

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Osceola Mills, Clearfield county, lost 510 in population since the last census. The borough now has 2002 residents.

The Wolfe family reunion will be held at Hecla Park on Sunday, August 3rd, and all relatives and friends are invited.

Thirty-seven fresh air children comprised the Phillipsburg Clearfield group to arrive there from New York last week.

Domer S. Ishler, formerly a Prohibition enforcement officer, secured a license from the county court to conduct a private detective agency.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bender and baby daughter spent the past week at Hershey where they attended the annual convention of Raleigh Products salesmen.

An ox roast barbecue dinner will be served in the Old Fort woods, Sunday, August 3rd. Mr. Blackwell, of Georgia, will be in charge of preparing the barbecue. Tickets are 50 cents.

P. H. Lusa, long tenant on the E. M. Huyett farm, east of town, will retire and his son, Ralph Lusa, now tenant on the Morris Burkholder farm farther west, will succeed him.

Harvey W. Plink is a student in Journalism at Penn State. Mr. Plink's contributions to "The Reporter" in the form of poetry, from time to time, stamp him as a young man of literary promise.

James Wagner and little son, of Herndon, on Tuesday returned home after visiting the former's brother, E. Clayton Wagner, south of town. Mr. Wagner is employed by the P. R. R. at Herndon.

It must be said for John Ritter that his decisions as a ball and strike umpire for Saturday's game were satisfactory to both the Grass Flat and Centre Hall teams, and the fans. And that's something.

Prof. L. O. Paeker had a cyst removed from his scalp, last week. The operation was performed by Dr. H. S. Braucht. The cyst is common among the generation to which Mr. Paeker belongs and to one or more older generations of that family.

Monday morning George Schack, of Scranton, found guilty of stealing the carcass of a deer from a hunting camp in Seven Mountains last fall will appear before Judge Fleming for sentence. Application for a new trial was denied. Paul Stover, of Penn township, was the prosecutor in the case.

Misses Elizabeth Bartholomew and Doris Moltz were entertained at dinner by Miss Eva Philson at the home of her parents near Lewistown. Others in the auto party who went on to Lewistown on a shopping tour were Miss Helen Bartholomew, Mrs. T. L. Moore and Miss Miriam Moore.

William Brooks, son of Guy Brooks, west of town, is improving nicely from injuries received in falling from a cherry tree a few weeks ago. Both of his arms were broken—one of them at two places. It became necessary to break one of the bones the second time to correct a fault. The boy is in the Centre County hospital.

J. H. Detwiler had ten tables with attached benches built at the Garrett planing mill in Rebersburg, for use on Nittany Mountain top. The tables are well built of planed lumber, and the tops painted. Parties seeking a cool breeze in which to eat a picnic dinner or supper will find it flowing over these tables.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Krome, their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Sloan, and little son, from Detroit, Mich., were guests of the Arney family at the Arney homestead west of town, from Sunday until Wednesday. Mrs. Krome is a daughter of the late Henry Dasher, who at one time lived west of Centre Hall but went west when a young man.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Emerick, their son Paul and Mr. Emerick's niece, left Bellefonte Tuesday of last week to drive to New York from where they sailed on a ten days' trip to the Bermudas. Returning by way of Nova Scotia, they anticipate spending two weeks there, thus making their absence to cover a period of almost a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bartholomew and daughter, Miss Mary Helen, of Altoona, and Miss Mary Kennedy, of Hollidaysburg, are spending this week between the Bartholomew home and the Kennedy farm home, west of town. All of the clerks in the Altoona P. R. R. offices were given a week's furlough vacation. A vacation of like character is about to be extended to all mechanics, except a few repair men.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McKinney and children, of Altoona, are at the State House, Seven Mountains, with Mr. McKinney's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McKinney, where they are during the vacation period granted the young man from Altoona by the P. R. R. company. Mr. McKinney's only complaint was that he feared this arrangement would mix matters during the hunting season.

Forest Ranger Richard Brooks asks the Reporter to caution boys and those of more mature age to refrain from building fire in the mountains during this period of drought. There are indications of a half-dozen or more fires having been built in the mountains above town where conditions were such that no one regardless of their experience, could do so with safety.

The Hagan Garage front as well as the front of the Hagan residence has been improved by Mr. Hagan, making parking there more convenient and greatly improving appearances in that quarter. Across the street a water course is being built at the expense of the borough to the front of the residence and business place owned by W. H. Homan and the A. W. Alexander residence. The deep and unsightly and rather dangerous water course south of Potter street will not be given attention at this time.

LOCALS WIN AND LOSE.

Milroy Conquered, 7 to 3.

For the first time in two years, Centre Hall was able to meet the strong Milroy baseball team and come through a winner, in a six-inning twilight game at Milroy, last Thursday. The score was 7 to 3. Newton Crawford pitched for the locals, and allowed six hits; Centre Hall collected only five off the Milroy twirler, but nearly all were timely swats, coming at times when runners were on base. However, Milroy's rather loose defense aided materially in the defeat.

Grass Flat Applies Whitewash.

The highly-touted Grass Flat team lived up to their reputation by handling the local ball club a nestful of goose eggs here, Saturday afternoon, and taking six nice runs for themselves. Grass Flat hit, ran the bases and fielded equally well, while Centre Hall lacked the punch to put runs over the plate when runners occupied the bags. Grass Flat knocked Gross off the mound after scoring four runs, and Lutz fared little better from the coal miners, whose bats were loaded with base hits. For the locals, Emery did some nice fielding in the center garden, while Durst did the best hitting. George Rimmey, catcher for the home team, was forced to leave the game in the 3rd inning when he was severely spiked on the hand by a Grass Flat player sliding home. A vet was severed and the wound bled profusely, requiring the attention of a physician.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

B. F. Herman, of Altoona, was a guest at the W. F. Colyer home for a few days. Mrs. Herman is expected here the latter part of the week. She is a cousin of Mrs. Colyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Brungart, their three daughters and small son, on Monday night returned from a week's auto pleasure trip to North Springfield, twenty miles west of Erie. They were guests of Mr. Brungart's sister, Mrs. I. A. Doerr, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Gross R. Allison, daughter Dorothy Jane, and son, John Runkle, Mrs. Vernon Valentine, and Miss Hettie Tomison, motored to Centre Hall from their home in New Castle, Kentucky, and are spending a week as guests of Mr. Allison's aunt, Miss Laura Runkle. Mr. Allison is a road engineer and has charge of all the highway construction in his home county.

W. S. Krise, of Johnstown, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Mary Krise, also, his nephew, Earl Krise, and wife of Chicago, Ill., and George Blackford, of the same place, was in Centre Hall on Monday on a motor trip, and visited Penns Cave and other scenic spots in the county. Mr. Krise is engaged in the real estate and fire insurance business, besides being a clerk in his home ward in Johnstown. He keeps in touch with the news of the "old home town" by keeping up his subscription to the Reporter.

Paul Ammerman, of Altoona, was in town last week, having come here to be certain that Miss Mary Helen Bartholomew, of the same city, was having the pleasant outing she was entitled to while in Centre Hall. Both are Altoona High school graduates. The latter, by the way, will become a student in Wooster (Ohio) College at the opening of the fall term. The young man in question will also make further educational preparation for life's work.

FARM CALENDAR

TIMELY REMINDERS FROM PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE

Spray Potato Aphids—

Watch for aphids on early potatoes. If found, add one pint of nicotine sulphate to 100 gallons of bordeaux mixture or apply a spray composed of one pint of nicotine sulphate in 100 gallons of water to which four pounds of dissolved soap are added.

Kill Weeds Early—

To control weeds cultivate diligently and at the right time to kill the weeds when small and prevent all weeds from going to seed to rid the land of seeds which will cause loss and hard work later.

Fit Animals for Show—

After the show animal is selected, training and fitting are in order. Training is necessary to secure the best behavior in the show ring. Feeding is an important part of the fitting program, the purpose of which is to put the animal in the best possible condition.

Control Potato Blight—

Late blight of potatoes can be prevented by frequent and thorough spraying with bordeaux mixture. During extremely hot weather the lime content of the spray should be increased to 10 pounds in 100 gallons of solution.

Summer Grain Profitable—

Efficient dairy cows will return a profit on grain fed even when the pasture is good. A small quantity of summer grain keeps up the milk flow and builds up the cow for winter.

Plan Vegetable Storage—

Plans and preparations for vegetable storage should be made before harvesting time. Essentials for a good vegetable storage are air circulation, good drainage, cleanliness and good rack and bins.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

The Lohr reunion will be held on Grange Park, Saturday, August 10th.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Lansberry, of Phillipsburg, who had been guests of the Bartholomew family, will return home today (Thursday).

It is thirty years this week since the writer purchased the Reporter from the Kurtz family. Only two of the Kurtz family, grandchildren of the late Frederick Kurtz living then, are living now.

At the Nittany Club Miss Elizabeth Bartholomew recently entertained Misses Eva Philson, Lewistown; Mary Helen Bartholomew, Altoona; Agnes Geary, and Dr. R. H. White, at an evening dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Beck, of Berwick, brought Mrs. Susan Lutz here on Saturday after having been their guest for over a week. The Beckes remained until Sunday. Although not living so far away from here, Mr. Beck had not been in Centre Hall for thirty years.

Miss Marion Meyer, who underwent an appendix operation in the Centre County hospital, returned home Monday and is getting along fine. Miss Carrill Emerick, who was a surgical patient in the same hospital, is due to return home today (Thursday). Her condition is very much improved.

Tent floors are already being put in position on Grange Park. A large number of new tents, bunks and tables will be set up for the time this year. During the past ten years the demand for tents has not been fully supplied, and with the fifty or more new tents this year, the same condition exists.

The East Main Street Methodist Church, Lock Haven, held their annual basket picnic at Woolrich, on Wednesday. The pastor, Rev. C. E. Hazen, and Mrs. Hazen, entertained as their guests at the picnic Mrs. C. D. Bartholomew, Misses Helen Bartholomew, Jennie Bartholomew, Doris Moltz and Jean Bartholomew.

Margaret, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Cooney, at McKees Rocks was hit by an auto and severely injured, one day last week. A number of the twelve-year-old girl's teeth were knocked out and long cuts on her face required numerous stitches in dressing by a surgeon. The girl was pushing a baby cart in the street when the accident happened. One of two cars that collided ran her down.

Paul Ammerman, of Altoona, was in town last week, having come here to be certain that Miss Mary Helen Bartholomew, of the same city, was having the pleasant outing she was entitled to while in Centre Hall. Both are Altoona High school graduates. The latter, by the way, will become a student in Wooster (Ohio) College at the opening of the fall term. The young man in question will also make further educational preparation for life's work.
