LETTERS FROM SUBSCRIBERS.

Former Resident Writes from Utah.

"While it may not be considered in good taste to discuss the 'repression,' writes Wm. B. Kerr, former local resident, now of Ogden, Utah. 'I regret to state that Utah has not been exempt from its effects. One of the Ogden banks closed on August 31st, and it happened to be one with which I did business. I was fortunate, however, in having only a nominal checking account to be tied up. Efforts are being made to effect a reorganization and re-open it but it seems very doubtful if that can be accomplished.

"The railroad situation here is the same as in other parts of the country, or at least it can hardly be called encouraging. Some changes were recently effected in our organization, but I was not affected—in fact the force in this office has been increased due to another office at his point having been abolished.

"What's the matter with Penn State's football team this year? I note that it has been drubbed with unceasing regularity, and if the distinction of going through a season without winning a game is sought its prospects seem to be excellent. I was pleased to note that Centre Hall won the county baseball championship."

[Editor's Note:—Our friend, Mr. Kerr, asks what's the matter with the Penn State football team. Being 'way out in Utah, Mr. Kerr doubtless is unaware of "State's" new policy to rule out commercialism in college football.

No more scouting through High school and "prep" school for thick-necked youths who can buck the line with the pigskin, and offering them free scholarship to come to Penn State. A good team or a poor one, Penn State in the future will build its football squad from the material it has at hand. Subsidies are out! "State" is a pioneer in this policy, and others in the higher schools of learning will doubtless follow as the years go by,—but in the meantime "State" is taking an awful wallop for the sake of what it believes to be for the best for its school. Incidentally, Penn State did win ONE game—that with Lebanon Valley College, against whom in years gone by scores as high as 80-0 were made.]

Crops in North Dakota.

W. L. Royer, writing to us from Taylor, North Dakota, under date of November 18th, says:

"I am sending you a clipping of the drought we had in the Dakotas this summer. We were not so bad off right here in Taylor, if prices were only better. Wheat brought 42 to 46 cents a bushel; hogs 3 to 3 1/2 cents; cattle prices are very low, yet everybody has feed enough for their stock around here. Potatoes in Wisconsin are only 18 cents a bushel; corn in Illinois is only 16 and 18 cents a bushel. Our corn and potatoes were good this year. "North of us they had lots of rain this fall. We have a fine fall—no snow so far; roads are like in the summer."

Penn State Defeats Temple at Soccer.

The following dispatch from State College appeared in Sunday's issue of the Philadelphia Public Ledger and speaks complimentary of Jack Bradford's work as a player:

Closing an undefeated season, the Penn State soccer team defeated Temple University, 4 to 0, at State College on Saturday. The Philadelphians managed to hold the Lions during the first half, but were unable to stop them in the third and fourth quarters.

The first point was tallied by Edward, which was followed by a clean shot in to the net by Bradford. On a corner kick in the third period, Rosner, Temple fullback, was responsible for a Penn State tally, when the ball bounded off his knees into the net. Masters, nearest Penn State player, received credit for the point. Bradford scored the last goal from about 20 yards out.

FARM CALENDAR

TIMELY REMINDERS FROM PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE

Prepare Early Garden—

During the autumn months a small strip of garden can be plowed or spaded for the first early spring planting of spinach, onion sets, lettuce and other cool crops. Turn under manure if available and leave in the rough over winter. Rake the seedbed smooth before planting.

Feed Cows Profitably—

Careful feeding of dairy cows is especially important when milk prices are low. The ration should be carefully balanced and fed strictly in accordance with the amount of milk produced. Carelessness in feeding increases milk production costs.

Use Efficient Saws—

Many improperly fitted cross-cut saws hang in farm sheds. With a few tool sand a little information the average farmer may change a poor saw into a highly useful and efficient tool. Your county agent, upon request, can arrange a demonstration on saw fitting.

Sows Need Protection—

Bred sows should be well protected during the winter and provided with clean, dry comfortable sleeping quarters. They should, however, be forced to take sufficient exercise daily outdoors in the sunshine to keep them healthy.

Clean Soiled Eggs—

To clean soiled eggs use a knife or steel wool to remove the greater part of the dirt. Then wipe the eggs clean with a damp cloth. Washed eggs do not keep well, say State College poultry specialists.

Fall-Plow Corn Land—

During the past two dry years, better yields of corn have been obtained on fall-plowed soil than on spring-plowed land. Even in wet seasons, fall plowing gives as good or slightly better yields than late spring plowing. Plowing as much land as possible in the fall saves a great deal of work in the spring.

COLLEGE TO BROADCAST 76 AFTERNOON PROGRAMS

Seventy-six afternoon radio programs have been arranged at the Pennsylvania State College to be broadcast from the college station, WFSC. The station operates at 1230 kilocycles.

These afternoon programs which started November 23, will be given at 4 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time, each Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Sunday except during Christmas vacation. Noon broadcasts, from 11:45 a. m. to 12:15 p. m. and the Sunday morning chapel broadcasts at 11 o'clock will be continued as formerly.

A Stevens Gun—is your lifelong friend

Any number of men are using today the same Stevens rifle or shotgun they bought as boys. For Stevens is accurate—and it stays accurate.

Here's the reason: when a Stevens barrel is bored or drilled, the final cutting removes less than one-half of a thousandth of an inch.

And the same painstaking care is given to every detail—to getting a handsome finish; to striking just the right balance.

And then—the prices. Little short of amazing are the prices of Stevens rifles and shotguns. You can pay more, a lot more, for your guns, but you can't buy better shooting qualities or longer wear.

Ask at your dealer's or write for the interesting catalog describing in detail the Stevens complete line of rifles and shotguns.
