

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST.

The "Food Class" will meet at the Centre Hall hotel, Wednesday, 31st inst., 10:00 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Fisher on Sunday, drove to Williamsburg where they will be with their daughter, Mrs. Roy Corman, and husband, Rev. Corman, over the Christmas season.

Levi Hartley, section foreman on the local branch railroad, has a record of seventeen years' service with the P. R. R. in the capacity of section foreman without having missed a day of work. Quite a good record, indeed.

H. F. Musser, for many years a Potter township auditor, has placed the "copy" for the Auditors' Statement for the year 1930 in the printer's hands. The statement will appear in our first issue in the new year.

Miss Hazel Burkholder, one of the teachers in the grade schools in the borough, has not been able to teach during the present week on account of illness. Her condition on Tuesday was reported improved.

Bidding lacked spirit at the sale of farm stock, implements, etc., on Saturday, by J. D. Homan, east of the borough line. Everything offered was sold, but in some instances the price was much in favor of the buyer.

Miss Genevieve and Donald Ruble, children of Mrs. Sallie Ruble, on Wednesday left Centre Hall for Chicago where they will be guests of their sisters, Mrs. Jean Dumas and Miss Gertrude Ruble, during the holiday season.

Charles S. Smith, tenant on one of the McCool farms south of town, who at one time had thought of discontinuing farming, is now debating the advisability of it. He may decide to take up farming in another section of this county.

Guests at the home of Mrs. Sallie Ruble in town, during the recent past were W. F. Hoy, of Geneva, Ohio, a brother; also her children, Miss Catherine of Sparks, Maryland; Miss Stella, of Hollidaysburg; and Franklin and his wife, of Altoona.

About three inches of snow fell throughout Friday evening and night. Snow plows removed the snow from State highways. The mountain sections of the highways became slippery and resulted in a number of minor accidents on Seven Mountains.

A coming musical artist among the younger set of school girls is Miss Sarah Odenkirk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Odenkirk. The execution of a duet with Mrs. J. F. Wetzel at the Reformed church Sunday evening is responsible for the first expression in this item.

Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Dorman, of Yeagertown, were in town on Saturday, having made a business trip to Bellefonte and to their farm at Pottery Mills. Mrs. Dorman will be recalled by many when it is stated she is the only daughter of the late Frank Royer.

William R. Neff is reported to have suffered a rheumatic attack in the right arm and leg, on Saturday. His condition was not considered at all serious, and he has since been recovering. His greatest handicap is experienced when attempting to perform clerical work. Mr. Neff is the Potter township assessor.

Harry Cummings, farmer west of town, was able to raise a flock of twenty or more turkeys which were kept for the Christmas season, but they narrowly escaped being hanged by thieves one night shortly before the sale of them. Thieves had entered the premises, but evidently were disturbed before they accomplished their purpose.

D. K. Geiss, who is living with his daughters, Miss Elsie Geiss and Mrs. Virginia Miller, in Philadelphia, is confined to bed. During the latter part of November Mr. Geiss fell while in his room and in some manner injured his left leg and left arm so that they became helpless. He is recovering from these injuries, but recently became afflicted with a cold which settled in the bronchial tubes.

The Chemical Lime company at Bellefonte has started work on the erection of two large concrete and steel bunkers for the storage of agricultural lime. Each bunker will be 80 feet high and 30 feet in diameter. They will have a capacity of over five thousand bushels and will enable the company to manufacture lime during the winter and store it against the large demand in the spring.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Strohmeyer and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Homan and daughter Mildred, of town, recently drove to Ardmore where Mr. Strohmeyer and Mr. Homan set up a monument over the grave of the late J. Wilmer Wolf. The monument had been previously shipped to Ardmore direct from a New England quarry. Before returning home they all visited among friends in Philadelphia as well as in Ardmore.

Last week mention was made that an Arkansas lady was prevented in making her appearance here on account of the illness of a son. On Saturday, however, a week later, she fulfilled her engagement when she arrived by train in Bellefonte and was brought to Centre Hall and later to Brush Valley by William H. Breon, accompanied by Charles A. Weaver, the gentleman most interested. Since that time the lady, said to be Jennie Sladin, has been at the Weaver home.

Harry Neff, who has been a man "about the place" on Susquehanna Farm, a resort of note near Brackeney, Susquehanna county, will be at the parental home at Centre Hall today for a few days longer. He is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Neff. Another son who aims to be at the Neff home at about this time is Hoy Neff, of Pittsburgh. He has been employed for some time by the Elliott-Fisher company, who install and keep in condition office equipment. Mr. Neff is a repairman. The company formerly had its headquarters in Harrisburg, but later transferred the main office to New York City.

We would wish you happy Christmas
If we could but grasp your hand,
And a bright successful New Year,
But we know you understand,
So receive these words of greeting
As a grip of friendship true,
And accept our hearty wishes
For a glad New Year to you!
