AAA MEMBERSHIP INCREASED FROM $5,000 TO 140,000

Meetings in Eight Centre County Districts Revive Greater Interest.

P. A. Frost, secretary of the Centre County Motor Club, reports a very much renewed interest in the club affairs is being created by the meetings held in the eight different districts of the county. Last week meetings were held in Port Matilda, Snow Shoe, Centre Hall, Philipsburg, and in State College and Millheim on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

A final meeting will be held in the Centre County Court House, Bellefonte, on Friday evening, April 4, at 8 P. M. Light refreshments will be served.

E. D. McNelly, field representative for the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, organized the Centre County club originally and expressed his particular interest in the affairs of the club. He states that the membership in the P. M. F. since the local club was organized less than three years ago has grown from about 85,000 to 140,000. Pennsylvania now leads the country in number of AAA members. The Lancaster club is now leading in the State with over 13,000 members.

A special offer is being made at this time to all members for turning in new members to the club. A beautiful auto robe with the AAA insignia is being given to each person turning eight members, or for a limited period such persons can have the choice of the auto robe or 50 cents apiece for each new member. At the meetings held a number of members in each point have signified their intention of securing this prize.

All members of the club and all interested motorists are invited to attend the meeting in Bellefonte on Friday night of this week.

Centre County Democrats Pick Farmer to Oppose Holmes.

Centre County Democrats will run a farmer candidate for the Legislature from Centre county in the hope of beating John Laird Holmes, the only candidate on the Republican ticket, for his fourth term in the Lower House. Nomination papers were filed in Harrisburg for John G. Miller, of Ferguson township, not many miles from Mr. Holmes' residence in State College.

So far no candidate has been put up against Senator Harry B. Scott in the Thirty-fourth district, composed of the counties of Centre and Clearfield, and as it looks now, none will be, as Monday was the last day for filing nomination papers. No candidate for Congress on the Democratic ticket has come to the front here, either.

Surprise Party.

A double surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Walker, in Centre Hall, Tuesday evening of last week, in honor of Mr. Walker's birthday. All the children and grandchildren were present except Raymond Walker and family. At the same time the party held a kitchen shower for Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Walker, who were married recently. Choice refreshments of sandwiches, pickles, ice cream, cake and coffee were served. A beautiful birthday cake was presented by Mr. Walker by his daughter, Mrs. John Larimer. He also received other tokens of esteem.

The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. William Jodon, Mr. and Mrs. George Jodon, Mr. and Mrs. John Larimer, Don and Betty Larimer, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Walker, Frances and Kenneth Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walker, William, Donald, Anna Belle and Dorothy Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Walker and daughter Phyllis, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Walker, Clyde and Clarence Walker.

A Kitchen Shower.

A kitchen shower was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Tibbens, Pleasant Gap, for Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Tibbens, which was attended by a large number of people. At a late hour refreshments were served and all departed for their homes wishing Mr. and Mrs. Tibbens happiness in their new home.

FOUR PORT MATILDA RESIDENTS INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Driver Loses Control of Car, and After Leaving Highway, It Crashes Into Telephone Pole, Hurling Occupants from Wrecked Machine.

Four persons were injured, one seriously, when an automobile got beyond the control of the operator on the highway about one mile east of the Triangle, in Bald Eagle Valley, on Saturday night. The machine, after leaving the highway, crashed into a telephone pole, hurling the occupants from the damaged machine.

Charles Wentzel, 41, of Port Matilda, the driver of the car, suffered a possible fracture of the skull, dislocation of the left hip and numerous body contusions and lacerations, when he was hurled a considerable distance, falling on the highway. Mrs. Minnie Stimer, 60, of Port Matilda, was cut about the face and also suffered a severe laceration of the left hand when struck by flying glass; Florence Stiffler, 23, and six-year-old daughter, Mary, both of Port Matilda, also were injured when struck by flying glass. The latter may have a fractured skull. Her condition Tuesday night was serious.

The injured were taken to the Tyrone hospital where emergency treatment was given, and later were brought to the Centre County Hospital.

19 TOWNSHIPS PROFIT BY STATE REWARD ROADS

Total Expenditure of $51,640.91—Townships Pay But $12,114.92—$39,526.00 Out of Every $100.00 Spent Remained in District Where Improvements Were Made.

State reward highway improvement work in Centre county cost $51,640.91 for 1929 and 19 townships of the county shared in the benefits, Samuel Eckels, chief engineer of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways announced this week. The cost was shared by the State, county and various townships.

Mr. Eckels' statement follows: "The State Reward Act permits of the Department of Highways paying a large proportion of the cost of improving township roads. Subject to certain limitations this provides for payment of 75 per cent. of the cost of the work to such townships whose assessed valuation is $20,000.00 or less per mile of township road and 50 per cent. to those whose valuation exceeds $20,000.00 per mile. This is an exceedingly liberal offer on the part of the State and is augmented by the voluntary agreement of the County Commissioners to pay 7 per cent. of the cost of all work done under this act, which payment is in addition to that of the State.

Supervisors of most of the townships in Centre county have shown them-

POTTERS MILLS-TUSSEYVILLE ROAD LETTING RECALLED

Re-Letting Advertisement Calls For Less Linear Feet of Grading, and Adds Almost One Mile of Concrete Work.

The request of the State Highway Department for bids for grading 13,825 linear feet of roadway to be thirty-four feet in width on State Highway Route No. 95, beginning at Potters Mills and leading directly westward over an almost entirely new route to or beyond Tusseyville, was withdrawn.

Bids are now asked for grading of 9,263 linear feet, of the same width, and 4,565 linear feet of one course reinforced cement concrete pavement, sixteen feet wide. Bids will be opened April 22.

Presumably the same amount of money will be expended on the second bid as would have been on the first, which called for 4,565 linear feet of grading. The concreting of the 4,565 feet will absorb the saving in the cutting down of the original distance of grading.

The concreting will likely begin at Potters Mills, but may or may not be a continuous block. Fills may result in the pavement being laid in sections. The grading of 9,263 miles, twenty-eight feet wide, between Woodward and Millheim, was bid on by D. A. Kessler, of Mt. Carmel, whose bid of $98,035 was the lowest received.

Frank Smith Named Local Enumerator

Frank Smith, a World War veteran, was appointed census enumerator for districts Nos. 8 and 30, which cover Centre Hall borough and the North precinct of Potter township. For Potter South and West precincts, Forrest Bible is said to have been named.

FARMERS INTERESTED IN THE MULTIPLE HITCH

When C. A. Burge, horse extension specialist of the Pennsylvania State College, showed 30 Franklin county farmers how to use a 6-horse multiple hitch on a 2-bottom gang plow, they became so enthusiastic that not even a heavy rain could dampen their enthusiasm.

As the horses worked easily and turned without stepping on each other, all the farmers agreed that the hitch was the best they had ever seen in operation. Burge explains that three horses precede the other two when five are used on the hitch. One farmer is now preparing to use an 8-horse hitch for a 3-bottom plow.

Horses are used extensively for field work in Franklin county despite the introduction of the tractor. It is estimated that there are more than 10,000 horses in the county.

selves fully alert to the opportunity provided for installing additional drain pipes, grading and surfacing roads and building new bridges by filing applications which will use all of the money allocated to Centre county by the State for this purpose.

"The last Legislature appropriated $6,000,000.00 for State reward purposes, of which $57,625.79 was set aside for Centre county. During 1929 the supervisors made improvements under the Reward plan consisting of 9.2 miles of grading and draining, 1.0 miles of cinder road, 8.2 miles of stone road, 3 reinforced concrete bridges and 4907 feet of tips, the total cost of which was $51,640.91. The Department of Highways paid, as its share in the cost of these improvements, the sum of $35,920.24 and the County Commissioners contributed $3,605.75 so that the cost to the townships was only $12,114.92, which is less than one-fourth of the total.

"The greater part of this money was spent for labor so that not only did the townships benefit by getting road improvements at a low cost but a considerable amount of employment was given to the taxpayers. In all townships but three approximately $8.20 out of every $10.00 spent came from outside sources and not from the township. In these three the township furnished $4.30 out of every $10 spent.

"Herewith is a detailed statement showing the amount of work done in 1929 by the various townships that took advantage of this opportunity."

POTTER POOR DUPLICATE IN 1855 WAS ONLY $236.92

Property Owners Number 121—Trades and Occupations, 19—Tax Ranges from $10.00 Down to 20 Cents—John Brislin, Tax Collector.

The assessment for providing for the poor in Potter township for the year 1855, ninety-five years ago, was a grand total of $236.92. The tax book of John Brislin, collector, brought to this office by B. D. Brislin, a relative of the collector named, gives this information. The property owners of the township at that time numbered 121. The tax levied against these ranged from $13.41, the sum charged against Michael Homan, down to four cents, paid by John Ansbach.

Twenty-one persons were taxed under the head of Trades and Occupations. The tax levy against these was not given. Millage assessed was also omitted.

The taxables against whom the largest assessments were levied were: Andrew Greig $13.41 Michael Homan 10.90 Peter Ruble 8.44 David Love 7.85 Joseph Crozier 6.28 John Brislin, Sr. 6.04

Nearly all of the names given are familiar to those of our readers, who have recollections of persons in Potter township as far back as 1870, and most of the residents have descendants living in the county, if not in Potter township, at this time. Among the very familiar names are noted these, under owners: Jacob Ansbach, William C. Brislin, John Brislin, Sr., John Brislin, Jr., David Brislin, William Boal, George Bottorf, Jonas Boal, William Bible, Henry Cline, Phineas Cole, Peter Conrad, Joseph Crozier, Nancy Carson (widow), Daniel Collier, George Durst, Samuel Davis, Conrad Deckart, George Emerick, Jonas From, Peter Flysner, David Fye, Andrew Greig, Jr., Jacob Grossman, John Gutzel, John Heighney, Andrew Horner, Sr., John Himbach, Daniel Horner, Jacob Harshbarger, Michael Homan, Peter Keller, John Kephart, Alexander Kerr, Daniel Livingston, David Love, Geo. Lonsberger, William McCaskey, Thomas Mayes, William McMillin, George Michael, Jr., Nancy Moore (widow), Robert McKim, Jacob Mease, Henry Meyer, John Neff, David Oswald, David Ross, Peter Ruble, Jacob Runkle, Jacob Rhone, Jonas Roseman, John Royer, George Spangler, Henry Smith, Peter Seigler, Jacob Stam, Uriah Stack, John Serbey, Jacob Showers, Thomas Treasurer, Michael Ulrich, Jacob Wolf, David Workinger, Dr. Wm. I. Wilson, Robert S. Watson, Peter Yerters, Jacob Young, George Yong.

Under trades and occupations are these: James H. Boozer, William Davis, Benjamin Fyke, Levi Johnston (negro), Alexander McClintock, Jacob Shurtle, Jacob Treasurer, Thomas Treasurer. The spelling of the names above is like that found in the tax duplicate. It must be kept in mind that Potter township in 1855 covered a much larger area than it does now.

May Start Piggery.

Merchant C. F. Emery, who since coming to this place a number of years ago, has repeatedly demonstrated it possible to raise pork at the price the market affords, may start a piggery on a lot purchased comprising about a half acre, from Mrs. Phoebe Emerick, for $250.00. The lot adjoins the slaughter house lot, and is well suited for the purpose.

Mr. Emery has also met with marked success in curing meat. The hams, shoulders, and bacon cured by him bring prices above the best packing house product. They have all the flavor of the home-grown, home-killed and home-cured meat—the meat that has no superior.

Mr. and Mrs. James Landis, Millfurn, R. D. 1, and six children ranging in age from 2 to 17 years, were made homeless Tuesday night of last week about nine o'clock, when lightning struck their home. The house, a nine-room frame dwelling, immediately burst into flames when the bolt struck the rear of the home on the north side. The family seated in the kitchen was not aware of the fire until they got the scent of smoke. Opening the door leading to the second story they were frightened at the outpour of smoke.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday were very unpleasant days. There were snow squalls during the three days and wicked winds.
