

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Boalsburg citizens are up in arms in regard to the proposed increase in water tax.

Ralph Packer, son of L. O. Packer, was in Philadelphia with friends, last week.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Neff, near Tusseyville, on Sunday, 22nd ult.

A shipment of Chevrolet cars was received on Tuesday by the Homan Motor company.

Prof. L. O. Packer, on closing teaching in the Pittsburgh public schools, came to his home here to remain until next fall when he will again resume teaching in the same city.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Heim and son, Merrill, of Harrisburg; Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lebo and children, Robert and Lois, of Millerstown, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Colver, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gross, daughter Elizabeth, and Mrs. Hulda Meyer, of Centre Hall, drove to Erie Friday to attend the funeral of the wife of Frank H. Campbell, of Erie. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon, all returning home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Barger and children, of Potters Mills; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hosterman and children and Mr. and Mrs. James Fox, of State College, enjoyed a motor trip to the Gettysburg battlefield last Thursday, returning via Harrisburg.

We ask our local readers to carefully read a short announcement concerning the next Centre-Clearfield Crippled Children's Clinic at the Phillipsburg State Hospital, Thursday, July 10th. By doing so and acting on the suggestion given you may aid some child greatly needing it.

Eugene Colyer, Miss Mary Homan, Russell Colyer and Miss Agnes Cummings were visitors at Camp Kanestatake, on Spruce Creek, on Sunday. High school boys are in camp there at this time. The former is a graduate from the S. S. Camp but found many improvements on the grounds since he was a camper there.

Mrs. Sylvia Grenoble, of Spring Mills, while in town last week favored this office with her presence. She brought to town her daughter, Margaret, and Bernice Smith, a daughter of Mrs. Mabel Smith, who are taking instruction in instrumental music under Mrs. D. R. Keener, and are making fine progress in that art.

Samuel Gingerich returned home on Monday after enjoying a ten-day vacation motoring through Ohio and Michigan, during which time he covered almost 1100 miles. Relatives were visited in Youngstown, Akron, Willard and Toledo, in Ohio, while a short time was spent at Benton, Michigan. Accompanying Mr. Gingerich were Kathryn Summers and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ross.

Claude E. Wert, a prominent Potter township farmer living west of Tusseyville, who received a paralytic stroke on Sunday, is improving. He is able to sit up in bed at times, and is not suffering pain. Immediately after the attack he suffered intense pain in the head, but this has subsided. The Wert family is hopeful of the complete recovery of the head of the household.

D. W. Bradford had the exterior of his dwelling house repainted, an air pressure spray being used to supply the paint on the upper portion of the building. The lower section was brushed. Paul Byers, of Millheim, did the work. The house received its second painting since it being built, more than thirty years ago. The paint was in very fair condition, especially on the upper section.

William McWilliams, on Monday morning, received the third or fourth paralytic stroke and his condition since has been very critical. His entire right side is paralyzed, and he has been unable to take food. Mr. McWilliams is well advanced in years and there are slight hopes of recovery. He lives with his daughter, Mrs. F. V. Goodhart, and is receiving the best of attention.

Rev. John H. Keller, accompanied by Mrs. Keller and son, John Henry, of China Grove, North Carolina, drove to Centre Hall in a new Ford sedan, arriving Friday evening. Tuesday they went to Niagara Falls, expecting to return Wednesday. They will remain here but for a comparatively short time. Miss Florence Etteman, a sister of Mrs. Keller, was a guest of the Kellers on their trip north, and at Centre Hall Mrs. W. F. Keller joined the party on the sightseeing tour to Niagara Falls.

Rumors of more or less good foundation are being circulated that the stone quarry at the Centre Hall station formerly operated by C. A. Spicker and later taken over by the Penns Valley Banking company, will be put into operation by the Whitlock people at Pleasant Gap. It appears the Whitlock Quarry have the contract for furnishing the stone for the State highway being built from Potters Mills to Tusseyville, and it is conjectured that the probability of other extensive road building in the valley is inducing the company named to prepare itself for this condition.

Miss Edith Cole and Mrs. Anna Stevens, both reared about Boalsburg, paid the old home surroundings, State College and Centre Hall a brief visit last week. They drove here from Harrisburg where the latter lives and is engaged in teaching in the public schools. On their way here they also visited about Lewistown where Miss Cole taught school for several years. She is now located in Denver, Colorado, where she is superintendent of the Colorado State Home for dependent and neglected children. She came east primarily to attend a convention of the National Social Science Workers held in Baltimore, Md.

The gall bladder contained a stone-hard substance in one end and the other portion of the sack was filled with puss. The condition found was apparently unusual.

A RACING PILOT'S Slant on Everyday Motoring-

by Ralph Hepburn

Some Tire Thoughts

VERY few motorists think of their tires until they have had a puncture or blowout, or until excessive wear begins to show on one or more wheels.

I drive my car on a different basis, because I know something about tires and something about car manufacture. The wheels of my car are lined up once every month and my brakes are adjusted at the same time. Tires are an expense and any expense that can be delayed is a dividend.

How many times have you watched a motorist coming toward you with the front wheels of his car out of line? They are either toed in too much or spread out in such a way as to cause excessive wear on the tread. After signs of such wear are noticed it is frequently too late to repair the damage to that particular tire. But the trouble should be rectified at once, in the interest of future conservation. Adjustment of the tie-rod between the steering arms of the front wheels will often correct the trouble.

In these days of mechanical and hydraulic four-wheel brakes, and the ever-increasing traffic congestion which makes their use more frequent and more urgent, it is essential that they be given frequent attention. They may need adjustment only once out of every four or five times they are inspected, but it is better to be safe than sorry. If one or more of the brakes takes hold a little quicker than the rest, it means greater sliding of these wheels, and therefore an excess of tire wear. It also means that the car is more likely to skid on a wet pavement or in an emergency. Furthermore you lose traction, and that costs money.

Here is a tip that may prove valuable to you: Change your tires from wheel to wheel every once in a while. It is claimed that the tires on the rear wheels wear out faster than those on the front wheels, particularly on lighter cars. By changing them, wear on the non-skid tread on all four tires is prolonged.

I also believe that free spring action is essential to real ease of riding and find that ball-bearing spring shackles help in attaining this desirable feature. They will outlast the car itself, they don't squeak, and they need no greasing or adjustment. The use of these shackles has been on the increase since riding comfort began to be a consideration.
