

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Allis spent Memorial Day with friends in Towanda.

Mrs. James H. Lohr, of Philadelphia, was a guest for a few days of the Bartholomew family. She returned home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Crawford, of Bellefonte, have announced the birth of a daughter, Joan Marie, at the Centre County hospital, Saturday.

Miss Sallie McClenahan is reported as having purchased a lot from Mrs. Emma Emerick, located across an alley from the Emerick home. The lot is unimproved and at one time was a part of the Peter Durst holdings.

Insurance companies who paid the loss on the Krape store building destroyed by fire, at Spring Mills, have filed claims against C. A. Krape for a sum approximately $8800. The case is on record for trial at the next term of court.

In the assignment of district engineers due to the taking over of the 20,000 miles of township roads, William J. Carroll will continue as head of district No. 2, composed of the counties of Clearfield, Centre, Clinton, Cameron, McKean, Elk and Potter.

Miss Agnes Geary, a member of the local High school faculty, was host to the senior class and the other three High school faculty members at a breakfast served on Nittany Mt. Top Thursday morning of last week. Bacon, buns and strawberries composed the menu, and all report a fine time.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Bible, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. R. H. Leonard, and granddaughter, Jean Leonard, all of Pottsville, were among friends in the Valley over Memorial Day. They also visited in Altoona before returning home. Mr. Bible is being dealt with kindly by Father Time. He is looking remarkably well.

J. Henry Smith, accompanied by his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Hunter, all of Williamsport, also Prof. and Mrs. Wm. Jackson, of Philadelphia, on Saturday were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Cloyd Brooks, at Rhonemede. They came here from Reedsville where they visited the graves of departed relatives.

The first group of campers at Camp Konesatake, on Spruce Creek, will go into quarters on Monday evening. In point of numbers this is one of the largest of camping groups—all girls—representing the Junior High age. The only representative from this section to this camp is Alice Spyster, who will experience her second year in camp life.

Edwin T. Weaver and family, of Lewistown, were guests from Friday until Sunday evening of S. L. Hubler, in Millheim. The Lewistown gentleman, who is paymaster at the Standard Steel Works, Burnham, and the assistant cashier of the Farmers National Bank and Trust Company, became cronies when they were school mates at Rebersburg.

The fifteen-inning ball game at Hecla Park, Sunday, between the Bellefonte league team and Viscoc team ended in a score of 2 to 0 in favor of the Millifin county players. The score stood even up to the first half of the fifteenth inning when the silk mill boys scored twice. It was said to be the best game played at Hecla this season and required three and three-quarter hours to score the winning runs.

R. C. Hook, tenant on the J. H. Dettwiler farm, accompanied by his son-in-law, Evan Long, called on the Reporter Tuesday forenoon to correct a statement carried in several newspapers that the latter was one of a trio who had been accused of firing Brush Mountain a few weeks ago. Mr. Long says he was not in any way connected with the case and was not obliged to appear before a justice with others, or alone.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McClellan, Miss Fay Bradford, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Knarr, John Knarr, Jr., Miss Elizabeth Brooks all of town, and Mrs. Hoy of Bellefonte, attended the Commencement exercises at Beckley College, Harrisburg, last Thursday. All had a special interest in the attainments of Messrs. Wilbur McClellan, Bruce Knarr and Samuel Knarr, except Miss Brooks, whose interest is said to have centered in a graduate from Northwestern Pennsylvania.

Lois Packer, youngest daughter of Prof. L. O. Packer, was hurried to the Centre County hospital Friday afternoon and immediately underwent an appendicitis operation. Her condition since has been regarded favorable. She attended school Friday forenoon, becoming ill at her home at the noon hour. Dr. Morrow was called, who diagnosed the case and insisted the patient be taken to the hospital at once, and it was this quick action that prevented more serious complications.

Lewis, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Brooks, west of town, continues a patient in a Philadelphia hospital where he was taken fifteen weeks ago for the removal of an orange seed from the esophagus. Some months previous the child drank water from a banner lys can picked up in the yard at his home, the can having sufficient lys in it to severely burn his throat and later causing a restriction where the seed was firmly held. The child is improving and hopes are entertained for permanent relief.

Mr. and Mrs. William Alexander, accompanied by their son, Jay D. Alexander, of Harrisburg, paid a visit to friends hereabouts during the latter part of last week. Mr. Alexander is employed by the Montgomery Storage company, and the son with the Paxton Cemetery Association. The elder Alexander left the Allison Mill at Spring Mills in 1905 and has been in Harrisburg since 1910. On his way here the Alexanders stopped in Millifin county, being interested in the Alexander family reunion billed to be held on Kishacoquillas Park on July 4th.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Logan Grange will hold a festival in Noll's Grove, Pleasant Gap, Saturday evening, June 13th.

The W. C. T. U. will hold a meeting on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. W. B. Fiedler.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Daniels, Mansfield Depot, Conn., are spending a vacation of two weeks with the latter's sister, Miss Sara McClenahan.

Russell Bohn, who this week completed a most successful term of school teaching in the Centre Hall grade schools, expects to tutor at Camp Susquehanna, Brackney, this summer.

Mrs. Mary Clevestine was stricken with paralysis early Monday morning and her condition since has not improved. She is almost 80 years of age which contributes to the seriousness of her illness. Mrs. Clevestine is the mother of Harry E. Clevestine, the Bellefonte baker, with whom she makes her home.

Mrs. M. F. Rossman, of Tusseyville, cut a gash in the back of her head in a fall from a chair, necessitating stitching by a surgeon. She was cleaning a wall and was standing on the kitchen range and on stepping from the stove to a chair she fell, striking her head on an oil stove standing nearby. Dr. Peter L. Swank was the surgeon in attendance.

Mrs. Reyback and Herman McMahon of Meadville, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Rudy over Decoration Day. They took back with them Edith Potter, who will spend several weeks with them in Meadville. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Rhodes and family, Mrs. E. T. Kellerman, of Bellefonte, also visited the Rudy family. They left their son, Leonard, Jr., to spend a week.

Mrs. Mary Stahl had the pleasure of having with her, her three sons, their respective wives, as well as her daughter and her husband, and all of her grandchildren, over Memorial Day. They were Mr. and Mrs. Asher Stahl, Robert, Frederick, Bruce and Drew; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce F. Stahl; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Snyder and daughter, Maudie, all of Altoona; and Mr. and Mrs. Claude K. Stahl, of Narberth. The latter couple remained until the middle of the week.

BIRTHS.

A daughter, Helen Elizabeth, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Haugh, near Livonia, May 24th.

COMMENCEMENT ACTIVITIES, C. H. H. S.

Centre Hall High school's record-breaking class of 1931 was graduated with appropriate exercises on Tuesday evening, in Grange Park auditorium. Twenty-six young people received the highly-prized diplomas in recognition of four years of High school work.

The large stage was beautifully decorated with spruce, while festoons in the class colors hung overhead. Emblazoned in large crimson letters on a background of white, the motto, "Not evening, but dawn," stood forth most conspicuously in the rear.

The class, arranged in a semi-circle, occupied the entire stage. Margaret Bradford, by virtue of second honors, delivered the salutatory address, while Richard Bailey gave the valedictory.

The Commencement speaker was Lee Francis Lybarger, Esq., of Millburg. The class made a happy choice in its speaker. Mr. Lybarger's subject was, "Requirements for Success in the 20th Century." It was a most inspiring talk—a heart-to-heart talk with the young people—a veritable guide to success. Mr. Lybarger's address may be said to have been. All the virtues which have stood the test of time were presented to the class as still being worth cultivating and achieving. He spoke for an hour in this vein, and closed by declaring that the work of the present generation of young people was not to invent more machinery, nor to reach farther into science, for if the patent office at Washington were to be closed to all invention for the next twenty-five years, the world could get along beautifully. The task for the present generation was to find a way for a more equitable distribution of the enormous wealth of the country, which paradoxical as it may seem, is the cause of the many ills and woes of humanity.

The twenty-six graduates in the class of 1931 are: Pauline Burkholder, Helen Odenkirk, Robert McCormick, Mary Reiber, Mary Allen, Mary Garbrick, Wanda Brown, Theresa Fye, Naomi Sweetwood, Margaret Bradford, Alta Cummings, William Weaver, Luke Jordan, Edith Delaney, Richard Bailey, Genevieve Ruble, Fred Luse, John Schaeffer, Amelia Copenhaver, Margaret Delaney, Phyllis Sweeney, Mary Long, Mildred Kline, Helen White, Elizabeth Brooks, Agnes Cummings.

Monday night was Class Night for the seniors. The program, rendered in Grange Park auditorium, was as follows:
