FARM CALENDAR

TIMELY REMINDERS FROM PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE

Order: Garden Seeds—The best strains of vegetable seeds are the first to be sold by seedmen. Early orders get the best seed. Good seed must be clean, viable, disease-free and true to a good name. Such seed cannot be produced cheaply.

Quality Chicks Best—Quality chicks from flocks of high the most profitable birds. Records average egg production develop into show that high producing birds lay eggs at a lower cost per dozen and make a higher net profit than low producers.

Take Care of Tractor—One hour out of every ten that the tractor is used should be devoted to keeping the machine in good condition.

Grow Emergency Hays—Farmers needing emergency hays this year can cut wheat, rye, oats, sweet clover, soybeans, Suda grass, or millets. Your county agent will tell you how to handle these crops for hay.

Keep Diseases Down—When plants "run out" blame it on some virus disease. You control such diseases by roguing and by planting.
