

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

State College borough is enforcing traffic rules, giving speeding cars special attention.

One hundred seventeen infants were born in the Centre county hospital during 1930. The males exceeded the females by fifteen.

Today (Thursday) has been set for the sentencing of C. A. Krause by Judge Fleming, convicted at the last term of court on the charge of arson.

The Union Sunday school at Farmers Mills gave a delightful Mother's Day program Sunday morning, at which the attendance was very good.

Mrs. G. W. Tressler, of town, was taken ill last week and is now under the care of her daughter, Mrs. Clayton T. Musser, near Madisonburg.

Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Jodon and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Rhoads and family spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Jodon's sister, Mrs. Ruth Lucas, at Phillipsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Geary and children, of Newport, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Geary's brother, John W. Whiteman, and family, in Centre Hall.

D. Sparr Wert, Aaronburg, and George B. Bohn, of Lemont, publish letters testamentary on the estate of Mrs. D. C. Bohn, deceased, late of Harris township.

Mr. and Mrs. Olie Jamison and two sons, of Millburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Myland Jamison, of Mill Hall, were Sunday guests at the E. T. Jamison home, Spring Mills.

L. W. Jacobs, on Sunday, with his mother, Mrs. Lizzie Jacobs, and sister, Miss Margaret Jacobs, as motor guests, drove to Woodward where they took dinner at Benner's hotel.

The work of completing the concrete highway between Milesburg and Bellefonte is now under way. The contractors will maintain one-way traffic. The larger section of the road was built last year.

The traffic Sunday was the heaviest for the year. Driving, with a few exceptions, was reasonably moderate as to speed and care, and gas vendors here got their share of business from those passing through.

The Chevrolet Motor company output of cars and trucks during April was 106,096, more than 20,000 units above the original schedule and almost up to the output of May, 1930, the biggest production month in that year.

Undertaker F. V. Goodhart, accompanied by Mrs. Goodhart, on Wednesday attended the sessions of the Central Pennsylvania Funeral Directors' Association held at Sunbury. Addresses followed a banquet in the evening.

Witmer E. Lee, of Potters Mills, and Guy Corman, of Spring Mills, are delegates to the Grand Lodge, K. G. E., being held at Reading this week. The former represents the lodge at Centre Hall and the latter the Spring Mills lodge.

Miss Dorothy Brown, a Centre Hall High school graduate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brown, Centre Hall, R. D., will graduate from State Teachers' College, Shippensburg, at the commencement beginning on the 23rd and continuing to the 26th inst. Miss Brown has prepared herself for intermediate school work.

Beavers have been discovered rebuilding the dam at the Colyer farm, Seven Mountains, long ago washed out by Spring floods. The industrious builders have made rapid progress in reconstructing the breast of the dam and when this is raised to sufficient height, the home building will be begun.

Although the Millburg baseball team defeated the Coburn team in a score of 9 to 4, in a game played at Millburg, the Telegraph paid the defeated team strong compliments, and refers to Miller center fielder, as having "played a whale of a game, picking several smashes that looked like sure hits out of the air for put outs."

Traffic officers throughout this section are unusually busy, looking after all the ill a motor driver is heir to, and cars are afflicted with. This is notice to the drivers to keep their wits together when driving and have the lights, license plates, brakes, etc., in proper condition. Better than that hear those doleful words, "$12.50."

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Zerby, on Sunday, entertained at dinner some of their children and families, and others, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Orndorf and daughter, Miss Frances, and Miss Naomi Zerby, of Woodward; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brungart of Rebersburg, and Miss Bessie Zerby. Mrs. Zerby has pretty well recovered from the effects of an abscess in one of her ears.

Miss Fay Bradford finished teaching her first term of public school in Juniata county, the last week in April, and then spent a week in Philadelphia, going there with Mrs. R. F. Zahrend, with whom she boarded while teaching. Mrs. Zahrend formerly lived in Philadelphia, her mother and other close relatives living there at this time and these were visited, together with many points of historical interest in and about the city. Miss Bradford returned to her home here the latter part of last week, and Monday began work in the Mitterling restaurant.

A family reunion, in observance of Mother's Day, was held at the home of Mrs. Olie Auman, Millheim, in honor of her mother, Mrs. D. L. Geary, on Sunday. All the children and their families were present. A big dinner was prepared, and Mrs. Geary, who is 78 years of age, took an active part in its preparation. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Geary and daughter, Miss Agnes, of Centre Hall; Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Brown, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Kramer, of New Haven, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. George Wagonseller, of Newport; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Geary, four children, Nevin Heffen, Charles and James, of Newport; Mrs. J. B. Kerstetter, of Coburn.

Win Ball Game from Port Matilda—

In the return game, the locals avenged an early season defeat by taking Port Matilda into camp, 8-5. Lohr started the game but could not fool the boys from Port, and they scored all their runs in the first inning. John Spiker took charge of the pitching in the second, and was invincible. He yielded four hits in 8 innings and came through with the hit in the 8th inning that scored the winning run. Walker was the big hitter for the day, having three hits and a walk in four times at bat. Philip Smith continued his great hitting by pounding out two hits; his average for seven games is .500.

The boys hope to avenge another early-season defeat when they take on the fast-going team from Boalsburg. A game with Mill Hall High will be played here on Patrons' Day, May 22, returning the game that Centre Hall will play there next Tuesday, May 19.
