

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

A refreshing shower came along Tuesday afternoon. The section of south Potter was not so fortunate—only a "sprinkler" there.

The Centre Hall Y. P. B. organization will hold its picnic Monday of next week at "Brown's Place," Seven Mountains.

The hotel building is being re-roofed with composition shingles. The work is being done by G. P. Garret, the Rehersburg contractor.

The swimming pool at Hecla Park is becoming popular with young people in town. The pool is lighted up at night by the use of flood lights.

The Helping Hand class in the Lutheran Sunday school will hold a bake sale at the home of Mrs. A. W. Alexander, on Saturday evening.

Pennsylvania failing to gain in population as much as the average State during the past ten years is due to lose at least one congressman when the State is reapportioned.

H. L. Ebnright, cashier of the First National bank, underwent a tonsil operation on Friday afternoon, performed by Dr. J. V. Foster, at his private hospital at State College.

Since returning from the Clearfield hospital, last Thursday, Mrs. A. E. Kerlin continues to improve. The operation she underwent was a very serious and complicated one.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Runkle, of Philadelphia, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Runkle, east of town. Mr. Runkle is a son of the late R. D. Runkle, of Shamokin, and is employed in an automobile establishment.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Beck, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hartman, of New Cumberland, spent Saturday and Sunday as guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Hosterman, Miss Dorothy Kerlin, of the same place, is spending the week at the Hosterman home.

Misses Stella Sherba and Edith Denon are the only fresh air children sent out by the New York Tribune being entertained in town. They have both been here before and then, like now, guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Smith.

Miss Loretta Foster, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. V. Foster, State College, who had been seriously ill since an operation performed in Philadelphia, is slightly improved over her condition a week ago. She is at the parental home in State College.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Stahl and children, of Altoona, motored to the home of the former's mother, Mrs. Mary Stahl, on Saturday, remaining until Monday afternoon. Mr. Stahl is in the meat business in Altoona, and as a business man feels the effect of the present depression.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Finkle, of Mifflinburg, are off on an automobile pleasure trip through New York State and into Canada. During their absence their little daughter, Dorothy Ann is being cared for by her aunt, Miss Algie Emery, at the home of Grandma Emery.

Mr. S. F. Long, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Edith Long, and sons Walter and Herbert Long, Pat, Bradley, Robert Nely, Sr., and Robert Nely, Jr., and wife, all of Washington, D. C., visited Mr. and Mrs. F. J. McClellan and other relatives about here during last week.

Mrs. Wilmina Packer, of Houtzdale, was a guest of her son, Fred, L. O. Packer, in town, and was taken to Houtzdale by him on Sunday where she is making her home for the present with a daughter, Mrs. Anna Packer. Mrs. Packer, at the age of 87 years, is remarkably active and mentally alert.

Leroy Kazbebe, a student at Beckley College, Harrisburg, on his way to his home in Meadville, stopped in town on Saturday and took with him Wilbur McClellan, a former student at the college named. On Sunday the two young men returned here, and Mr. Kazbebe went on to Harrisburg to resume his studies.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Mitterling and daughter, Miss Miriam, early Sunday morning started on a ten days' or two weeks' auto trip through New York and probably through Canada. Thousand Islands is one of the objective points. The Mitterling Cafe is in charge of Mrs. J. M. Coldron, with Misses Hazel and Rena Burkholder as assistants, during the absence of the proprietor.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Kittleberger and daughters, Misses Louise and Elizabeth, of Cayre, were guests at the Bartholomew home Saturday and Sunday. Miss Louise is employed by the Kurtz school supply company, Clearfield, and Miss Elizabeth, who graduated with honors from the Lock Haven Teachers' College, in June, has been elected a teacher in the Woolrich schools.

Beginning of this week every farm in the valley, probably with a few exceptions, was engaged in "hauling in," which in the parlance of the local farmer means hauling from the fields and storing into the barns the bountiful crop of wheat cut a few days previous. The salesman who undertakes to interest the average farmer at this season will come to the conclusion that his line of talk is not reasonable.

Tuesday evening the members of the local W. C. T. U. met on Grange Park where a sumptuous supper was served. Noted guests were Mrs. Berntha Eroyles, the president of the county organization, and Mrs. Frank Kroll, treasurer of the same organization. The county president is reported as having made one her characteristic addresses on the temperance subject.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCormick, of Columbia, S. C., and C. H. Meyer, of Reedsville, drove through town on Monday. At Tyrone they were guests of Mrs. McCormick's mother, Mrs. Eliza Meyer. Before returning to their Southern home, Mr. and Mrs. McCormick will go to New York City and will take with them Mrs. Meyer. In New York the party will be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Butler, the latter a granddaughter of Mrs. Meyer.

OLDER MEN KNOCK AT PENN STATE'S DOORS

Many from 20 to 25. One of 40 Seek Admission—Freshman Class Limited to 1225—Business Depression Has No Ill Effect on Registration.

"Hard times" are "boom times" for freshman class applications at Penn State.

Business depression apparently have no ill effect upon those seeking an education at the State's institution of higher learning. Applications for admission to the next freshman class have been pouring in upon Registrar Wm. S. Hoffman in as large numbers as in any of the past five or six years.

"It appears incredible in the face of the present economic conditions that a record number of young men and women should find themselves able to start to college," Mr. Hoffman stated, "but that is what is happening this summer at Penn State. It has been true in every period of financial depression for many years."

Several factors enter into this unusual condition, Mr. Hoffman finds. The chief reason he believes, lies in the experience of many young men laid off by industries that are retaining college trained men. These have been brought face to face with the advantages of a college education and have resolved to get one for themselves. Many applicants this summer for the September freshman class are 20 to 25 years of age, and one man of 40 is seeking admission as a freshman. Another belief is that some applicants are High school graduates unable to locate a good-paying job without some training and they are seeking a college education so as to better fit themselves for life.

Former students who dropped out of college some years ago are coming back this fall to complete their courses. One of these entered in 1915, stayed two years and now wants to win his degree. Scores of others who failed to complete their studies in more recent years now see the need for returning. Mr. Hoffman stated, and expressed the belief that they, too, have found the value of completed college training.

Fresh applications received this summer the Penn State registrar believes money matters with families of prospective students have no more bearing than in an ordinary year. The student body will represent parents with steady incomes, and few more than the usual number of students working their way are expected. Another possible factor affecting Penn State enrollment is the fact that, as a State-supported institution, no tuition is charged residents of Pennsylvania.

The incoming freshman class at Penn State is limited to 1225, with 1000 men and 175 women on the local campus, and 50 men at the Mont Alto forestry branch. Admissions have been offered to 1185 since July 1, and less than one per cent of those ranked lower than the upper three-fifths of their high school class. The new class will be the largest, and scholastically the best prepared, ever admitted to Penn State.

STRAW STACK BURNS. BANK BARN SAVED

While threshing at the Wm. H. Hoffman farm, east of Old Fort, tonated by a son of the owner, Ernest Homan, the straw stack took fire Wednesday morning about 9:00 o'clock. It required heroic efforts on the part of all the men engaged in threshing to keep the flames from coming in contact with the barn. What was being threshed and the work had been begun only a short time before the fire was shot through the straw carrier. The fact that no great quantity of straw was in the barn yard permitted the men to handle the situation favorably.

Telephone messages that the Homan barn was on fire brought neighbors and townspeople to the scene, those arriving early giving assistance.

ARREST PAIR OF NEGROES AT BELLEFONTE

Abandoned Wrecked Car Said to Have Been Stolen from Steele Garage by Ward Green and Jack Morrison. Ward Green and Jack Morrison, Negroes, of Bellefonte, were arrested on Saturday night on the charge of stealing and wrecking a car belonging to Edward Irwin, of that place.

Ward Green, it is alleged, made his first attempt to steal a car on Saturday night at the H. A. Rossmann garage, obtaining the keys to the garage from the home of his brother, Wm. Green, who is employed at the garage. He is said to have succeeded in removing the car from the garage, but to have been stopped by one of Mr. Rossmann's salesmen before getting the car out of town.

Later the same evening, it is claimed, he went to the Penn Belle hotel and obtained the key to the Steele garage, at the rear of the hotel, on the pretense of being employed to wash the car of Edward Irwin, and after taking the car from the garage he was joined by Jack Morrison, who, police records show, recently completed a term in the Western penitentiary.

Police found the car wrecked and abandoned on the highway between Meadburg and Bellefonte. The men were later arrested by State patrol officers and committed to the Centre county jail.
