

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Stover of Yeagertown, motored to Berwick where they visited Mrs. Stover's brother, Wm. Grove, and wife.

Miss Mabel Andrews, of Tyrone, is a guest of her cousins, the Misses Andrews, at the Charles Andrews home, at Earlstown. Miss Andrews is a Tyrone High school girl and is on a vacation.

The cost of "lifting the farmer out of the mud" will not be met without a goodly portion coming indirectly from the farmer himself. The man who escapes present day taxes lived in another generation, or is unborn.

The Duck-Wert reunion will be held at Woodward Cave, Saturday, July 18, and the Stover-Meyer families will meet at the same place in reunion on August 1. The Brungarts have selected Hecla Park as the place and Saturday, August 15, as the time for their annual gathering.

Mrs. Fred W. Barry, of Highspire, arrived here Saturday evening with her brother-in-law, William Ashley, and remained here over Sunday with her brother, D. Cleveland Mitterling, and family. Rev. Barry and the Barry children at the same time were with the Barry sisters in Seltsgrove.

Mrs. William Fouse and son Adon, of Potters Mills, spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. Lilo Ready, and her sister, Mrs. George Collins, and family. She returned home accompanied by her nephew, George Collins, Jr., who will spend some time visiting his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Fouse.

Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Benner returned last week from a ten days' motor trip to the Pittsburgh district. Some time was spent with Chester Cronister and family, at Wilkensburg. Mr. Cronister is a son of the late Sheriff Cronister of Centre county, and holds an important position with the Union Switch & Signal company, at Swissvale.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Stover returned home from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. James Stover, at Midway, near Pittsburgh. Comeau Lake, Niagara Falls, and Toronto, Canada. They were absent a week. They report a fine trip and enjoyed seeing beautiful flowers of all May and June varieties which were in their prime in York State and Canada.

The bus service between Lewisport and Milroy has been extended to the State Forest Park, north of the latter place. The park is equipped with ovens for cooking, tables, etc., and is kept in good shape by the Department of Forests and Waters, under the direction of Thomas Harbeson, district forester, who has his headquarters in Milroy.

Mrs. (Dr.) G. H. Widder and son, George M. Widder, of Harrisburg; the former's sisters, Mrs. Wilson Moore, of Missoula, Montana, and Miss Elizabeth Harpster, of Harrisburg, were in town last Thursday on their way to Mill Hall to attend the funeral of their brother, George W. Harpster, an account of whose death appeared in the Reporter last week.

W. H. Baird, of Pleasant Gap, made his second trip to the farm this season and found everything in good order. Michael Delaney has been tenant on the farm for seventeen years, which indicates he is a good farmer and that Mr. Baird is also the kind of landlord tenants like. Mrs. Baird accompanied her husband to the farm operated by them for a number of years.

John B. Fortney, former tax collector of Potter township, living at Tusseyville, has been confined to bed since Friday evening, when he received a paralytic stroke which affected his entire left side. He was about the place when overcome and while he suffers no pain and little discomfort, he needed assistance to be put to bed. Since his condition has become serious, with little change during the past few days.

A. H. Stover motored to Philadelphia last week and was present at commencement exercises of Temple University when his brother-in-law, Carra-dean Brown, and W. and Miller were awarded their sheepskins, states the Millheim Journal. Upon his return he was accompanied by Mr. Brown who is a guest here for a few weeks. "Red," as he is familiarly known to his friends, expects to continue his law studies at Yale Law School.

The Kohl Brothers, well drillers from Moonstown, moved one of their outfits from here to Huntingdon, on Friday, where a well will be drilled at an extensive stone quarry. The Kohls put down a large number of wells in Penns and Nittany Valleys last summer and fall, one of them being the 280-foot well for water supply for town use. The water from it, which proved excellent, was needed but for a short time, but further droughts may again make its use necessary.

Charles Lantz, of Millersburg, cashier of the Farmers Bank, previous to its merging with the Millersburg Bank and Trust company, purchased the garage and filling station operated by Lester Ruhl on East Chestnut street, Millersburg. The new proprietor was recently engaged in selling bonds. He is an excellent mechanic and well able to take care of automobile troubles. He is well known to many residents in this valley, who will wish him success.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin S. Meyer, of Altoona, were in town the latter part of last week, having come here to visit Mrs. Sarah Stover, mother of Mrs. Meyer, who at eighty-three is again confined to bed from illness. Mrs. Meyer has long been a lumber inspector for the P. R. R. company, and has traveled over a large section of the U. S. to perform his duties. At the present time he is on one of his four weeks out of six vacation, and these vacations are being accepted with relish.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Pearl Arney attended the funeral of George Harpster, at Mill Hall, last week.

The First National Bank paid its regular semi-annual dividend to stockholders this week.

Mrs. Alfred Crawford is seriously ill and is being cared for by Miss Bertha Rimmey, R. N., of Pleasant Gap.

The Union Sunday school at Spring Mills will hold their Children's services next Sunday forenoon, 10.30 o'clock. Everyone is invited.

C. C. Bartges, of Spring Mills, was one of the Sunday school workers from that place who attended the Sunday school convention here.

The Cumberland Valley Telephone company purchased both the Nittany and Bald Eagle Telephone companies. The Nittany company has about 300 subscribers and the Bald Eagle 200 subscribers.

Miss Evelyn Colyer accompanied Mr. and Mrs. John Cronin to their home at Hyde, Clearfield county, last week, and is having such a pleasant visit there that she is not able at this time to set a date for her return home.

Wednesday morning Miss Ellen Burkholder left for New York city where she will take the summer course in Columbia University and will take up special work to further fit her to fill the position of Assistant Dean of Women at Penn State her alma mater.

Hughesville camp meeting opens today (Thursday) and continues until the 12th. Ministers who will be in attendance are Rev. W. H. Link, Owosso, Mich.; Rev. H. A. Frye, Findlay, Ohio; Missionary, Mrs. Lottie Corman. The rates for accommodation are most reasonable and may be had for single meals and night's lodging, or for the entire season.

Mrs. Sylvester Gutelius, of East Orange, N. J., had been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Booser, and on Friday she will again be here as will also her husband to share the hospitality of the Booser family. Mrs. Gutelius' sister, Miss Catharine Gutelius, who graduated recently from Penn State, has been elected to teach in the Howard High school, and at the opening of school she and her mother will begin light housekeeping in Howard.

PENN STATE GETS $4,120,000.

Among the appropriation bills given the governor's approval, Friday, was the bill to provide for State College. As passed, the measure provided $4,844,781, of which all but four million was to go for extensions of the electric, water, steam and sewage lines at the school. The governor cut this amount to $4,120,000, making the total appropriation $4,120,000.

Sheep Helpless When Turned on Its Back

There are so many ways in which sheep can and do die that it is a wonder any of them are left alive. The most peculiar method of all is that called "dying on their backs." writes A. B. Gillilan in Atlantic Monthly. When horses or dogs roll they either roll all the way over or roll back to the position from which they started; they are unable to balance themselves on their spine, as it were. But when a sheep rolls and reaches a position with its legs pointing upward it is often unable to complete the turn, especially if it has a heavy coat of wool, as is the case in spring.

The reason for this is that a sheep's legs, being very thin, are not able to exert any pull to one side or the other and thus the sheep in righting itself. Its only chance is to twist itself violently, in the hope that some movement may turn it on its side. If unsuccessful in this the unnatural position for some reason causes gas to collect in its body and it begins to float. Finally the pressure of this gas on its heart and lungs becomes so terrific that these organs cease to function. If the eye is found at any time before life is extinct and is turned over on her stomach she will get up, stagger off and deflate, looking meanwhile like a misshapen balloon.

Brides Cling to Old Beliefs About Luck

Wedding superstitions are dying out very slowly, according to a British authority on matrimonial problems. Although the superstitions bride is now the exception rather than the rule, the question of lucky or unlucky hours, days or months still holds a place in the mind of many a young woman contemplating marriage, he said.

May is usually a lean month for weddings, and there are couples who hesitate to get married on Friday. Others have a dread of the 13th of the month.

More remarkable still is the fact that one o'clock—the thirteenth hour—is very rarely chosen for the wedding ceremony.

Green—which, worn as an emerald, is believed to be a talisman against evil—was long viewed with disfavor as a portion of the wedding dress. In recent years, it has been used more frequently.

Recently, a prospective bride stumbled on the doorstep while about to enter a register office. Had she actually fallen there is little doubt that the ceremony, which was taking place on a Friday, would have had to be postponed till a more propitious time.
