Such desserts are not only refreshing to look upon, but are appetizing and sufficiently satisfying after a hearty meal. The following is an old-time recipe, but is always enjoyed: Snow Pudding.

Soak one and one-fourth tablespoonfuls of plain gelatin in one-fourth cupful of water fifteen minutes, then add one cupful of boiling water and stir until well dissolved; add one cupful of sugar, one-fourth cupful of lemon juice stir until the sugar is dissolved. then strain into a large bowl. Beat the whites of three eggs until stiff and add to the gelatin mixture when it begins to stiffen-beat until very light.

WOWEN who work in their own gardens and find the ordinary steel rake beavy and cumbersome will be delighted with bamboo rakes, which come from Japan and are very cheap. Metal rakes now being made in this country have the same pattern and are almost as light. These rakes are especialy useful when cleaning up leaves and grass clippings, but can be used also in garden work of a light nature. They can be handled in much the same way as a broom, and with much less effort than is required to manipulate rakes of the old-fashioned type. These rakes do not look very strong, but will stand a remarkable amount of hard service. Naturally the metal rakes are somewhat more durable than the Japanese product, but the latter is cheap and surprisingly satisfactory.

Longest American Tunnel The Cascade railroad tunnel, longest on the American continent, is 7.79 miles in length. It was built through solid granite, and is lined throughout with concrete. The tunnel is straight as a rifle bore, but the eastern portal is 634 feet higher than the western. This gives a continual flow of fresh air through the tube. Work was commenced December 28, 1925, and the tunnel was completed ready for track laying December 25, 1928.

Paris, the style center of the world, lags far behind America in the design of one important feminine garment, according to Baron de Meyer, famous French stylist and fashion authority. That garment is the one-piece bathing

The American one-piece may not be modest but It's the most modish garment of its kind in the world, the baron writes in Harper's Bazaar. Nothing-and only nothing-can equal it for showing off the feminine figure to the .best advantage.

"Nothing made in Europe can beat the quality of the American-made bathing suit," Baron de Meyer writes. "No other suit of its kind apparently gives the female figure so perfect a shape." In one way, however, the French suits have the bulge on all others. They're so tight that they cause their wearers to bulge in the wrong places. the baron says. European bathing suits would improve, the French stylist believes, if their designers would spend their summer vacations on the beaches studying the needs of bathers. At present it is very difficult to obtain a stylish suit on the continent. The few women who do insist on smart buthing suits are obliged to have them made to order.

Wool Is About Smartest Thing for Sports Wear

If questioning whether or not wool is endurable for summer wear, since it is to be about the smartest thing for sports, try out the venture with a dress of kid angora. One will never know that one is wearing wool, so delightful is it to the touch. Then also, it comes in the faintest and love-Lest of pastel colorings, so becoming that one can hardly resist its appeal.

Linen Mesh Underwear Relief in Hot Weather

Charming Little Coats

Enhance Evening Gowns Lovely little coats are worn over summer evening dresses. They are made in many fabrics, many styles. Some have short sleeves, some bave capelets over the arms, some are really capes. One cape is made of finely pleated chiffon cut in points around the lower edge.

These little coats and capes are made in all the colors of the rainbow, and in black and white as well. If you sew cleverly, they are not difficult to make. And they certainly add much to the effectiveness of the summer wardrobe.

Some of them have a band of fur around the elbow sleeves

Mother's Cook Book BEDTIME STORY FOR CHILDREN

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

THAT is where Peter is not only I nice but smart as well. Kind words always make friends and never make enemies. And the more friends one has the better. But it isn't with any such selfish purpose that Peter does it. Peter says kind things because he thinks kind things.

Now as he sat on the edge of the pond of Paddy the Beaver deep in the Green Forest and listened to the news from the Great Woods in the Far North, as told by Honker the goose, who had just stopped over for the night, Peter was hearing for the first time of Glutton the Wolverine. Buster Bear and Prickly Porky and Paddy the Beaver and Honker the Goose knew him well, and they knew no good of him. Buster had said that everybody hated Glutton; that he was so selfish that when he found more food than he could eat he spoiled what was left so that no one else should have any; that he was so smart in a tad way that no one could hide anything from him, and that he was so strong and savage that most of the people who lived in the Great Woods were afraid of him.

Then Honker the Goose had told how he had watched Glutton follow a trapper and find and pull up all the traps, no matter how cunningly they were hidden, so that no one

"Hunters and trappers," replied Buster promptly.

"Then It seems of me that anyone who can and does get the best of them and actually drives one of them away is doing something good, very good, indeed, for the rest of you. Glutton may be a robber and may kill the smaller people when he can catch them, but when he pulls up all the traps so well hidden that no one else can find them and leaves them in plain sight so that no one will get caught, it seems to me that he has done a splendid thing for his neighbors and that they have no right to say that he is all bad. Just think of how many lives might have been lost in those dreadful traps but for him."

"That's so," grumbled Buster Bear, scratching his head thoughtfully. "I never thought of that."
