FIRST TRAGEDY ON NEW ROAD IN DEATH OF JOHN TAYLOR

To Escape One Car Well Known Farmer Leaps Into Path of Another Passing Machine—Dies Soon After With Fractured Skull.

John W. Taylor, 66, was almost instantly killed upon the new concrete State highway in front of his home, near Reedsville last Wednesday evening, 6 o'clock, when he ran against an automobile driven by Sellers Zong, of near Milroy, while going toward Milroy. Mr. Taylor was crossing the road from his dwelling house to his barn, the two buildings being located upon opposite sides of the highway. He guided his footsteps to avoid being hit by an automobile going westwardly on the road toward Reedsville, and did not see the car of Mr. Zong coming from the other direction. In the confusion he sprang forward and Mr. Zong steered his automobile toward the side of the road to avoid hitting the pedestrian. The rear left side of the car struck Mr. Taylor and threw him a distance of about eight feet and the automobile stopped and lodged against an embankment of the unfinished highway, about one-half mile east of Reedsville. A tire of the car was blown out and the left rear glass side of the window of the automobile was broken.

The skull of Mr. Taylor was fractured. Dr. Stambaugh was summoned quickly but the patient had died before the physician arrived upon the scene.

In the car with Mr. Zong was H. W. Houser of Milroy. After remaining a few minutes at the scene of the accident, which was purely accidental, relatives of the deceased declared, Mr. Zong disappeared and the State highway patrolmen were unable to find him Wednesday night. Early the following morning Mr. Zong voluntarily appeared at the headquarters of the State patrolmen and presented a complete report of the accident. He stated that he became dazed after he witnessed the tragic results of the collision of his car with the pedestrian.

Mr. Taylor was the son of Matthew and Elizabeth (Taylor) Taylor, Reedsville, both deceased. He was a nephew of the late General John P. Taylor, of Reedsville. He leaves one brother and one sister: Williamson B. Taylor and Mrs. James Taylor, both of near Reedsville.

PINCHOT PLURALITY 60,029.

Count Almost Completed.—Hemphill Rolls Up Largest Vote Ever Given Democrat for Governor, But 56,61 Below Smith's for President.

Complete official count of the vote in all of the counties of the State outside of Philadelphia, together with almost complete figures for that city, gave Gifford Pinchot a lead of 60,029 votes over John M. Hemphill. Figures for the total State show that Hemphill polled nearly twice as many votes as any other Democratic candidate for Governor. His State total of votes was 1,098,905. The previous heaviest Democratic vote for a Governor was rolled up in 1922 by John A. McSparran, who polled 581,625 votes in his vain battle with Pinchot.

Hemphill's vote, indeed, was 56,681 below the record Democratic vote of all time in this State, which was cast for Alfred E. Smith as President in 1928. Smith then received a total of 1,067,586 votes.

Pinchot came to Philadelphia with a plurality of 304,321 votes over the Democrat Liberal candidate, according to official computation of the State Election Bureau. His total for the State was 1,068,934.

Almost complete official count of the Philadelphia vote gives Hemphill a majority of 244,292 within Philadelphia county. This cuts Pinchot's State lead to 60,029.

Pinchot's official vote in the 66 counties outside Philadelphia was 957,644, made up of 828,230 Republican votes, 29,126 Prohibition votes and 288 cast for him by writing his name on the ballot as an independent.

Hemphill's vote in the 66 counties was 653,323 comprising 513,305 cast by Democrats, 139,761 by Liberals and 257 by independents.
