CENTRE HALL, PA., THURSDAY, MARCH 19, 1931.

NO. 11.

P. S. C. EMERGENCY BILL PASSES HOUSE FINALLY

Dairy Building Will Cost $500,000.—A $400,000 Home Economics Building Will Quarter All Branches Except Home Training Work.

The $940,000 College emergency building measure passed the House finally without a dissenting vote, and is now in the hands of the Senate, which body will no doubt put its O. K. on the bill as will also the Governor.

Prof. Andrew A. Borland, head of the department of animal husbandry, has released plans for the new $500,000 dairy building at Penn State, which will be made possible through the final passage of the measure.

Of brick construction conforming to present buildings in the agricultural school district, the new unit will compare favorably with the most pretentious college dairy structures now in use in the United States, the plans indicate. Contracts for the building are being withheld pending ratification of the bill for construction by the State.

The building will be placed directly in front of the dairy barns, opposite the Stock Pavilion at the intersection of East College drive and a road leading to the barns. A two-story unit for classrooms, laboratories and offices will be along the highway, with the creamery located in the rear of the main structure.

Occupying 9180 square feet of ground space, the front of the structure as now outlined will extend along East College drive 170 feet, and will be fifty-four feet wide. The creamery will be 140 feet long and 91 feet wide.

In the basement of the dairy building, runways by which cattle may be brought into the classroom for observation are provided on present plans. Facilities for short course instruction are also proposed for the ground floor. Plans for Penn State's new Home Economics building are now in the hands of the architect, according to Miss Edith P. Chase, director of the home economics department. The new structure costing $400,000, is being provided for in the $940,000 College emergency building measure before the State legislature at the present time.

According to the proposed plans, the building will be located between McAllister hall and the former Mining building which has been rejected as a possible home for the department. It will be similar in design to the Main Engineering building and will consist of a central unit with a wing at each end.

Will Legislature Adjourn?

Will the legislature adjourn—in May, or later? Those who believe adjournment will be taken in May base their prediction on the ground that after the first of May the members of the legislature will receive no more pay, except their weekly mileage allotment.

The State law provides a salary of $3000 for each member of the Senate and House for each biennial session of the legislature. This salary is paid in amounts of $200 on the first of January, February, March, April and May of the year in which the General Assembly is in session. In addition the members receive an allotment of five cents a mile for the shortest round trip railroad mileage between their homes and Harrisburg for each week in which they attend a session of the legislature. They also receive $150 as a postage allotment.

LEGISLATORS AT STATE COLLEGE THIS WEEK

The House Appropriations Committee of the State Legislature will visit the Pennsylvania State College Thursday on its biennial trip of inspection of State institutions. On Friday, night the committee are planning to return for the inter-collegiate boxing tournament which is being held at Penn State this year.

The House committee will be guests of co-eds at luncheon on Thursday, girls in home economics planning to prepare and serve luncheon in the Women's Building. In the evening the legislators will be guests at a student mass meeting preparatory to the boxing championships.

PINCHOT'S ELECTION "JOKE" DISCOVERED

Warren H. Van Dyke, of the Democratic State committee, discovered a joker in Pinchot's proposed election law that would virtually give him political control of the State. By simply inserting four words, "and one State committeewoman," rural counties would be given a majority of thirty-four in the Republican State committee, and control of each State committee would pass into the hands of political leaders in rural counties.

Section 902 of the new election code provides that the State Committee of a political party shall contain an equal number of men and women, and then it adds that:

"Each Senatorial district shall be entitled to elect one State Committeeman and one State Committeewoman, except where a Senatorial district is composed of more than one county, in which event the party electors residing in each county or part of a county embraced in the same Senatorial district shall be entitled to elect one State Committeeman and one State Committeewoman."

Under the present law the words, "and one State Committeewoman" are absent.

CHOIR FROM STATE COLLEGE GIVES PLEASING PROGRAM

The choir of Grace Lutheran church, State College, numbering about twenty-five men and women, under the able leadership of D. E. Wentzel occupied the regular hour for church services in St. Luke's Evangelical Lutheran church, in this place, Sunday afternoon, giving a delightful program of music to a large audience.

The program comprised hymns, solos, octettes and anthems, with Jay Kennedy at the piano. Solos by Miss Law and Mr. Wentzel were especially pleasing.

St. Luke's extends a cordial invitation to these singers to come again. The complete program as rendered, together with the names of those taking part, follows:

Hymn No. 78
Anthem—"Lord, Thou Hast Been Our Dwelling Place."
Prayer Pastor
Male Chorus—"Hark, Hark, My Soul."
Solo Miss Law
Anthem—"Soft as the Voice."
Remarks Pastor
Collection.
Anthem—"Dream of Paradise."
Male Chorus—"The Savior Calls."
Solo Mr. Wentzel
Anthem—"The Radiant Morn."
Crusaders Hymn Choir
Benediction.

Sopranos—Miss Law, Mrs. Eisenhuth, Mrs. Swartz, Mrs. Relsh, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Stover, Miss Erickson.
Alto—Miss Kennedy, Miss Springer, Miss Lonberger, Miss Apple, Mrs. Wentzel.

Tenors—Messrs. Walz, Reish, Miller, Springer, Detweiler, Morning.
Bass—Messrs. Seff, Reed, Myers, Yinger, Gjesdahl, Jensen, Hosterman, Wentzel.

Pianist, Jay Kennedy; director, D. E. Wentzel.

February Milk Price Reduced.

The February net pool price to be paid members of the Dairyman's League Co-operative Association, Inc., is $2 per 100 pounds for 3.5 milk at the 201-210 mile zone.

This price is eight cents below the January return, an announcement from the League says, which adds that several factors enter into the decline.

Oyster Supper.

The Ladies' Aid of the Spruceport M. E. church will serve an oyster supper in the basement of the church on Saturday evening, March 21st, from 5 to 8 o'clock. Oysters, plain stew, milk stew and fried will be served with crackers, celery, cabbage, coffee, bread and butter for 35 cents. Ice cream and cake will be for sale.

The patronage of the public is solicited.

W. C. T. U. Institute.

The W. C. T. U. institutes to be held in Centre county this week will have as speakers Mrs. John D. Pennington, Philadelphia, in the Methodist church, Bellefonte, on the 19th; in Phillipsburg on the 20th, and on the 21st, Mrs. Pinchot will speak in State College.

MILL HALL RESIDENT CUT IN TWO BY COAL TRAIN

Funeral services for Peter J. Evers, aged 55, of Mill Hall, who was killed cut in two by an extra coal train on the Bald Eagle branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad Friday evening, was held Monday afternoon.

The services were conducted by the Rev. J. A. Farrar, pastor of the Mill Hall M. E. church, of which he was a member, and interment made in the Union cemetery at Bellefonte. Mr. Evers, who had lived in Mill Hall for 21 years, was a native of Hubersburg. He had worked at the New York and Pennsylvania Paper company plant as a welder, but had been laid off about six months ago.

Dr. W. J. Shoemaker, Clinton county coroner, is conducting an investigation. The death is also being investigated by W. D. McClintock, of Lock Haven, Penna. Railroad detective.

Mr. Evers is survived by his wife, who is prostrated by the death; by three sons, John, aged 22, Rowland, aged 11, and George, 6, all at home; by two daughters—Mrs. Kenneth Reardon, of New York City, and Mrs. Alfred Reardon, of Zion. Two brothers, Edward and William, of Mill Hall, also survive.

Popularity Contest.

In a popularity contest staged by the student council of the East Penns Valley High school at Millheim, the count of the votes showed that the seniors carried off most of the honors though the juniors had one shining star in Paul Shreeves, who was elected the boy most likely to succeed in life; the girl chosen on this count was Elva Winkblech. Majority votes for popularity went of course to seniors, Elva Winkblech and Gay Beahm.

The latter also won as the most athletic boy and Elva Winkblech as the most athletic girl. The choice of Elva Winkblech and Kenneth Mark as the persons having done the most for the school met with unanimous approval, while the vote for kindest boy was tied by two seniors; Kenneth Mark and Henry Glasgow. Here the sophomores scored with Sara Malone as the most courteous girl; as most courteous boy, John Whitecar was selected. The juniors carried off the honors in the groups labeled "most dignified" with Alberta Eglsdorf and Frederick Hosterman chosen there. Hilda Hosterman as quietest and Malvin Wance as most studious gave the freshmen a place on the ballot.

11TH MISSIONARY DISTRICT HAS INTERESTING PROGRAM

The Eleventh Missionary District, which comprises the societies of Boadysburg, Pine Grove Mills, Lemont, State College and Centre Hall, held their consociation service in the Presbyterian church at Centre Hall Tuesday night of last week. All the societies were represented except State College. All the other denominations of the community were represented also and took an active part in the program.

The meeting was in charge of Mrs. F. V. Goodhart, president of the society. There were present 85; the offering amounted to $9.00.

Mrs. M. W. Newlin, president of the Huntington Presbytery, was present and gave a very splendid talk on what the churches were doing in Missions.

The Pine Grove Mills young ladies gave the play, "Brother India." Mrs. Wetzel, Mrs. Potter and Miss Sara Odendirk each sang a solo.

Cookies, cocoa, with marshmallows and candied orange peel were served after the program.

"Looking Unto Jesus" was the program used.

Mrs. Newlin was the guest of the Kirkpatrick and Goodharts last week.

GROWTH STUDIES IN ROCKVIEW'S PLANTATION

The plantations of conifers on the Western Penitentiary site near Lewisburg are making satisfactory growth. In the spring of 1926 twenty-five acres were planted to Scotch, shortleaf and white pine, and Englemann spruce. The plantings were made on the House farm, which lies between two ridges of Nittany Mountain at an elevation of approximately 1600 feet. It was found, however, that neither of these varieties were without handicaps. The Scotch pine is susceptible to damage by deer, the Englemann spruce suffers from frost, and the White pine from weevil.

In 1927 twenty-five additional acres were planted nearby to Scotch and red pine. The red pine has done the best of all and it is truly a picture. The percentage of establishment is around 98 and the growth is quite uniform. The height of twenty-five per cent of the trees is now eighteen inches or better.

Mrs. J. W. Lee Alive in Bedford, Ia.

The incompleteness of a telegram to Frank D. Lee, in town, from a nephew in Detroit, Michigan, led him to inform the Reporter that Mrs. James W. Lee had died in the Michigan city named. The telegram stated "mother" had died. The family left here when the children were small, and the initial signature led him to think it was that of a son of his brother, J. W. Lee, but instead, it was that of a son of Felix Lee, another brother. An obituary notice appears in this issue.

The error was discovered when the telegram in question was studied by Hiram Lee, on Monday.

In the meantime Mrs. Frank Tate, of Red Mill, wrote the Reporter, calling attention to the error. She is a relative of Mrs. J. W. Lee, and stated that she had received a letter from her after having read the death notice. Mrs. Lee now lives in Bedford, Iowa. Mrs. Tate states.

Methodist Revivals.

Revival services will begin in the Centre Hall Methodist church on Sunday, March 22, at 7:30. These meetings will continue for at least two weeks. The following preachers will bring messages: Rev. J. Frederic Moore of Yeagertown; Rev. Seth Russell, of Karthaus, and Rev. G. A. Metzgar, of Pleasant Gap, on March 24, 25 and 26, respectively. The pastor will probably preach at the other services.

PENN STATE SUNDAY RADIO PROGRAM

Penn State College will broadcast over Station WTSP, State College, the following program next Sunday:

11:00 A. M.—Chapel, musical program.
1:30 P. M.—Organ, Donald A. Shelley.
1:45—"An Elastic Tariff," Dr. Carl V. Haasek.
1:50—Organ, Donald A. Shelley.
2:00—"Memory Awakening Melodies," Hummel Fishburn.
2:15—Recital by Miss Hazel Neuffer, marimba, Robert McFalls, baritone.
2:30—Players Little Symphony Orchestra.
3:00—"How to See a Play," Arthur C. Chodling.
3:05—Illustrative Play, Penn State Players.
3:30 to 4:45—Music Department Concert—Phi Mu Alpha Honorary Music Fraternity.

THE SCOTT BRIDGE BILL.

Senator Harry B. Scott's bill for the purchase of toll bridges by the State Highway Department and the freeing of the structures thus bought by the payment of tolls has been passed by the Senate. It deserves the serious consideration of the House. Senator Scott is no tyro in legislation. He is an experienced and able member of the upper House and his position as chairman of the Senate appropriations committee gives his measure a standing with financial authority back of it. Perhaps it may prove to be the long-sought-for first real step toward the removal of toll gates from business connecting links of highways which the State has spent millions to improve.

But even so, Representative Rice's amendment resolution should not be allowed to languish.

THE PARK HOTEL, WILLIAMSPORT, HAS BEEN OFFERED THE SCHOOL BOARD OF THIS CITY FOR SCHOOL PURPOSES.

STEWARSHIP ESSAY CONTEST.

Annual Contest Staged by Reformed Church.—Prizes Won by Young People of Local Denomination.

Another Stewardship Essay contest was held by the local Reformed church, on Wednesday evening, March 18th. Three local judges graded the essays in each group for first, second and third places. First place carried with it a prize of $3.00; second place a prize of $2.00, and third place a prize of $1.00. These prizes were awarded last Sunday at the regular church services to the fortunate young people.

Following are the groups with the themes for each and the prize winners:

Group A. Theme: "How Can I Serve God with My Money?" First place, Lois Reese.

Group B. Theme: "What Can I Learn from Sam Higginbottom of India as a Christian Steward?" First, Bob Evan Wetzel; second, Robert E. Bradford; third, Anna Mae Martz.

Group C. Theme: "Choosing My Life-work from the Standpoint of a Christian Steward." First, C. Isabel Bradford.

Group D. Theme: "What Proportion of Income Should a Christian Steward Give?" First, Helen M. Odendirk; second, Fay E. Bradford; third, Mary A. Kieber.

Group E. Theme (For teachers and S. S. officers only): "How to Help Our Pupils to Become Stewards." First, Mary J. Weber; second, Mrs. Letroy G. Seanson.

In placing the essays the judges took into account the following basis: 60 points for general contents, including adherence to topic; 30 points for originality, and 10 points for style, neatness, means of expression, etc.

The best two essays in each group were sent to the Classical Judge to participate in that contest, where a first prize of $2.00 is offered in each group. The best two essays in each group in the denominational contest where more and larger prizes will be awarded.

AN ABUNDANCE OF WATER.

The probability is that Centre Hall will not experience a water famine in many years, owing to the abundance of water the new well is furnishing today. With the pump running only part of the time, the pump and springs furnish more than double the springs' consumption of water. The one-fifth their flow under normal weather conditions, yet together with the new well's output on half time the needs of the borough for domestic uses and fire protection are ample. This leaves the flow from the first well out of the picture.

The water from the new well is soft, coming from slate rock, and has been found pure by a State chemist.

During a drought, this is the first time since water was furnished by a private company (1871) or the borough (1899) that it can be truly said, Centre Hall has an abundance of water for all purposes.

High School Teacher Resigns.

Cloyd R. Fisher, teacher in mathematics in the Centre Hall High school, tendered his resignation at the close of school on Friday, and returned to his home near Selinsgrove. Rev. D. R. Keener, local Reformed pastor, is substituting in the class room until a successor to Mr. Fisher is elected.

LETTERS FROM SUBSCRIBERS.

From Kansas We Hear of "Berichter," Beloit, Kansas, Mch. 7, 1931.
Dear Editor:
Please send my paper ahead for the amount enclosed. I find my cook looking forward to the arrival of the successor to the "Berichter" of years ago. Yours in haste,
J. K. GEGE (or GEISS).

[Editor's Note: "The Berichter" was the name by which the present Centre Reporter went prior to 1885 when it was printed at Aaronsburg, first in the German language and later, one-half German and the other half English.]

Former School Head Writes.

Avis, Pa., March 7, 1931.
Editors Reporter:
We have been removed from Centre Hall so long that the news from the community becomes less interesting to us; however, there are friendships that were formed while we were with you that will remain. Due to this fact I am enclosing check for $2.50 in payment of my bill to date. . . . This finds us all well. Harriet is a sophomore in High school. She has had her class since she entered H. I. Yesterday we had our preliminary eliminations in our school for the Clinton County Forensic League contest. Harriet won in Reading. . . . We have a very good interest in our school. Our school is entering twelve different contests in the county, 75% of the pupils are taking part in these contests. . . . Our school has held the boys' athletic cup for the county ever since contests were held—six years. The girls have held the cup for three years. Last year we won 5 out of 10 literary and music cups in the county. Sincerely yours,
N. L. BARTGES.

NEW BERLIN EVANGELICAL CHARGE DISCONTINUED

Denomination Had Its Beginning There in 1816.—Central Pa. College Closed in 1902.

The decision of the Central Pennsylvania conference of the Evangelical church to discontinue its charge at New Berlin, Union county, means that an institution at the place of its beginning.

It was at New Berlin, in 1816, that the first church of the denomination was established. The first camp meeting of the Evangelicals was held there. Jacob Albright, the itinerant preacher, who dissenting with the views of the established church to which he belonged, collected a following which was to develop into an important denomination, found ardent followers among the German settlers in Union and Snyder counties, and John Dreisbach, one of the early leaders of the church, also won converts in that section.

As a result, a church was established. The first building erected at New Berlin stood from 1816 until 1873. There, too, was established the first printing house of the denomination. Dreisbach handled the little press from Philadelphia to set up the shop. From that nucleus has grown a great printing business at Harrisburg and Cleveland.

In 1855 a denominational school was established at New Berlin. It was called Union Seminary, the name later being changed to Central Pennsylvania College. Many of the influential leaders of the church were educated there. In 1902 the school was discontinued being merged with Albright college, Myerstown.

One more day and then, on Saturday, 21st, we enter officially into the spring season. Let us hope we will be visited during this season by the usual rains and showers and sunshine.

THE DODDS HORSE SALE; AVERAGE PRICE, $172.50

A car load of western horses were sold by Robert Dodds, at the Centre Hall sales stable, on Wednesday of last week at an average of $172.50, or a total of $5031. The animals were a choice lot, the best offered here by Mr. Dodds this year, and his best of the season. The attendance at the sale was not as large as heretofore, but the bidding was more spirited.

The purchasers, the number purchased by each, and the purchase price are noted below:

Joe Ard, Woodward, 1, $267.50
C. H. Andrews, Centre Hall, 2, 392.50
G. H. McCormick, Centre Hall, 2, 720.00
John Bohn, Centre Hall, 4, 382.50
Geo. Kaffman, Bellefonte, 2, 197.50
S. W. Ladner, Tyrone, 1, 196.00
Robt. Muthler, Beech Creek, 1, 395.00
J. L. Rimmer, Centre Hall, 2, 207.50
H. L. Dornblazer, Lock Haven, 1, 190.00
C. B. Smith, Centre Hall, 1, 402.50
C. P. Neille, Centre Hall, 2, 300.00
C. T. Thompson, Salona, 2, 397.50
John Gummo, Mill Hall, 2, 145.00
Luther Strouse, State Coll., 1, 180.00
John Burd, Millheim, 1, 135.00
M. B. Musser, State College, 1, 110.00
Thos. Horne, Philipsburg, 1, 70.00
C. T. Thompson, Salona, pony, 70.00

REV. RUNKLE IN AUTO WRECK.

Friday evening Rev. J. M. Runkle, on returning to his home in Altoona from a visit to his brother, John H. Runkle, east of town, completely wrecked his Buick sedan at a point close to Fort Matilda. He was accompanied by Mrs. Runkle and while neither of them was seriously hurt, both were cut and pretty badly shaken up. The car plunged into the hillside. Mr. Runkle cannot positively account for the accident, but suspects he was partially overcome by gas flowing into the car through the heater which was open.

In a letter to the Runkle family here he emphasizes the fact that he and Mrs. Runkle escaped serious injury, but that the car is a wreck.

W. C. T. U. Holds Dues Social.

The annual dues social of the local W. C. T. U. was held Friday evening in the assembly room of the High school building, and was well attended by members of the organization and its branches, the Y. P. B. and L. T. L. The Young People's Branch furnished a part of the program in singing and putting on a playlet entitled, "Bargain Day."

The principal address was made by Mrs. W. A. Broyles, county president, and editor of the W. C. T. U. Bulletin. Mr. Broyles, a member of Penn State faculty, was also present and spoke on the subject of temperance in a general way.

At the close of the program refreshments were served.

Sheffield Milk Prices.

The net cash price paid by the Sheffield for grade B milk for February is $2.06 1/2 per hundred pounds. It is a decrease of only four cents per hundred pounds from the January price.

Homan Motor Co. Car Sales.

M. A. Burkholder, Centre Hall, 15 ton truck, 131-hp wheelbase.
John Harter, Spring Mills, five-window coupe.
Patrolman Norris, Bellefonte, used sport roadster.
John Harter, Spring Mills, five-window coupe.

Charles H. Foust, Centre Hall, coach. Also, six used cars.

Jewett Brooks Will Move from the Rhone Farm, Rhonemede, west of town, to one of the three farms at the Branch owned and conducted as one farm by Curt Meyer. By this method Mr. Meyer hopes to operate the three farms at less expense than to do so on the three-unit plan. Jewett Brooks will again become tenant on Rhonemede after living here for a year. He will take over all the stock and implements of the present tenant, Jewett Brooks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hartswick, of Bellefonte, entertained at their residence the following District Deputy Grand Masters: J. E. Klinger, of the southern district of Centre county; Edward Zorn, Boalsburg lodge; J. N. Mong, Dale, Penns Valley lodge; J. N. Mong, State College lodge; John Stover and E. Houtz, Lemont lodge, and V. A. Auman, Centre Hall lodge. At 7:30 Mrs. Hartswick invited the delegation to the dining room where an abundance of chicken and waffles was in store, as well as many other good things. The remainder of the evening was spent in discussions and singing, with Miss Hartswick presiding at the piano.

The sale season is more than half over for 1931. Generally speaking prices obtained for all kinds of cattle, cows, hogs, sheep and horses have been satisfactory, although probably not as high as a few years ago. Good implements have been selling at very fair prices. At the sale of new and used implements held by Clevensburg and every machine offered was sold. The stock sale held by Messrs. Harter and Long, at Stone Mill, last week, was also a success, reasonable prices having been obtained. These sales are mentioned because of the fact that sales of this character are more likely to be unsatisfactory than what is known as a "clean-up" farm sale.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS

A new body style, the 5-passenger coupe, has been added to the 1931 line of Chevrolet sixes.

A cantata entitled "The First Easter," will be given by the Trinity Reformed choir, on Easter Sunday evening April 5.

Charles Crust, who has been having trouble with one of his eyes, is undergoing treatment at a Leech Creek hospital which he visits frequently.

Friday was the first day during last week that the sun shone to any extent. All in all, the week was one of typical March weather, with Friday, the 13th, one of the best.

See the excellent quality four-piece bed-room suite—dressing bed, chest, and French vanity dresser—March special, $98.00 at Brachbill's Furniture Store, Bellefonte.

In cutting a tree on the farm of J. H. Detweiler, near town, one day last week, a large grey squirrel was seen to scamper away from the fallen tree, and the next day a nest of five baby squirrels was discovered, all frozen to death.

W. G. Fisher, of Sunbury, one of the State investigators, was in the valley on business and stopped with the Reporter for a half hour. He came to this section to interview one or more auctioneers, not residents of Centre Hall.

C. S. Smith, tenant on the McCool farm near Red Mill, was unfortunately enough to lose a horse by death purchased at one of the horse sales held here a few years ago. Mr. Smith, as was noted a short time ago, will move onto a farm near Bellefonte about April 1st.

The approach of April 1st creates but little stir in Centre Hall because of it being the time of terminating leases of dwellings. Like last year, movings within the borough will be a close approach to nil, and all because such a large per cent of the residents own their own homes.

Rev. S. A. Snyder, formerly pastor of the Evangelical church here, is now pastor of the Grace Evangelical church in Lewistown, to which place he came from West Berry, near Berwick. Rev. J. H. Turner, Burnham, and Rev. Lyman M. Doss, Trinity Evangelical, Lewistown, were returned to their parishes.

Charles F. Bideispacher, assemblyman from Lycoming county since 1916, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Judge in Lycoming county. Judge Whitehead, elected in 1911, will not be a candidate to succeed himself. Representative Bideispacher is chairman of the roads committee.

Bellefonte and State College are making a drive or a concrete road connecting the two towns in a more direct road than any of the roads now in use. The proposed road passes over a portion of the Boalsburg pike and enters Bellefonte by the way of the Sibley farm. It extends from the borough to the intersection of the Boalsburg pike with route No. 45, at a point above Shiloh church.

Mrs. C. D. Bartholomew and daughter, Jeanne, and Miss Helen Bartholomew, drove to Lock Haven where they had dinner with Rev. C. E. Haasek and family. Mrs. Hoover, housekeeper for Rev. Greenhoe, was another guest from here at the Hazen home at the same time. On the latter's way home, on reaching the Manna Kline farm, she had a slight accident. The car she was driving ran from the road, but there were no serious results.

Jewett Brooks will move from the Rhone farm, Rhonemede, west of town, to one of the three farms at the Branch owned and conducted as one farm by Curt Meyer. By this method Mr. Meyer hopes to operate the three farms at less expense than to do so on the three-unit plan. Jewett Brooks will again become tenant on Rhonemede after living here for a year. He will take over all the stock and implements of the present tenant, Jewett Brooks.
