FARM CALENDAR

TIMELY REMINDERS FROM PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE

Cull Out Poor Cows—
Dairy leaders say that if each farmer—who makes his living from milking cows would sell just one unprofitable cow to the butcher the problem of the dairy industry would be solved. Another way is to fatten the cow for slaughter on the farm.

Prepare Lambs for Market—
The market discriminates very severely against ram lambs and against lambs that have not been docked. These operations are simple and easy if done before the lambs are three weeks old.

Kill Cabbage Pests—
Cabbage root maggot can be controlled by corrosive sublimate. Use one ounce of the powder in eight gallons of water. Dissolve the powder first in a little hot water. Apply one-half teaspoonful to the soil around each plant. Make the first application soon after the plants are set and two more at 10-day intervals. Handle the solution carefully as it is extremely poisonous.

Sweet Clover Improves Soil—
On account of its plentiful growth of root and top, even on poor soils, sweet clover probably is the most efficient legume for supplying organic matter and nitrogen. Some of the best potato growers in the State use a 2-year rotation of wheat or oats, in which sweet clover is sown and then plowed down the next spring for potatoes.

Harden Plants Before Setting—
Plants from the greenhouse or hotbed should be sufficiently hardened before being set in the field by gradually lowering the temperature and reducing the amount of water supplied. Cabbage plants will have a reddish tinge when they are hardened sufficiently to be transplanted into the field.

Protect Chickens from Disease—
Prevent in every way the carrying of infection from mature fowls and from contaminated ground to young chicks. Keep the old and young stock separate. State College poultry specialists urge.

SEMESAN BEL
Instantaneous Dip Treatment

Increases POTATO PROFITS

ONE way to increase your potato profits is to give your seed a chance to produce a bigger yield of better-quality potatoes by treating seed before planting with Semesan Bel.

The attacks of certain soil-infesting organisms are often prevented by the coating of a disinfectant which remains on the seed piece throughout the season.

A. H. Christie & Son of Maine said that Semesan Bel seed treatment increased their yield 5 barrels per acre over untreated seed and 7 barrels more than seed treated with corrosive sublimate. The potatoes grown from Semesan Bel treated seed also graded 9 1/2 barrels more No. 1 stock than those from corrosive sublimate treated seed.

Easily Applied—Inexpensive

One pound of Semesan Bel makes 10 quarts of dip which treats from 16 to 22 bushels of seed potatoes. Simply mix with cold water, dip and plant. Semesan Bel retains its disinfecting strength until completely used. One man alone can easily treat from 200 to 400 bushels per day. No expensive equipment required. Even sprouted seed may be safely treated with Semesan Bel. Use for both white and sweet potatoes. Packed in all convenient sizes from one to 300 pounds. Four ounces, 50c; one pound, $1.75; five pounds, $8.00. Buy a can today.

Such diseases as Rhizoctonia, scab and black leg, which reduce yields and lower crop quality, are due to surface infections by fungi and bacteria. Treating the seed with Semesan Bel destroys such surface-borne organisms.

Disease Losses Controlled

Use Ceresan for seed grains and cotton; Semesan Jr. for seed corn; Semesan for vegetable and flower seeds and bulbs.
