FARM CALENDAR

BEWARE OF LATE BLIGHT—Four inches of rainfall in July invariably indicates the coming of an epidemic of late blight on potatoes, say plant pathologists of State College. They urge growers to be alert in watching for the disease and diligent in the application of sprays to combat its ravages.

SELL EGGLess HENS—Fast molters in the poultry flock should be culled immediately after they go out of laying condition because they will "drift" or lose weight rapidly. Slow molters may gain in body weight after egg production ceases.

SPRAY CELERY PLANTS—Bordeaux spray will control the three celery blights: Early, bacterial and late. The first spray should be applied within 7 to 10 days after transplanting and the others at 10-day intervals.

Yon, Too, Can Help—When enjoying picnics under old tree along brooks or in parks, give a thought to how they happen to be there. Folks who plant trees or help them to grow are not always the ones who enjoy their shade and beauty, but the sum total of happiness is just as great. Plant a tree and watch it grow.

Pigs Like Cool Places—Pigs wallow in the mud because they like to be cool on hot, summer days. Providing water in a trough will give the comfort-seeking animals a cleaner, better place for the daily plunge.

Keep Flies Off Cows—A fly-fighting cow is not an efficient milk producer. Make Bessie contented by spraying her enemies.

Festival at Red Roost.

The Ladies' Aid of the Pleasant View Union Chapel at Red Roost, near the old fair grounds a short distance north of Bellefonte, will hold a festival at the Chapel, Saturday evening, August 3. Something new in the line of entertainment will be provided. The finest of music will be furnished. Ice cream, hot dogs, cakes, soft drinks, homemade candies, roasted and salted peanuts will be on sale. All come out and help a good cause.
