BOALSBURG ITEMS.

The Grace Lutheran church choir of State College will render a song service in the local Lutheran church on Sunday, May 3rd, at 2:30. An invitation is extended to all lovers of music to attend this service.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Stuart, their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Stuart, and Miss Nannie Belle Stuart of Crafton, spent the week-end among friends in this vicinity.

Clyde Smith and sister, Miss Grace Smith, of Centre Hall, were in town on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harro and family, of Sunbury, enjoyed a week-end visit among friends in town. The Harro family were residents in town some years ago and enjoy greeting friends of former years.

Miss Melva Jacobs recently went to New Jersey to enter a Children's hospital for nurses' training.

Miss Anna Sweeney spent several days last week at State College.

The Boy Scouts celebrated Clean-Up Day by securing a large truck and hauling rubbish out of town.

Roland Young recently purchased a lot from George Shugerts on Mountain street and expects to erect a dwelling house in the near future.

Ex-Judge Arthur Dale and Thomas O'Neal of Bellefonte; Wm. Fisher, of Sunbury, and several gentlemen from Harrisburg, were recent guests at the Fisher cabin while enjoying a few days fishing.

A. E. Gingerich is driving a Franklin sedan.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Johnson, of Crafton, are spending some time at the home of Mrs. M. A. Woods.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bohn and son, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bohn and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Huppich, of Akron, Ohio, spent several days last week at the David Bohn home, called home by the death of Mrs. Bohn.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kuhn, of Williamsport, spent Wednesday in town and at State College.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Clifford S. Thomas, on Sunday, went to Lewistown, where he took the train for New York on a business trip.

Miss Celia Delaney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Delaney, of near town, succeeds Miss Bertha Sharer as clerk in the Shaffer store here.

A. H. White and W. F. Fetterolf are the carpenters employed in putting up the framework of the double dwelling house being erected by Clement Luse. Of course, Mr. Luse is also, giving some time to the work of construction and preparing the lumber on the small mill on his farm east of town.

W. A. Odenkirk has so far improved that he can move his arm and leg and is also recovering his speech, which was nearly silenced when he received a paralytic stroke on the 17th inst. while at a supper in the social room of the Reformed church. He is, however, confined to bed all of the time.

William Bailey, a farm hand employed by Daniel Bloom, west of town, fell from the overhead of the barn while removing straw for bedding. In the fall he hit his shoulder, injuring it to such an extent that he was unable to work for a week. The young man is a resident of Centre Mills, Brush Valley.

One forest fire in the Penn forest district on Jacks Mountain near Reedsville burned 400 acres of woodland before it was controlled by 100 fire fighters under the direction of T. C. Harbison, district forester. Mr. Harbison says that the epidemic of forest fires during last week was due entirely to carelessness and negligence.

A saxophone octette from the Evangelical Home, Lewisburg, gave musicals at three points in this section on Sunday—in the morning at Bellefonte, afternoon at Tusseyville and in the evening in the Evangelical church here. The local church was crowded to capacity and the youthful musicians gave a good account of themselves. They were under the direction of Mr. Albert, the band leader at the home. The offering was contributed to the home maintenance fund.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bitner and the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lester, on Sunday visited Charles McCool in the Altoona hospital and found him in fine condition, being without pain and can eat and sleep well. It will be recalled that Mr. McCool was obliged to have his foot amputated at the ankle following complications resulting from a frozen toe while working at the Sheffield milk plant at Spring Mills. If his condition continues to improve he expects to be back home in a week.

Robert Y. Yarnell, 38, employe at a dairy farm at State College, Tuesday told police in Pittsburgh that three men held him up while he was on his way to the farm to work on Monday and took him to Pittsburgh.

Yarnell said he was walking along a road when the men accosted him. They took $22 and his watch, bound him and threw him in the back of their automobile. The man was released in an East End lumber yard. A policeman took him to the East End police station and he spent the night there. He telegraphed his family for money to return home.

TIMELY REMINDERS FROM PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE

Prevent Chicken Ills—

Build low roosts for the chicks when they are three weeks old. Provide plenty of room so the chicks will not crowd. These precautions will help to prevent coccidiosis.

Know Your Cows—

Keeping records on milk production of dairy cows is especially important when the price of milk is low. All low producing cows should be weeded from the herd as soon as detected. Serious losses may thus be prevented.

Aid Good Form—

Pruning and thinning out branches of ornamental plants reduces transpiration flow and aids in shaping the plants for permanent effect.

Harden Plants—

Before setting plants from the greenhouse or hot bed into the field be sure that they have been hardened sufficiently by gradually lowering the temperature and reducing the amount of water supplied.

Keep Wool Dry—

Wool should be stored in a clean, dry place until it is sold. It should never be stored in a basement.

Protect Forests—

Real cooperation is needed if Pennsylvania forests are to be protected against their greatest enemy, fire. The easiest time to fight fire is before it starts.

Produce Clover—

Sweet clover, seeded alone early in the spring on good land which is adapted to it may make good grazing after mid-summer, say State College farm crop specialists. Seeded in grain, sweet clover generally needs most of the first year's growth to make sufficient root for maximum yields the second season.

THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN
By GENE BYRNES

The Call of the Land

The call of the land is a real call, a potent force, for man is from it and of it.

Need any one wonder that though devastation may strike the crops of one season, the farmer still has faith that the returning Spring sees him turning a furrow with that faith undiminished and a courage that is steady.

Among all the sung and unsung beautiful things of the field, of home and of rural life, there is nothing grander than the simple faith of the man with the plow, who can and does carry on.
