Junior Class Play—

The Junior class will present a three-act play entitled "Getting Acquainted with Madge" at the Spring Mills Grange hall, Friday evening, December 12, at 8:00 o'clock.

The comedy promises to be unusually amusing. Two pretty girls, a lost letter, good looking students, a violent storm, an accidental meeting, and there you have the making of a comic situation of increasing rapidity and fun. The letter was written to Jerry; the boys find it, decide that Jerry loves Madge and decide to cut him out. They hatch an outrageous plot to scrape acquaintance with Madge; they meet Madge; they also meet Jerry. They become entangled in some very laughable and humiliating disaster from which they extricate themselves and are forgiven. The curtain is rung down with a happy ending and with much laughter. It is a play you will enjoy and must see to fully appreciate the many laughable and peculiar situations that rise. Tickets may be purchased from any High school student and at the Grange hall Friday night. All fifteen members of the class of 1932 are found among the characters. Music will be furnished by the school orchestra. The following are members taking part in the play: Nevin Shook, Kenneth Johnson, Steil and Beightol, Russell Mark, Nevin Keller, Delbert Barger, Lewis Igen, Eugene Zerby, Ellis Rearick, Gwendolyn Knoff, Josephine Stover, Talitha Rearick, Gladys Rishel, Mildred Foust, and Kathryn Mersinger.

Cold winds, barring actual illness, largely have themselves to blame. Instead of pushing the indoor heat up to an unhealthy degree, they should assume a more friendly attitude toward themselves and thus develop more heat within their own bodies. Having done so, Old Man Winter, instead of being viewed as an enemy to comfort, will be considered in his true light: as one capable of being immensely enjoyed and as a real boon to health and life.
