

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST.

Mrs. Ada Butz is at the Lutheran parsonage at the present time.

Mrs. George Grenoble, of Lock Haven, was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank White, east of town.

W. F. Rockey, the butter and egg man at Tusseyville, on Monday made a trip to Wilkesbarre to interview delinquent customers.

William F. Lingle, of Sunbury, accompanied the body of Malvin Shunk to Centre Hall on Tuesday, interment being made in the local cemetery.

Farmer Fred Slack and Thomas Crahan, a dealer in salt, each killed two ringneck pheasants. One of the birds killed by the former was an unusually large one and beautiful in plumage.

George W. Zeigler, a Phillipsburg attorney, after practicing his profession in that place for forty years, will retire on December first. He will be succeeded by Belle and Silberblatt, of Clearfield.

Mrs. Herman and Mrs. Lizzie Chatham, of Lock Haven, were among the Lock Haven Ladies' Temple, L. G. E. to be entertained by the local Temple here, and remained over-night guests of Mrs. Jacob Sharer.

Since she underwent a very serious operation at the Geisinger hospital at Danville, Mrs. D. M. Bradford has very much improved. Her family and friends are very hopeful of a speedy and complete recovery.

The chicken supper given by the Ladies' Aid society of the Sprucetown M. E. church, Saturday evening, was a grand success. The members of the society take this means of thanking those who gave their patronage.

Miss Bertha Sharer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Sharer, is regularly employed in the Shaffer store here. She is a graduate of an Altoona commercial school and is well prepared for the position she holds.

Mrs. Dollie Brungart is back to her home here after having been with her daughters in the western part of the State for several weeks. The home ties are so strong here that, it appears, no substitutions can be made.

Mrs. Alvin Zelleck of State College, became a Centre County Hospital patient last week. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Palmer, of Potters Mills, and a sister of Mrs. Clyde Walker and Mrs. Franklin Sharer, in town.

"Trinity News," a parish paper published by members of Trinity Reformed church, Wilkesburg. Rev. R. E. Corman, pastor, reached the Reporter desk Monday. It is a live sheet and is devoted to parish news and religious articles.

Farmer Frank White has been a luck hunter to date. Last week he was reported in these columns as having shot a large wild turkey, and now he comes in for mention for having killed a fox with a super-fine fur. The fox was killed after but a half hour's hunt.

Arthur Thoman was at the E. H. Grove home from Saturday until Tuesday, when he returned to Ford City. He is employed by the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company, in the machine shops located at Ford City. The plant is running full time, with day and night shifts.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kustenborger, of Lemont; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Tibbins and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Tate, of Bellefonte, were callers on Mrs. Sarah C. Smith at the Kirkpatrick home this week. Mrs. Smith has been ill for a few days but we are glad to report that she is better at this time.

Mrs. Florence Rhone Bayard, of Tyrone, came to Centre Hall the middle of last week to be with friends for a few days. At their request, she gave accounts of the European trip taken by her and her sister, Mrs. Mae Rhone Dunlap, of Reading, stressing the scenes in the Passion Play, Oberammergau.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Person have been at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. Margaret Strohm, since Sunday and will remain until the end of the week. The couple are now located in Brooklyn, where Mr. Person holds a responsible position in the Pennsy service in Flatbush Avenue station. The traff over the suburban lines continues to be heavy, taxing the more than 450 daily electric trains.

W. P. Breen and son Walter Breen, of near Millheim, were business visitors here on Monday. Mr. Breen announces public sale of farm stock, implements and household goods for March 15th. He lives on the Dr. Frank farm, where he has been for ten years, excepting a year's intermission. Mr. Breen devoted a total of thirty-two years to farming, and thinks it time for him to retire. He has not decided as yet where he will live after the sale.

The Lemont Presbyterians are holding an Evangelistic service. This is the second week. The attendance has been good. Last week the services were in charge of the regular pastor. This week the Rev. L. V. Barber, of Benton, is the speaker. The Rev. Barber was the pastor of the Lemont church ten years ago. Mrs. Barber is a daughter of the Lemont church and the members are very happy to have her husband here during this evangelistic campaign.

Mrs. Ralph Dinges brought to this office a sample of Stayman-Winesap apples grown by her brother, Clarence W. Musser, at Chambersburg. The orchard contains 35 acres and is producing various varieties of apples topping the market. Seven car loads of fruit have already been shipped to London, the larger portion of them being 3-inch Stayman-Winesaps. Mr. Musser, by the way, has signed up with the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for a three-year period service in Russia, and will have in charge a class of work supervised by him for some years in the Altoona shops, where he has long been employed.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Miss Mary Shuey, of Bellefonte, was a week-end guest at the home of Mrs. Della Reiber.

Mrs. Gregg Carper, of Coburn, was a guest over Sunday of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Sharer, in town.

TELEPHONES 5,300 MILES FOR NEWSPAPER INTERVIEW

A new long distance telephone record for newspaper interviewing was created recently when a reporter in New York talked several minutes with General Uriburu, Provisional President of the Argentine Republic, at Buenos Aires. The distance between the two points is approximately 5,300 miles.

Several New York newspapers and press associations utilized radio-telephone service to obtain information on the Argentine revolution when South American authorities began to censor cable dispatches.

Bell Scientists Have "Weather Factories"

"Weather factories," ranging in size from large cork-insulated rooms to small, portable devices, each with equipment for the control of heat and moisture, are used by the Bell Telephone Laboratories, Inc., for the purpose of testing apparatus used in the Bell System.

In some of the rooms, atmospheric conditions that run the gamut from moist, tropical heat to crisp, arctic cold are produced. Sudden changes in temperature can be brought about and desired conditions maintained over long periods.

Contrast—

IT IS logical that any group of business concerns or associations adopt systems that are much similar.

IT IS only by comparison that we are able to classify differences.

A MARK of distinction is expressed by the completeness of the system and service of this institution, which implies that the many little things that go to complete transactions, are never overlooked.

TWO LOCAL HUNTERS SHOOT WILD TURKEYS

Luke Jordan, a senior in the Centre Hall High school, shot a wild turkey in the Seven Mountains, one day last week.

William Lucas was fortunate in killing a wild turkey in the Bald Eagle Ridge, close to the end of the season. The bird furnished the meat at a banquet given to a number of his friends.

THE heating system of a rural church froze during an exceptional cold snap. The damage was not discovered until the night before an important service. Arrangements quickly were made for the use of a local schoolhouse and, by telephoning members of the congregation scattered over a wide farming area, the minister secured a record gathering the next day.
