Centre Hall Wins County Baseball Championship from Bellefonte
Paul Martz, Local Ace Pitcher, Made Victim of Unwarranted Attack by P. Torsel, Bellefonte 2nd Baseman, Precipitating Free-for-All Fight.

The Centre Hall baseball team won the county championship in the fifth and final game with Bellefonte, played at Hecla Park, Saturday afternoon. To the discredit of the Bellefonte team, the game ended in a gory scene. When Pat Torsel, 2nd baseman of the Bellefonte team, made an unwarranted attack upon Paul Martz, the local pitcher, which resulted in turning a peaceful baseball field into a battle ground and scene of carnage with numerous casualties.

Centre Hall was leading, 3 to 1, in the 8th inning, when the game of baseball was rudely halted and the more brutal form of sport was substituted. It was like this: Paul Martz, who had hit a two-bagger, was on second base with one down; Bradford struck out; Stover hit a bounder to Anderson at third. On the hit Martz started for 3rd, but seeing he was trapped between the bases, played between Anderson and Pat Torsel to gain the base, and finally in a last desperate effort made a dash for second, which was but a few feet away. Torsel naturally was on the base awaiting the throw from Anderson. The ball was tossed to Torsel and at the same moment Martz hit both the bag and Torsel, both players falling to the ground. Torsel made the put out and as Martz gained his feet, Torsel planted his right hand into Martz's left eye. The punch was a wicked one, resulting in completely closing the eye and putting the star pitcher out of the game. Prior to this time both teams had been fighting desperately for the game and the tension was great. Torsel's unwarranted act was like throwing a match into a keg of gunpowder. No sooner had he delivered the blow than the diamond swarmed with players and spectators. Those first on the spot were several local players who went to the defense of their team mate and paid Torsel in kind with plenty to boot. He was rushed off the field by Bellefonte players who took him to a place of safety far removed from the playing field. Among the spectators interfering in the fracas was "Jim" Letzell, defeated candidate for sheriff, who was a sorry spectacle when the dust cleared away. A good suit of clothes was in shreds and his face bore the marks of the attack of an infuriated mob. It was a disgraceful scene. Further play seemed out of the question, but cooler heads finally brought order out of chaos and the game continued, but only under protest by Centre Hall. The war-like second baseman had succeeded in putting out Centre Hall's star pitcher, figuring it to be their only chance of winning the game, and the championship. And it almost worked.

In Bellefonte's turn at bat in the 8th, Harry Gross was on the mound for the locals. The unpleasant affair of a moment before left its mark. The team was not up to par for on the first ball hit by Wheeling, Ralph Martz failed to get the runner at first; a base on balls was given the next batter, and in quick succession, errors by Goodhart and Stover enabled Bellefonte to score three runs and get ahead, 4 to 3. But Centre Hall still had the spirit. It to win when they came up for their last time at bat. Anderson missed; Reiber's hit to 3rd base. Curt stole second and scored the tying run when Frank hit a two-bagger to right. On a succession of fly balls to the outfield and on an error by the catcher, Frank was enabled to score what proved to be the winning run. Bellefonte was retired in one-two-three order in the ninth; McMurtrie struck out; Brown gave Goodhart an easy fly ball, and "Sammy" Weaver, one-time Millheim player, batted for Brown and grounded to Crawford.

Let it be said in all fairness that the entire Bellefonte team should not be censured for the war-like tactics of the Torsel boys. These lads in an inning previous to the bloody eighth, went after Lombarger with hate in their eyes for making a decision at second base not to their liking. So far as the writer is able to judge, the remainder of the Bellefonte team are lovers of fair play, boys who are in the game for the pure love of it, and can take defeat gracefully, even when the championship is at stake. Looking over the box score it is evident that the locals outplayed their rivals. Ten hits for the locals to five for the opposition shows superior strength on the offense. P. Martz, as usual, became stronger as the game progressed. He yielded a total of four hits in the first three innings and then only one in the next four. The three runs collected off Gross in the eighth were made without a hit.

Crawford, Emery and Frank were stars with the stick while R. Martz's catch of Torsel's fly in left field, in the fifth, was an outstanding performance. For Bellefonte, Watson's short-stopping robbed the locals of several hits. Debber was knocked off the mound in the 5th inning, and Brown held the locals safe until the 8th, when Martz's two-bagger scored Goodhart, and in the ninth, which has been told.

"Why My Next Car will be A FORD"

WHEN you buy a Ford there are two things you never have to worry about. One is reliability. The other is long life. Here's an interesting letter from a Ford owner in North Carolina:

"My Ford was purchased May 8, 1928, and has been run 121,767 miles. It has never stopped on the road for repairs of any kind whatsoever except punctures.

"The brakes were relined at 101,000 miles. My gas mileage averaged 21 miles to the gallon, and on tires, 19,000 miles per tire. I travel over all kinds of road conditions—mountainous and flat.

"I consider this a wonderful record and I assure you my next car will also be a Ford."

This is just one of many tributes to the reliability and long life of the Ford. A Ford owner in Iowa tells of driving his Ford 73,000 miles in a single year. Another writes of 120,000 miles of good service.

Think ahead when you are considering the purchase of an automobile and consider what it will be like after thousands of miles of driving. Will you still be satisfied? Will you still say "it's a great car"?

If it's a Ford, you know everything will be O. K. It will be taking you there and back in good style, just as it has always done. And you will have saved many important, worth-while dollars in cost of operation and up-keep and low yearly depreciation.
