

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Twilight game this Thursday evening between Centre Hall and Pleasant Gap baseball nines, at Centre Hall.

Christ D. Shook, progressive young Gregg township farmer, was a caller at this office on Wednesday morning.

The terrace to the front of the Reformed parsonage was resodded and now that section presents a much better appearance.

Harry Fye is greatly improving the vacant lot next to his residence by filling it up to the walk level. It will also materially improve the value of the property.

Tuesday Misses Isabel Bradford and Anna May Martz started on a two weeks' visit among relatives in the vicinity of Phoenixville. They went by train from Lewisport.

Keller brothers are erecting a garage of concrete building blocks on their farm east of town. Claude Dutrow is tenant on the farm and will get the benefit of the improvement.

N. P. Grayson and sister, Miss Nancy Grayson, were over Sunday guests at the Lutheran parsonage. The visitors are residents of Shippensburg and were former parishioners of the Lutheran minister, whose guests they were.

Harrison Foust, of Potters Mills, a State Highway employee, was a caller here last week. He states the building of the new road from that place to Tusseyville is bringing in a large number of laborers, and that local men are also being employed.

George Johnson, the genial young merchant "at the station," quotes some low prices in an ad. appearing this week. They are but a few of the many attractive prices to be found at his store at all times. He invites you to his come in and see for yourself.

Miss Helen Bartholomew Mrs. C. D. Bartholomew and daughter Jean, Miss Jennie Bartholomew and Miss Doris Moltz made up an auto party who on Monday morning drove to Curwensville for a three-days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Kittleberger. They will also be guests for part of a day of Rev. Sherman at Austin.

L. B. Mathew & Son, Altoona, are the contractors. Two large shovels are at work, and at present about twenty-five men are employed. Later four times that number of men will be used. W. E. Germann, of Alexandria, is superintendent, and G. L. Wolf, of Clearfield, inspector for the Highway Department. The contract will be completed within four months.

The shrubbery planted at the main entrance to Grange Park, as well as that set about the headquarters building and auditorium, is making fine growth. By the time the fair opens in August, the surroundings at those points will present a beautiful appearance. The work along this line begun this spring is only the beginning of the plan mapped out on a large scale.

Miss Loretta Foster, of State College, on Monday underwent an operation for an obstruction of the bowels at the Packer Hospital, Philadelphia, the operating surgeon being Dr. Kennedy. She was brought from the Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, where she had been under treatment, to the Philadelphia institution by her father, Dr. J. V. Foster. Her condition at present is given as favorable.

Mr. and Mrs. Ammon Burkholder and daughter, Miss Margaret, on coming here the latter part of last week brought with them Mrs. Margaret E. Strohm, who had been their guest for a short time. Mrs. Strohm had gone to Stroudsburg, where the Burkholders live, to be present at the commencement exercises of the city high school, where Miss Margaret graduated. She will take up nursing as a profession and will soon enter a nurses training school.

The farm home on the Dr. S. C. Runkle farm, east of town, tenanted by the doctor's nephew, Bruce E. Runkle, is being beautified by means of an application of paint on the exterior. John Dunkle, of Spring Mills, aged 70 years, and a remarkable man for his years, is the painter, and he is doing the work alone. He handles his brushes without any assistance and scales them with the agility of one half his age. Upon the completion of the Runkle farm dwelling job, Mr. Dunkle will come to Centre Hall and beautify the Centre Hall hotel, Miss Laura Runkle, proprietress.

Prof. O. F. Smith, of Boalsburg, was the speaker at the Odd Fellows' and Rebekahs' memorial service here, on Saturday night. Prof. Smith, unlike many science instructors who attempt to show that science and religion conflict, proved by scientific facts the complete reverse—that science bears a close relationship to things spiritual; that it is much easier to believe the existence of a God than to believe the mysteries that the universe holds; and that a wise Creator who has not permitted the destruction of a particle of matter since the world was created, thinks infinitely more of a human soul.

"WOMEN EVERYWHERE"—AT THE RICHELIEU

Those who like love, adventure and melody in their talking picture will find more than their share of enjoyment at the Richelieu where "Women Everywhere," the Fox Movietone musical romance of French Morocco and the Foreign Legion will be shown Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

J. Harold Murray, who plays the leading role of "Charlie Jackson," the Yankee sea captain, who runs foul of the French authorities when he attempts to run a load of guns to the rebellious Arabs, gives the best portrayal of his screen career and sings with a gusto and fervor typical of his role.

Elli Dorsey is as charming as ever as "Lili LaFleur" the music hall song and dance artist who saves Murray from a disgraceful death, showing him that there are many things to make life worth while living.

What is believed to be the oldest log building in Centre county, located near Pine Grove Mills, along the State Highway, was destroyed by fire late Wednesday night of last week. The building, erected over 150 years ago, was owned by Mrs. Mary Miller Merritts, Tyrone, and had been used for many years as a hunting camp. The cause of the fire is unknown. The State College fire department was called to extinguish the fire but the blaze was beyond control when they arrived.
