Slits are being filled at this time on many farms.

The Homan Motor Company on Tuesday received a Chevrolet sedan, coupe, coach and one and one-half ton truck.

"All Quiet on the Western Front" is all it is cracked up to be. If you like war scenes on the screen, go to the Richelieu this week.

Harry I. Snavely, of near Spring Mills is a patient in Dr. Black's private hospital, Lewistown. He expects to return home within the next few days.

Mrs. Lee Matthews, long a resident of Millheim, is a Geisinger hospital patient and is very seriously ill. Her condition on Tuesday was regarded as most alarming.

The milk supply gathered daily for the Sheffield plant here, is keeping up remarkably well. In fact, there is a slight increase at the present over that of a few weeks ago.

Miss Thelie P. Keller, assistant to the postmaster in the local office, is spending her vacation at the home of her sister Mrs. (Rev.) Ward K. Shultz, at Minersville, Schuylkill county.

Week-end visitors at the Methodist parsonage in Spring Mills were Mrs. Agnes Cornelius and family, of Riddlesburg, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wagner and son, Joseph, of Hollidaysburg.

Meredith Coldron, who is doing clerical work in the State Highway Department offices in Harrisburg, is attending classes in Beckley College at the same time. The office work is at hours which do not interfere with his school hours.

While attending a social function on the south side of the valley, a forester came near being maimed for life. Our informant was a bit leary in giving details, but it was a close call—all due to the splitting of an over-loaded bench, pressed into service on the occasion.

Wilbur Stover, right-hand man for his brother, George Stover, at the grain house and coal yards, was taken to the Geisinger Memorial Hospital at Danville last Thursday and has since been under observation and treatment for prostate glands. It is probable that an operation will follow.

More than a hundred young folks and adults attended the Nittany Valley League of Youth meeting at Sping Mills on Friday. The Rev. A. L. Bixler of State College delivered an inspiring address of especial interest to the Leaguers. The Spring Mills school orchestra, under the direction of Mrs. Homer Fetterolf, rendered some very commendable selections.

The platforms of various elevations in the room occupied by the infant department in the Lutheran Sunday school were removed, putting the entire floor on one level. The room will be recarpeted and otherwise improved. Instruction in that department hereafter will be along more modern lines, which will be made possible by securing suitable equipments for teaching the younger children.

Clarence Musser, of Aaronburg, selected a most delightful site on which to erect a home. It is on Pine Hill, between Aaronburg and Millheim, that the completed bungalow, 28x46 feet in dimensions, stands. He expects to have it ready for occupancy by late fall. Mr. Musser has long followed painting and the tonsorial art. One of the first-floor rooms in the new structure will be fitted up for use as a tonsorial parlor.

There is a feeling in the air that like at Potters Mills, Spring Mills, Leont, Pleasant Gap, and hundreds of other built-up sections and at approaches to boroughs, twenty-mile speed limit signs will be erected on Routs Nos. 53 and 95 passing through town. The enforcement of a twenty-mile speed limit regulation, it appears, will take the place of the numerous traffic stop and go lights. It is a substitution that will bring about a better speed condition not only at intersections, but at all points covered by the signs.

After an absence from Potter township for 45 years, William Breen, of near San Diego, California, is visiting scenes of his boyhood. He is a son of the late Jacob Breen, formerly of Potters Mills. The family left that section nearly 50 years ago, for Altoona. Some years later the son removed to California, where he prospered. He is the owner of a profitable oil and gas station in the west. Mr. and Mrs. Breen were in Centre Hall on Monday, traveling by auto, and the former looked up Postmaster R. M. Smith, whom he associated with in his boyhood days. Forty-five years is a long span in life, yet Mr. Smith was able to recognize his friend because of the latter's faithful resemblance to his father.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Spayd spent a few days last week making a tour to Harrisburg, Reading, Allentown and Bethlehem. At the latter place Rev. Zwingli Yearick was paid a brief visit, and at Allentown they stopped at the Phoebe Home for Women and called on Miss Eliza Moore and Mrs. Susan Geary, both of whom were found in good spirits and their wants well provided for in the Reformed church institution. The Allentown fair was given the once over and found to be much like other fairs of their kind. The corn fields through the eastern part of the State were very much the same appearance as about here, but there were evidence that copious rains had fallen there, recently while here the drought continues.

Smut Reduces Wheat Crop Profits

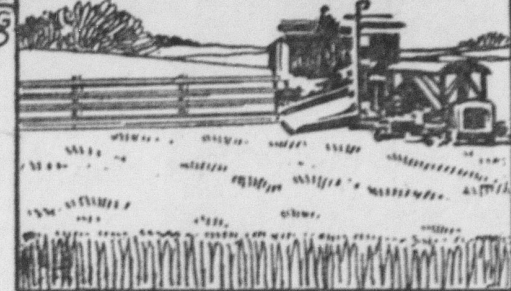

BESIDES CONTROLLING STINKING SMUT, CERESAN INCREASES YIELD 6.9 BU. PER ACRE FOR ONE LARGE GROWER.

THE wide-spread campaign to enlist growers in a real battle against wheat smut, that fetid-smelling fungus which has been taking an annual toll of something over 10 per cent in the producing sections of the country, appears to be making real headway. Facts about the danger of stinking smut and methods for controlling it have been widely spread by use of farmers' demonstration trains, county agents, state agricultural colleges, and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Losses in crop profit through reduced yield, increased production costs, and dockage for smut sometimes running as much as 20 cents a bushel, can be prevented, and, because of the tendency of the smut spores to be spread from one farm to another by threshing machines, growers in many wheat-producing sections are now cooperating in a real move to obliterate smut losses.

In the first six months' shipments of last year's Kansas wheat crop, one out of every eight cars was graded as smutty by the U. S. inspectors. Kansas farmers lost at least $1,183,000. dockage on these shipments, and this is only a small loss compared with the loss through reduction of yield which may run anywhere from a few per cent to as high as 50%. Assuming an average reduction in yield of 15%, which is not uncommon, and including dockage, the Kansas farmers lost $3,570,720. on these shipments from smut.

Extensive research and experiment by state and U. S. experiment stations, have proved the dust treatment of seed grains to be a profitable and sound agricultural practice. Reports from 22 county agents in 13 states show satisfactory control of wheat smut through dusting of seed with an ethyl mercury chloride dust. Ceresan is the name by which this chemical compound is best known. This new dust treatment is deadly to the smut spores and harmless to germination. It also prevents losses from seed-borne flag smut and seedling blight caused by seed-borne scab.

Farmers Bulletin No. 1566 reports, "Seedling blight can be controlled by proper selection of vareties and treatment of seed. After being cleaned, the seed grain should be treated with an efficient mercury dust at the rate of 2 ounces per bushel for wheat and rye, and 3 ounces per bushel for barley and oats to control the seedling blight. Ceresan and Hochst control both of these diseases and materially reduce smut infections as well.

The fact that one big grower produced 6.9 more bushels of smut-free wheat per acre last year after Ceresan treatment of his seed than he obtained from his untreated seed, is evidence of what may be frequently expected by following the practice of treating seed
