CUMBERLAND FARMERS PRODUCE GOOD CORN

Twenty-two Cumberland county farmers averaged 74 bushels of shelled corn to the acre in the second annual corn growing project of the agricultural extension, County Agent W. I. Galt reports. Edgar Peffer, Mechanicsburg, won first honors with a yield of 111.8 bushels on a measured acre. He plowed down timothy sod which had received six tons of manure to the acre and top-dressed with six tons more before planting the corn. Of the 10 high growers two followed alfalfa, three clover, two timothy, two wheat, and one corn. Of the other 12, four followed clover, three wheat, two corn, one pasture, and one timothy. Early plowing was favorable to high yields, as the soil had more time to settle and the sod decayed more thoroughly than with late plowing. Lancaster Sura Crop and Yellow Dent were the leading varieties.

Let's hope that no one is unkind enough to suggest that Uncle Sam's sideline attitude at Geneva means that he doesn't want to be blamed if the League of Nations fails in its efforts to prevent war in the Orient, but that he won't be averse to credit if it succeeds.

SNYDER.—The following death notice is reprinted from the Sunbury Item, of Saturday, and refers to a brother-in-law of F. M. Fisher, of town: Martin Luther Snyder, for fifty-one years a practicing attorney at the Northumberland county bar, died at his home, 214 S. Fourth street, at 7:30 o'clock last night, after suffering a physical breakdown due to advancing years. His decline was not noticeable earlier in the present year. Eventually he was not able to leave his home, then he was confined to his room, and for the past week he was in a stupor in which he did not recognize his family. He was 78 years of age. Descendant of early settlers in Central Pennsylvania, including Conrad Weiser famous and intrepid pioneer, he had a unique career, following the old Pennsylvania canal as a boy to earn money for his education; teaching school, attending various institutions of learning, and finally studying law, and entering the bar. Only a few attorneys, including former Judge C. R. Savidge, George B. Reimensnyder, Esq., and Gen. C. M. Clement, practiced longer than he.

He and his brother, Dr. J. C. Snyder, of Ohio, were two of the oldest twins in the United States. The item recently published portraits of two Texans who are 85, and believed to be the oldest wins, Mr. Snyder and his brother at 79 were but six years their junior. A life of industry closed with the death of Mr. Snyder. In addition to his legal practice he engaged extensively in real estate, and accumulated considerable holdings. In order to achieve higher education he entered Missionary Institute—now Susquehanna University, later going to Bloomsburg State Normal school, being a member of the Centennial class of 1876 and finally entering Princeton University, where, he was a classmate of Woodrow Wilson. On April 18, 1893, he was united in marriage with Ella S. Fisher, the daughter of Major J. B. Fisher, of Penn Hall, Centre county. To this union was born one son, Charles Fisher Snyder, who now resides in Sunbury. The funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon from the house, 214 S. Fourth street, Rev. Chalmers Walck, pastor of the Wirt Reformed church of which the deceased was a member, officiated. Burial was made in Pomfret Manor cemetery.

HOY.—Samuel Calvin Hoy died very suddenly at his home in Howard on Tuesday morning at 6:00 o'clock. Mr. Hoy had arranged to come to Centre Hall that morning to assist at a butchering at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Delaney, and had been in the garage to start his car. Later he returned to the house, and shortly thereafter he expired from heart trouble while in the bathroom. The deceased was a son of George and Catharine (Yearick) Hoy, and was born at Jacksonville, February 7, 1855, making his age 76 years, 9 months and 17 days. He was twice married—first to Miss Nancy Wentzel. The surviving children to this union are Henry Hoy, Romola; Mrs. T. F. Delaney, Centre Hall, and Mrs. Irvin Bierly, of Bellefonte. The second wife was Emma Smeltzer, widow of Charles Yearick, who also survives him. Two sisters also survive him, namely, Mrs. George Glossner, New Castle, and Mrs. Millissa McClintic, California. Funeral services will be held from the home on Friday morning, 10:00 o'clock, with interment at Jacksonville. Services will be conducted by the pastor of the Reformed church, to which the deceased adhered.

Mr. Hoy, during the active period of his life, engaged in farming, and was a citizen who stood well in the community in which he lived. HENNICK.—David Duncan Hennick died on Tuesday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Houser, at the Cross Roads, north of Penn Hall. Funeral services will be held Friday at 9:30, with interment in the Heckman cemetery. The deceased was born Sept. 8, 1851, making his age 80 years, 3 months and 16 days. He was a son of Charles and Rebecca (Mosser) Hennick, and was born and reared in Gregg township, and for many years engaged in farming. His wife, now deceased, was Miss Amelia Haines, but there survive him two children—Esther, Mrs. Lloyd Houser, with whom the aged man made his home, and Charles Hennick, south of Penn Hall. The deceased was the last member of the Charles Hennick family. MOYER.—Mrs. Ida Moyer, wife of Isaac Y. Moyer, died at her home in Cleveland, Ohio, Tuesday morning, as the result of a second paralytic stroke. Funeral services will be held from the home Friday afternoon; burial in Cleveland. Mrs. Moyer was aged at the time of her death, sixty-eight years. The deceased was a daughter of George and Mary (Hennigh) Rearick, and was born and reared in Georges Valley. She is survived by her husband and two daughters—Ruth, wife of H. H. Lichtwardt, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, South America, and Miss Helen, at home; also, a step-son, Frank O. Moyer, in Cleveland. She was married to Isaac Y. Moyer, of Cleveland, Ohio, on December 13th, 1891, a little over forty years ago. The brothers and sister surviving the deceased are William O. Rearick, Milroy; John Rearick, Penna. Furnace; Paul Rearick, Martinsburg; Leroy G. Rearick, Lamar; Mrs. (Rev.) Samuel Moody, Dillsburg, and David H. Rearick, Georges Valley.
