposed on the day the work was completed. Speaking of the building operations in Millheim for the coming summer, he intimated that so far as he knew they were nil. His first work will be in State College.

Attributed largely to a misunderstanding of its purpose, a Lycoming county grand jury is not looking with favor on the order assembling them a week prior to the opening of regular court. The grand jury in that county claims the movement not economical, nor more convenient, which may be true, but the system introduced in this county by the late Judge H. C. Quigley, and since followed, has proven advantageous to the district attorney in handling the Commonwealth's interests, and permits attorneys on both sides a better opportunity to catalogue evidence. If any economy results it would be due to the fact that both the prosecutor and the defendant will be ready, and this will guarantee court sessions to meet more speedily.

Pinchot in the Scrap.

Former Governor Gifford Pinchot has formally entered the race for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. If elected, he promises the farmer lower taxes. Pinchot is long on promises. He was governor four years, and like all the Republican governors Pennsylvania had for many years, forgot all about promises made during the campaign. Among the first things he did after taking office was to discharge many clerks and useless appointees, but later as many of his political followers were installed in their place. On retiring, it was said, there were more men and women on the State's payroll than when he assumed office. Pinchot fooled the Republican State organization once and may be able to do so again.

Highest Honors for Taft.

William Howard Taft, who died Saturday afternoon at 5:15, received the highest honors paid to America's noted dead Tuesday, when his body lay in state in the rotunda of the capitol and then went to its final rest among the country's heroes of peace and war in Arlington cemetery across the Potomac. It was Taft's own wish that he be buried in Arlington cemetery on the rolling grassy slopes overlooking the city where he served the nation as President and Chief Justice, the only man ever to enjoy this joint honor.

R. N. Witmer, since March 1st, is in charge of the railroad station at Coburn. He takes the place of D. R. Goodlander, who has been transferred to Montgomery, where he is ticket agent. Mr. Witmer came to Coburn from Northumberland, where he was chief clerk.

AUMAN—CONFER.

Thomas F. Auman and Martha E. Confer, both of near Red Mill, were united in marriage on Saturday by Rev. S. F. Greenhoe, at the Lutheran parsonage here.

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST.

William Smith, the Spring Mills furniture dealer, who has been ill for some time, is not improving. Friends are not permitted to see him.

T. A. Hosterman, owner of the Clover Farm Stores Co. store in Centre Hall, comes before Reporter readers this week with an ad. on page 4.

F. V. Goodhart and H. L. Eblright, early Tuesday morning, left here on a business trip to Narberth, near Philadelphia. The Goodhart Nash car carried the gentlemen to and from the aristocratic Montgomery county town.

J. L. Tresselt, a Spring township justice of the peace, has opened a branch office near the cross roads at Pleasant Gap, in the Stitzer building. The home office of the justice is on Bishop street, just outside the borough limits of Bellefonte.

Samuel M. Brown, of Spring Mills, met with a rather serious accident a few days ago. While sawing wood with a circular saw, the teeth struck the back of his left hand and lacerated it badly. It will require considerable time before he will be able to have full use of the injured hand again.

FARMERS ADOPT TATTOO SYSTEM FOR POULTRY

Calculated to Put Stop to the Chicken Thief.—Tattoo Mark Under Wing Identifies Poultry.

Farmers in Centre county have adopted the tattoo system on poultry as a first step in fighting the poultry thief. Each farmer has his own die which is registered and filed with the local authorities.

In the fall of 1923, from $3000 to $4000 dollars worth of poultry was carried out of Big Valley, in Mifflin county. The farmers adopted the tattoo system. The following spring and up to this date there have been no reported thefts.

The tattoo method has been tested by State Agricultural colleges, farm agents, and anti-theft associations, and proven efficient. There is no theory behind it, so it is declared.

Representatives of the makers of the tattoo marker are now in Centre county explaining the system in detail to the farmer and poultryman.

WARNING.

The Poultry on these Premises is Marked With Hall's Poultry Tattoo Marker.

All farms bearing this sign have their poultry tattooed, and the tattoo mark is registered and filed with the local authorities.
