

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

George W. Rowe, of Boalsburg, is helping P. H. Luse prepare his live stock for sale, March 19th.

An evening of Easter music will be given Easter Sunday evening, April 5th, in the local Reformed church.

Mrs. Charles E. and small son Martin, of Colyer, were in town on Wednesday morning on a bit of business.

Elmer Bron, of Bellefonte, one of the several Democratic candidates for sheriff, was in town on Monday in the interest of his candidacy.

The dues social held annually by the local W. C. T. U. will be held Friday evening, 13th inst. The county president, Mrs. Boyles, will be present.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fortney, of Boalsburg, were guests on Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Lee, in town. Mrs. Fortney is a niece of Mr. Lee.

Jerry Smith, west of town, who had been ill for several weeks, has so far recovered his health that he is able to be out of doors but is not back to work.

Mrs. Ray D. Gilliland, of State College, has been confined to bed for a week or more. Before marriage she was Miss Margaret Stuart, and is well known here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Garbrick, of Bedford, were in town on Tuesday, having come to attend the funeral of the former's uncle, Samuel Long, at Farmers Mills, on Tuesday.

Mrs. Fred Bender, of town, spent a few days with her father, Robert Dehl, at Rebersburg, who is seriously ill from the effects of a light paralytic stroke.

The graded portion of the Potters Mills-Tusseyville State road was rounded up last week with a scraper. In open weather that section is almost impassable.

February weather had little regard for the ground hog's prediction. The month finished out with a full week of most beautiful weather—every day bright and clear.

Miss Stella Hosterman, accompanied by her half-brothers and sisters, of town, attended the funeral of Mrs. Rachael Hosterman, her grandmother, at Colburn, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Rice, and two sons, of State College, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Kerin. Mr. Rice has long been a State College post office employe.

A number of flocks of wild geese flew northwest over the valley during last week. The migratory birds have been flying to their breeding places in small numbers for a month or more.

The $110,000 bonds issued by the State College school district, awarded to A. B. Leach & Co., Philadelphia, one of five bidders, at a premium of $4,708, or a total of $114,708. The next best bid was but $34.00 less than the one accepted.

The Central Pennsylvania Conference of the Evangelical church will meet today (Thursday) at Carlisle. Maynard Barger is the delegate who is expected to accompany Rev. W. E. Smith. Bishop M. T. Mayes will be the presiding officer.

W. A. Wagner, of Juniata, was in town on Monday, and from here went to Tusseyville to visit his sisters, Mrs. M. F. Rossman and Mrs. William Bitner. Mrs. Wagner stopped off at State College to visit friends and relatives.

Dayton Lansberry's meat house went up in smoke a short time ago, and the result is the loss of a year's meat supply for the Lansberry family and helpers. Mr. Lansberry is tenant on the Speicher farm, west of Old Fort, owned by Boyd Speicher, of Pleasant Gap.

There is more or less sickness among children in town at this time. Three of these are Ruth Spiker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Spiker; Edwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Crawford; and Roland, son of Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Morrow. All are recovering at this time.

Chester A. Spiker, who has been working for the State Highway Department on various kinds of road work in Centre county for a year or more, has been named care taker of the State road leading east from Centre Hall, known officially as Route No. 95.

Lewis, the small son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy R. Brooks, west of town, continues to improve at the University Hospital, Philadelphia. A letter containing information was received by the parents a few days ago, and more of the youth is said to be contented with his surroundings.

Burnham park, including the swimming pool, was sold to Arthur Jarvis, of New York, who expects to improve the place before opening it next season. The park was the property of the Lewistown and Redsville Electric Railway company and was operated by J. I. Quigley.

The Evangelical Conference of Eastern Pennsylvania, in session in Sunbury last week, voted 135 to 29 in favor of making a pastor's stay at any one charge indefinite. It is now seven years before the rule becomes effective all the other conferences must also approve it.

The county commissioners will sit in the First National Bank, Centre Hall, on forenoon of Wednesday, 11th inst., to hold appeals for the triennial assessment for taxpayers in Centre Hall borough, Potter and Harris townships; at Spring Mills on the afternoon of the same day, and at Millheim on the 12th.

The contract for the excavation and filling of the new Pennsylvania railroad yard at Bellefonte was let to the Andrews Construction Company of Tyndora, bid not known. It is not known when the workmen will commence with the project but is understood it will only be a short time before the excavations will begin.

THE NEW WELL.

Preparations are under way to harness the 256-foot well and make it give to us an additional supply of water. The foundation for the Cook deep-well pump and motor was built last week and as soon as the pump arrives it will be installed. Four-inch pipe to carry the water from the pump to the reservoir, a distance of several hundred feet, have also been delivered at the extreme high point.

At the direction of the State Department a sample of the water in the well was taken and sent to Penn State College for analysis. Up to Wednesday no report was made.

Grange Fair Committee Meeting.

The committee in charge of the Grange Encampment and Centre County Fair will meet at the home of A. H. Spayd, Centre Hall, on Friday evening, March 6th, at 7:30 o'clock. Reorganization of the committee and making plans for the coming season will be the order of business.

Jacob Sharer and A. H. Spayd from Progress Grange, whose terms expired were re-elected at a recent meeting of Pomona Grange for a term of three years. John S. Dale and Prof. T. I. Mairs, representing respectively Penn State and Washington granges, were also re-elected for terms of three years at the same meeting.

A new member of the board will be Joseph K. Alexander, of Flemings, recently elected to succeed Elmer Hosband.

Burned Cabin for Insurance.

Confessing to State Police that they built a cabin on Jacks Mountain on the farm of Thomas McKee in Ferguson Valley, insured it heavily and then set fire to it to collect the insurance, three Yeagertown men, Brown Walters, Curtis Walters and Ray Price, are in the Mifflin county jail awaiting a hearing on a charge of arson.

Heartiest Congratulations to Calvin S. Bodtort.

Time, in its onward flight into the great unknown, has but recently brought you to the 79th marker on life's seemingly short road, and we who have been permitted to enjoy the inestimable blessing of your fatherly love and care, together with your well-chosen words of timely counsel, feel that it would be perfectly in keeping to unhesitatingly add to our congratulations, our expressions of the profound respect and admiration we cherish for the worthwhile aspirations arising from your long associations with Him whose wondrous love has sustained you throughout the changing scenes of all these years, all of which makes it possible for us to rejoice that we are bid with the companionship of a father whose wonderful life clearly reflects a type of Christian manhood which has not only endeared him to his family but also to a host of friends throughout Penna Valley wherein he has resided for over 75 years, during which time he has taken an active part in community affairs and watched with unabated interest, the development of Penna Valley interests from the pioneer stage up to its present state of modern efficiency.

This happy event was not only marked with a goodly supply of very useful gifts, but was also made attractively appealing by the serving of a bounteous repast to which the following did ample justice:

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Bodtort, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ramer and son Charles, Jr., of Tusseyville; Mr. and Mrs. Blain Palmer and daughter Shirley, of Potters Mills; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Brock, Mrs. Boyd Jordan and son, Boyd, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. John Bodtort, of Jersey Shore.

In conclusion, we hope— Father, dear, that the light of heaven may continue to glow Over your pathway as the days come and go.

For you are a wonderful father and friend, Truly deserving of the richest blessings God can send.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Bodtort, Jersey Shore, Pa.

RICHELIEU THEATRE ATTRACTIONS.

Mr. and Mrs. Haddock have stepped from the pages of Donald Ogden Stewart's art's hilarious novel, and are now to be seen on the screen, living and convulsing adventures of their trip to Paris, in Paramount's super-comedy, "Finn and Hattie," playing at the Richelieu Theatre, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"Finn and Hattie," is a new department, in talking picture comedy. In addition to the sparkling dialog injected into the novel by Stewart, Hollywood's fun writers were assembled to add new humor to the situations, and a stellar cast portrays the characters.

Leon Errol, the "rubber-kneed" comedian who helped Ziegfeld to fame for many seasons before creating a furor in talking pictures with his work in "Only Saps Work," is Mr. Haddock to the life. ZaSu Pitts, mournful-eyed and screamingly sad, is his wife, Mitzel (I know a secret) Green raises the rumpus as the little "Haddock" girl.

Five thousand fathoms of fun-across the sea of screams to the paroxysms of Paris. That's the hilarious journey of "Finn and Hattie" at the Richelieu theatre this week.

Next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday

Is a girl's past sin her own? Can a lover or husband demand to know the past? Will it make him happier if he is told the truth? What about the girl's heartaches?

Answers to these queries will be seen and heard in "Once a Sinner," a Fox movie production directed by Guthrie McClintic, which features Dorothy Mackall and comes to this Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Woven in this drama is the luxury, beauty, conflict and jealousy of young love capped with a climax of emotion to wring the hearts of all women as it holds the interest of all men.

MILROY H. S. BOY

IS FATALLY INJURED.

John McNitt was struck by a car driven by Burd Crownover, of Bellefonte, and fatally injured. The accident occurred Saturday night between Milroy and Mt. Pleasant, near the Wallace Esh gas station. The youth died within an hour.

The young man was walking on the side of the road with a companion when he was hit. Crownover stopped his car and took him to the Lewistown hospital where it was found his skull was fractured. He was sixteen years old and a son of Mr. and Mrs. John McNitt of Mt. Pleasant. He was a Milroy High school student and active in athletics.

Drilling for water at State College appears to have been successful. A well put down by the Kohl brothers for the State College Water company east will be made in the near future and it is predicted a flow of from four to six hundred gallons per minute will be found. The new well is located back of the Hess farm at Shingletown, south of State College.
