DEMOCRATS PLEDGE AID IN CONGRESS

Leaders. Promise. Cooperation. With President, and Republican Members of House and Senate in All Measures Tending to Restoration of Prosperity and Welfare of the Country.

Into the confused congressional situation brought about by the near deadlock of election results, seven Democratic leaders had thrown a pledge of non-obstruction.

The executive heads of the party and three former Democratic presidential nominees Friday night issued a statement claiming dominance of the legislative branch of government, but asserting the party would place the welfare of the country and the restoration of prosperity ahead of political advantage and the desire to show power.

Ignoring the latest compilation of results which gave the Republicans the narrowest of majorities in both senate and house, they said the Democrats, to the extent of their ability, would steer legislation in the next congress.

"The seventy-second congress will not be an obstructive body," they said. "It will not seek to embarrass the President of the United States, but will be glad to cooperate with him and with members of the opposite party in the house and senate in every measure that conduces to the welfare of the country.

"There will be no holding up of necessary appropriations, no rejection of fit appointees to important places merely because these appointments are made by a President of the opposite party."

Their statement came on the heels of the only expression President Hoover has permitted in regard to the election. It is a single sentence.

"The job for the country now is to concentrate on measures of co-operation for economic recovery."

This, he made clear, was the only answer to numerous written questions which had been submitted to him by newspaper correspondents in connection with the election.

The Democratic pledge bore the signatures of James M. Cox, John W. Davis, and Alfred E. Smith, the last three presidential candidates of the party; Senator Joe T. Robinson and Representative John H. Garner, the party leader in congress, and John J. Easock and Jonett Shouse, the executive heads of the Democratic national committee.

"No rash policies," and no general revision of the tariff, they promised, would be part of the Democratic program. They did not abandon criticism of the tariff, however, referring in a qualification to "whatever changes may be considered necessary to rid the present act of its outstanding enormities."

Subject to recounts the final returns of the election show:

The house—Republican, 218; Democrats, 216; Farmer-Labor, 1.

The senate—Republican, 48; Democrats, 47; Farmer-Labor, 1.

DEATHS.

KING—Mrs. Amelia P. King, who had been in delicate health for a year or more, died at her home here on Monday evening, at 6:10 o'clock. She was cared for during her last days by a niece, Mrs. S. W. Kerstetter, of Curwensville. Interment will take place this (Thursday) afternoon. Services will be held at the home at 2:00 o'clock, and interment at Milroy by the side of her husband, John G. King, who died about thirteen years ago. Her pastor, a Baptist minister of Milesburg, will be in charge of the funeral services.

Mr. and Mrs. King located in Centre Hall more than twenty-five years ago, coming here from Grafton, West Virginia.

The deceased was a daughter of Rev. George W. and Lydia (Hildebrand) English. She was the last survivor of that family. There are no children but these nephews and nieces survive her: Wm. M. Furey, Mrs. C. W. Wunder, of Pittsburgh; George E. Furey, Bellefonte; Mrs. Hiram Lee, State College; Mrs. S. W. Kerstetter, Curwensville; George W. English, Seattle, Wash.; George and Harry English, N. Y.; Mrs. Hugh Jarvis, New Rochelle, N. Y.

The age of the deceased was 85 years, 3 months and 11 days.

RILEY.—Calvin Riley passed away at the home of his nephew, Edward Riley, in Boalsburg, on Sunday evening, death having been due largely to his advanced age, which was 86 years, 4 months. Interment took place on Wednesday in the Boalsburg cemetery, of which cemetery he was care taker for a number of years. Services were conducted by Rev. W. J. Wagner.

The deceased was a son of Daniel and Sarah (McCormick) Riley, and was a resident of Boalsburg for many years. He was never married, and is the last survivor of his generation. He was a hunter of note and the founder of the Riley hunting club, which organization was long recognized as the most successful among the numerous similar clubs in Harris township.

RIMMEY.—June Wagner Rimey, third child of Mr. and Mrs. C. Gibson Rimey, died on Friday from bronchopneumonia, at the Rimey farm home south of Centre Hall. Funeral services were held Monday and interment made at Tusseyville. Rev. D. R. Keener of the Reformed church officiated. The child was aged 5 years, 3 months and twenty-six days. Besides the sorrowing parents there survive the following brothers and sisters: Lois, Robert, David and Harold Gilbert.

SAUNDERS.—Mrs. Catharine Elizabeth Saunders died in Centre Hall, November 5th, at the home of Mrs. William Floray, where she lived. Interment was made in the cemetery here, Rev. D. R. Keener, pastor of the Reformed church, officiating at all the services.

Mrs. Saunders was the widow of John Saunders. She was the daughter of Henry and Priscilla (Durst) Dale, and was reared in Centre Hall where she lived most of her life. She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Raymond J. Miller, of State College.

The cause of death was testinal nephritis. She was aged 71 years, 1 month and 23 days.

MILLER.—Lloyd C. Miller, aged some fifty years, died Saturday evening on his farm at Madisonburg, which farm was tenanted by his son. He suffered from ulcers of the stomach and was seriously ill for only a few days.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Prof. Roy S. Jamison shot a grey squirrel, on Tuesday, which measured 23 1/2 inches from tip to tip.

Since returning from the Lewistown hospital, last week, George O. Benner is continuing to improve from the effects of an operation for hernia.

Merchant C. F. Emery killed three of the six hogs he is fattening, and their respective weights were 373, 352 and 319 pounds. The remaining three weigh about the same. The shoats were purchased last spring and averaged in weight about 140 pounds.

Hunt Meyer, of Pleasant Gap, while assisting in operating an electric hoist at White Rock stone quarry, had the thumb torn from the right hand. He was wearing gloves and a knot in the steel cable caught the glove and pulled the hand into the machinery with the result noted.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bauer and small son, of Huntingdon, were over Sunday guests of Mrs. Bauer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bradford, in town. Mr. Bauer, who is connected with the Reform School at Huntingdon, reports the population of the institution fluctuating, but gradually increasing.

While Andrew Mark, accompanied by Miss Verna Emerick, was driving his Chevrolet coupe east on Route No. 45, at about Zubler's farm, Saturday evening, a car driven by Mrs. Wingart, of near Paradise church, overtook him and in passing caught the fender, upsetting the coupe. The occupants were but slightly injured, but got a thrill not previously experienced.

Mrs. D. Milton Bradford was taken to the Gelsinger Memorial hospital on Sunday for treatment. Wednesday morning Mr. Bradford received notice that she was in a very serious condition and that probably a serious operation would have to resorted to immediately. Mr. Bradford left for the hospital at once, but up to this writing no report had been received by the family.

POMONA GRANGE MEETING HELD AT BOALSBURG

Centre County Pomona Grange No. 13, met at Boalsburg with Victor Grange No. 159, on Saturday, last.

This was the first time Pomona was held at Boalsburg. Until last spring when Victor Grange bought and moved into the Malta Hall there was no Grange at Boalsburg.

Victor Grange having been organized in a small building situated near Oak Hall, which they occupied until a few years ago, a stone quarry was opened near the little Grange hall, making it unsafe for them to meet there, they moved to Lemont, renting the I. O. O. F. rooms. Last spring, hearing of the Malta hall at Boalsburg being for sale, they purchased it and moved in. The citizens of that town can be very proud to have so great an organization as the Grange in their midst, and it is hoped many members will be gained, and much good result.

In the absence of the Pomona Master, J. Gross Shook, of Spring Mills, J. S. Dale, of State College, occupied the chair. The Grange opened in due form. The visiting Patrons were welcomed by L. K. Dale, of Victor Grange, and responded to by D. K. Keller, of Progress Grange, Centre Hall. Reports were given by the members of the Grange Encampment and Fair committee. The secretary read a very good report, which was accepted.

A large amount of business was transacted by the fair committee last year, and about seven thousand dollars were spent in improvements on the Park—new tents and flys purchased, new light line built, new fence erected, and other improvements made.

The treasurer's report was also read and accepted. Discussion on a golf course to be built on the Grange Park grounds occupied a great amount of time. At the noon hour the hostess Grange served dinner.

The afternoon session opened by singing. The discussion on the golf course continued, and the matter was disposed of by the proposition being rejected.

The credentials committee secured twelve names of candidates for the Fifth Degree. They were tallied on and given the obligation until Dec. 2, when a special meeting will be held at Boalsburg for the purpose of conferring the Fifth Degree in full form. The candidates are: Mrs. Ella Glehn, Victor Grange; Ray Ishler, Logan Grange; Howard Miles, Union Grange; J. V. Brungart, Rebersburg Grange, and V. A. Auman, Progress Grange.

A discussion on fire insurance and the re-election of one auditor followed. A rising vote of thanks was given Victor Grange for their hospitality, and they were commended on their splendid new hall.

In the absence of the Worthy Lecturer, there was no program, but Mrs. Book, wife of the State Overseer, made a few remarks.

The five telephone directors whose terms expired were re-elected. The next meeting will be held with Progress Grange, Centre Hall, in January, 1931.

Six Foreign Countries Receive Red Cross Aid

Relief was given by the American Red Cross during the year in six foreign nations in disasters ranging from a tidal wave in Newfoundland, an earthquake in Persia, floods in France, to help the refugees from Russia and prevention of a smallpox epidemic in Costa Rica.

The $5,000 Red Cross contribution to Newfoundland, following the tidal wave, which took twenty-six lives and destroyed many homes and fishing boats, was the first from an outside country to reach the distressed people.

The sum of $5,000 was given to the fund for the relief of the Mennonite refugees of German descent, who had determined to leave Russia for new lands. About 13,000 passed through Germany, where the German Red Cross, aided by Red Cross societies of other nations, helped them. The majority are being transported to new countries in the western world and the American Red Cross has transmitted contributions from individuals in this country. When Costa Rica was menaced by a smallpox epidemic, the American Red Cross sent fifty thousand tubes of vaccine, in two airplane loads, undoubtedly saving the country from a serious outbreak of the dread disease.

Saving Mothers and Babies Is Important Red Cross Task

Saving mothers' lives and better babies were important features during the past year of the Public Health Nursing Service of the American Red Cross. About four-fifths of the 794 nurses in the Red Cross work made more than 100,000 prenatal and maternity visits, in addition to assisting doctors in the examination of 1,309,409 school children.

Statistics reveal that the lives of two out of three American women who die in maternity cases could be saved if they received proper medical and nursing care. As more than 15,000 women die in the United States each year from various diseases of the maternal state, this means that more than 10,000 of these deaths are preventable.

Life Savors Numerous. More than a quarter of a million persons are entitled to wear the American Red Cross insignia, denoting they have been taught the expert life saving methods of the organization. The number enrolled to date is 273,202. Comfort Kits Sent 40,000 Service Men by Red Cross. Gay patterned cretonne bags, or comfort kits, containing articles useful and amusing, are sent by the Red Cross to 40,000 soldiers, sailors and Marines, on foreign service, as Christmas remembrances.
