Alternate Jurors.

Twenty-five states now have in operation an "alternate juror" system which has proven its worth in the prevention of delays and mistrials in court cases. New York's legislature has before it a bill which if passed will make that State the twenty-sixth to adopt the system. Its chances for adoption appear bright as eminent attorneys and jurists approve it.

A Pennsylvania incident this week illustrates the value of the law. A jury was engaged in hearing an election fraud case when one of the jurors died suddenly. A mistrial was declared and the commonwealth as well as the defendants will be subjected to the additional expense of a new trial. Were the alternate juror plan in use in this State, all that would have been necessary would have been to call an alternate juror, already familiar with the case up to that point, and place him in the jury box.

Much has been said about the law's delays. Here is a simple method of eliminating one of them.

DR. APPEL'S HEALTH TALKS.

State Secretary of Health Gives Advice on Folly of "Purchasing" Health.

"Compulsion has its limitations. While it has many legitimate uses and is largely responsible for regulating an infinite number of mankind's activities, it is quite helpless in others. And the subject of personal health very definitely belongs to the latter class," says Doctor Theodore B. Appel, Secretary of Health, today.

"For example, when a man has been convicted of a crime recognized by the Code he is compelled to go to prison and thus undergo punishment. On the other hand, a person may commit all sorts of crime upon his body and no one can compel him to desist in his practices or lock him up in a cell because of them.

"And it is exactly this freedom from outside control which results in the attempts made by commercially minded individuals to exercise that other great lever upon human actions known as suggestion.

"It thus comes to pass that concerns having commodities to sell frequently suggest their use on the health plea, or if they are advertised remedies, eloquently urge their purchase on the basis of their amazing curative properties. That the reliability of thousands of persons concerning statements of this type is beyond measure, there can be no doubt. But that the health of such individuals is improved by following such suggestions is extremely problematical.

"Health, in the last analysis, is an entirely voluntary affair. One chooses to live according to the basic health laws or one does not choose to do so. And all the King's horses and all the King's men are unavailing to make a person do in this respect anything that he does not want to do himself.

"Or to put it another way, one may preach about the advantages of fresh air, proper exercise, adequate rest and reasonable diet until doom's day, and health will not result unless the subject himself of his own volition scrupulously carries out these mandates of nature. By the same token, attempting to force persons into a frightened activity on a health basis, while resulting in a vast exchange of currency, leaves health in precisely the place it was before the victim gave way to his mild purchasing hysteria.

"The moral is obvious. A person may be scared into an attempt to purchase health but he can not be compelled to be healthy. After all the bondage of nature's laws is the only door through which real liberty may be obtained—a liberty that is composed of health, happiness and longevity. Therefore, don't get scared about your health, but wisely live each day and thus be so healthy that you will not be susceptible to a health scare.

FARM CALENDAR

TIMELY REMINDERS FROM PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE

Test Seed Corn Now—
Freezes last November may have severely injured the seed corn saved for planting this year. Testing is one way of taking out insurance for a good crop. Few farmers can afford to take the risk of planting seed that will not grow.

Reduce Grain Slowly—
Even though pleasant weather is approaching do not reduce too suddenly the amount of scratch grain fed to the flock each day, poultry specialists of the Pennsylvania State College remind.

Save Syrup for Show—
Planning for exhibits at the State Farm Products Show in Harrisburg next winter, maple syrup producers are saving three or four gallons of their best syrup this spring.

Exhibits at the last show came from Somerset, Crawford, Erie, and Pike counties.

Garden to Meet Needs—
The amount of each vegetable to plant in the home garden depends upon family preferences as well as soil productivity. About one-half of the entire garden area on a farm usually is devoted to such crops as sweet corn, potatoes, dry beans, and peas.

Have Too Many Dairy Cows—
Dairymen face a period of readjustment. According to the 1929 agricultural outlook report, an annual increase of about one per cent in milk cow numbers is necessary to meet consumption demands. In 1929 the number increased three per cent and there are six per cent more heifers than a year ago.

CHEVROLET
Chevrolet announces
A NEW SERVICE POLICY
The Chevrolet Motor Company and its dealers are pleased to announce a new service policy—one of the most liberal ever offered on a low-priced automobile.
Put into force as a written agreement given to the purchaser by the Chevrolet dealer when the car is delivered—it offers the following provisions:
1 Every Chevrolet owner receives his car from the dealer in perfect condition—thoroughly lubricated, properly adjusted, and ready to operate efficiently from the first mile of ownership.
2 Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free inspection and adjustment of his car at the end of the first 500 miles of usage.
3 Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free inspection of his car every 1000 miles thereafter, so long as the car is in operation.
4 Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free replacement of any part which may prove defective in workmanship or material, within the terms of Chevrolet's standard warranty. This includes both parts and labor.
5 Provision number 4 will be carried out by any Chevrolet dealer in the United States. As a result, the Chevrolet owner may travel to any part of the country, with assurance that the guarantee on materials and workmanship will remain in force.
This new policy constitutes proof of Chevrolet's high quality—for such liberal provisions could only be made in connection with a car built of fine materials to exacting standards of workmanship.
Back of this policy, and assuring its successful operation, is one of the most complete and efficient service organizations in the world.
There are more than 10,000 Authorized Chevrolet Dealer Service Stations in the United States alone. Each employs skilled mechanics thoroughly trained at Chevrolet Service Schools. Each has specially designed tools and machinery developed exclusively for Chevrolet service work. And each has on hand, at all times, an adequate stock of genuine Chevrolet replacement parts.
Chevrolet's flat-rate charges, including both parts and labor, are the lowest in the industry on many service operations.
In considering the purchase of a low-priced automobile, think what this service means—in terms of lasting satisfaction, as well as in increased economy.
Chevrolet cars range in price from $495 up, f. o. b. factory, Flint, Michigan
