

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Children's Day will be observed in the Sprucecown M. E. church on Sunday evening, June 28, at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Royer recently made an auto trip to Franklin county, Chambersburg being one of the towns visited.

Mr. and Mrs. John Elliott Smith and children returned to Centre Hall after a sight-seeing trip to Niagara Falls, Canada, Rochester and Watkins Glen.

H. W. Wagner, of Boalsburg, advertises in this issue that he will haul coal from the Snow Shoe and Phillipsburg mines for any persons desiring coal at attractive prices.

The restaurant in the Centre Hall hotel building was re-opened Tuesday evening by C. E. Flink. He is being assisted by Mrs. Flink and Miss Elizabeth Brooks.

Mrs. Andrew Rote, of Spring Mills, who has been in delicate health for some time, became seriously ill during last week. Her condition on Saturday was somewhat improved.

Of the one hundred and twenty forest fire towers in Pennsylvania, five are located in Centre county on Poe, Little Flat, Purdue, Sandy Ridge Summit and Snow Shoe Mountains.

Charles McCool is continuing to recover from an operation undergone in an Altoona hospital. He hopes to be able, in time, to resume work in the Sheffield milk plant at Spring Mills, where he was last employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar W. Miller and Mrs. Miller's mother, Mrs. C. H. Neff, were on a pleasure trip by auto through Western Pennsylvania and Ohio. In the latter State Akron was the objective city, where relatives were visited.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Burns and three children, and Mrs. Burns' mother, Mrs. Mary Snyder, of Muncy, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd E. Snyder, in town. Mr. Burns is the very active detective of Lycoming county.

Saturday night's rain and wind storm, although severe, did little damage in this section. Scattered trees were blown over and limbs of trees torn off. In the eastern part of Penns Valley and through Brush Valley the destruction was greater but the actual loss slight.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cronin, of Hyde, Clearfield county, arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Colyer, having but recently returned from a pleasure trip to Florida. Mr. Cronin is a foreman in the Bethlehem Steel Works at Sparrows Point, Maryland, and is now on vacation.

Edward Durst was brought to his home here on Monday by Mrs. Durst from the Centre County hospital, to which institution he had gone the Tuesday previous. He stated he was feeling much better than prior to the minor operation he submitted to during the middle of last week.

The position of manager of the Sheffield Milk plant at Spring Mills, held by W. O. Gramley up to the time of his death, has not been filled. The force at the plant is now comprised of Mabel Smith, in the office, Harold Stover, Foster Breon, Amer Bartley, and Merle Bartley, the latter being a part-time employe.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. L. Moore, Miss Miriam Moore and Mrs. M. E. Strohm attended the sessions of the Central Pennsylvania Conference last Sunday, held in Carlisle. Rev. J. Frederic Moore was one of a class of twenty-two young men who were ordained as a minister of the Methodist church, at a very impressive service by Bishop McDowell and the District Superintendents.

The Centre County Sunday school convention will open here in the Lutheran church Monday afternoon and continue on Tuesday, closing with an evening session. Delegates from all sections of the county are expected, and these will be entertained on Monday night by families interested in Sunday school work. The program was printed in full in last week's issue of this paper.

Wilbur E. Burkholder, for some years ticket agent in Phillipsburg for the P. R. R., concluded to relinquish his post that he may give all of his time to the Maytag business for which he has the Phillipsburg district agency. His successor as ticket agent is H. P. Thompson, of Curwensville, who assumed charge of the office on Friday. Mr. Burkholder is a brother of Morris A. Burkholder, of near town.

Cars driven by Samuel Hoy, of Howard, and Miss May Crider, of Bellefonte, collided on the main street in town here on Wednesday forenoon. Mr. Hoy was accompanied by his wife and had stopped to the front of the residence of Harvey Mark to make some inquiry, and on leaving attempted to make a left-hand turn when the car was hit by a sedan driven by Miss Crider, who was returning from Lewistown. The jolt knocked Mrs. Hoy from the car. Mr. Hoy became unconscious for a time. The injuries consisted of bruises, more or less severe.

A reunion of the children of Ezekiel Smith was held at Montgomery, on Saturday, at which more than fifty were present. Among a large number of descendants there was born but one male Smith—William A. Smith—the head of the Penn Furniture Manufacturing company at Montgomery, who belongs to the second generation. The reunion held Saturday was the twenty-fifth gathering of the kind, and the attendance was up to the average. Ezekiel Smith was the eldest son of John Smith, a pioneer in Black Hole Valley, Lycoming county. Three other sons were Dr. Peter Smith, Centre Hall and George Smith, who lived on the homestead, and Dr. Charles Smith, of Lamar, all deceased.

The State Teachers Colleges, fourteen in number, graduated 2,749 in June, all equipped to teach in the public schools.

Thousands Persons Attend Farmer-Kiwans Picnic on Grange Park.

The fifth annual Farmer-Kiwans picnic of the State College community was held on Grange Park, here, Thursday of last week. Nearly one thousand persons were in attendance and all seemed in a holiday mood.

Games, contests, and visiting interspersed with a big picnic dinner filled the entire day.

A ball game between country and town boys and preliminary horse-shoe pitching occupied the morning hours. There was keen interest in all the contests. The winners in the various events were as follows:

25-yard dash, girls under 12—Helen Honan.

25-yard dash, boys under 12—Frank Bailey.

25-yard dash, girls 12 to 16—Rebecca Crabtree. 50-yard dash, boys 12 to 16—Bruce Garver. 100-yard dash, open, Harry Adleman.

Potato race, girls, Charlotte Klingler.

Sack race, boys—Frank Bailey.

Rolling pip contest, Mrs. Schenck.

Nail-driving contest—Mrs. Fred Markle.

Boy with most freckles—Harry Conley.

Girl with reddest hair—Helen Searson. Tallest man, Jim Fortney. Largest family, Mrs. Rudy.

The horse-shoe pitching, Farmers vs. Kiwans, was won by the farmers team with Dave Bohn and J. D. Neidigh as star performers. There were also dodge ball games, volley ball, and a farmer-Kiwans ball game.

Donors of the numerous prizes awarded winners in the various events were as follows: Crabtrees, Grahams, West Penn Power, Fishburns, Fye's, Morris Fromm, F. E. Wentzel, M. Meyers, Metzgers, Miss Ward, Keelers, Cathaum theatre, Corner Room, R. F. Stein, Harvey's Bakery, Penn State Photo Shop, Band Box, Highland Grocery, Schiows, Electric Supply, Stetson "D," Stark Bros, and Harper, J. J. Meyers, and Montgomery Co.

Coffee and sugar for all was donated by F. V. Struble of the Clover Farms Stores, and milk by J. J. Markle. Concerts by the Lemont band during both morning and afternoon added to the enjoyment of the occasion.

A feature of the afternoon was the drawing for the pure bred Holstein calf donated by Shoemaker Bros. With 467 names in the box, that of Mrs. Sam Everhart, R. D. State College, came out as the winner. There were 311 guesses in the egg-guessing contest, with Mrs. Sam Everhart and Russell McCreadie of Boalsburg, as the only ones to guess the correct number (348 eggs.) In the added guessing to decide the tie, Mrs. Everhart was the winner and was awarded the automatic poultry watering device given by the Kern Poultry Farm. This would appear to be Mrs. Everhart's lucky day.

The committee in charge of the arrangements were: J. C. Shoemaker, F. V. Struble, J. J. Markle, Foster Musser, Riley Hunter, Geo. Mothersbaugh, Glenn Wasosen, Boyd Williams, E. H. Dale, W. S. Jeffries, E. A. Dambly, R. C. Blaney and E. B. Fitts.

NUMBER OF WOMEN IN TELEPHONE WORK
INCREASES YEARLY

160,000 Operators Required at
Switchboards to Handle
Bell System Calls.

Notwithstanding the rapid extension of the dial method of telephone operation, the number of women employees in the Bell System is constantly increasing.

Dial telephones were first introduced in the Bell System in 1920. At that time there were 128,000 women operators. In the decade from 1920 to 1930, about 28 per cent. of the Bell System's telephones have been placed on the dial basis, and during the same period, because of the large increase in the number of subscribers, the number of women operators has risen to 160,000—an increase of 32,000.

By 1940, when it is expected the conversion to the dial system will have been practically completed, it is estimated that 180,000 operators will be required to handle out-of-town calls and other calls of a special nature.

Women also are employed in increasing numbers in other departments of the telephone industry, principally as clerks and stenographers. There were in 1920 a total of 35,000 women so employed. The number had increased to 80,000 this year, and telephone engineers estimate that by 1940 approximately 110,000 women will be employed by the Bell System for purposes other than operating the switchboards.

In other words, the total number of women employed in the Bell in 1920 to 240,000 in 1930, with an estimated requirement of 290,000 by 1940.
