Earth Sinks 205 Feet Along Tuscarora Mountain, Huntingdon County.

A new interest has been given to those who live in the vicinity of what is known as the old Stauffer farm, now owned by Charles Flood, and located at the foot of Tuscarora mountain, between Nossville and Neelyton, a short distance over the Juniata county line, in Huntingdon county. A large amount of earth sank out of sight, leaving a hole 16 feet in diameter and 18 feet deep at the first level. Measurements revealed the cavern is 205 ft. in depth. It is 140 feet to water and the water has a depth of 65 feet.

Water is plainly visible and to learn whether or not the stream was flowing, oil was poured on it and it remained. This same ground has been farmed for years. The other Friday persons were picking cherries, mowing hay and children were riding bicycles on it. That night the earth sank.

The cavern is attracting persons from many miles around.

Accident Victim Is Still Unconscious.

According to a report received from the Phillipsburg State Hospital there has been little change in the condition of Howard Cashdollar and Kenneth Miller, who were both injured in an auto accident near the Triangle, Wednesday, July 29, in which two young people were killed.

Cashdollar is still unconscious.

STATE ROAD JOBS.

Sunday, July 26, a large crowd of men worked on the State road between Brishin and Hendersons. They did not want to break the Sabbath, but were given to understand if they did not show up Sunday morning for work they need not come back Monday morning.

The serious side of this Sabbath Day violation lies in the fact that the State Highway Department is building that piece of road. It is not being done by contract. An officer of the Highway Department is in charge of direction of work.—Clearfield Republican.

Learn what a difference six cylinders make

- in smoothness
- quietness
- flexibility
- handling ease
- riding comfort
- dependability
- economy
- long life

Step out of any other low-priced car, step into a Chevrolet, and learn what a difference six cylinders make.

When you start the engine, and let it idle—the car remains steady, as well as everything in it. When you drop into low gear, and let the engine take hold—the power flows evenly. There's no semblance of strain.

This smoothness stays with you whatever you do. Accelerate—throttle down—go fifteen or fifty. Consistently, you get the same fine, smooth response. For six-cylinder smoothness is built in the motor—and objectionable vibration never gets a chance to start!

Yet smoothness is only part of your six-cylinder experience. There's greater quietness, because noisy vibration is gone, and with it a big source of squeaks and rattles. There's greater comfort, especially at low and high speeds. A six doesn't tire the driver or the passengers. There's greater flexibility, because the power-impulses of a six overlap. And response is more positive; performance more elastic. A six is much easier to handle!

And if you raise the hood and watch the engine running—you'll know what a difference six cylinders make to your pocketbook. Without vibration to cause friction and wear, the whole car must last longer, require less repair. Thousands of owners have found that this engine uses less gas and oil than any other.

You owe it to yourself to see and drive a Chevrolet Six now. Learn what a difference six cylinders make.
