

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

The new Chevrolet will have its inauguration beginning Saturday.

Miss Tessa Cummings, of Centre Hall, and Paul Wasson, of State College, spent the week-end with friends and relatives in Pittsburgh.

The Trinity Reformed church school will hold a Christmas service, "White Gifts for the King," Sunday evening, December 20th, at 7:30 o'clock.

The report that farmer Charles S. Smith, on the Humes farm near Bellefonte, lost all of his hogs from cholera, is denied by the Smiths, who ought to know.

The next regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. H. L. Ebricht, next Tuesday evening, December 8th. This is a change from the regular schedule.

State Highway patrolmen have given notice that hunters must keep the legal distance from State highways when hunting in the mountains.

Charles Slatterbeck, now tenant on the Charles A. Miller farm, at Colyer, next spring will move onto the John B. Fortney farm, at Tusseyville. William Jordan will become Mr. Slatterbeck's successor on the Miller farm.

R. P. Campbell and daughter, Miss Jane, were in Philadelphia last week and witnessed the Penn-Cornell football game. They were guests of Dr. Campbell, connected with the University of Pennsylvania, a brother and business partner of Mr. Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Potter, on Friday, went to Johnstown where they spent the week-end with Mrs. Potter's brother, Jack McWilliams, and Mrs. McWilliams. The children were left in the care of Mr. F. V. Goodhart, sister of Mrs. Potter.

Misses Stella and Genevieve Rubie, daughters of Mrs. Sallie Rubie, of town, were home for Thanksgiving vacation. They both are students in Professor Leary's Private School of Business in Baltimore, Md. They came here by auto with C. B. Barbour, of Washington, D. C. and their sister, Miss Mary K. Rubie.

Mr. and Mrs. George Glossner, of New Castle, and Doyle Glossner and sister, Mrs. Holy, of Pittsburgh, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Delaney and daughter Agnes, were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Delaney, Sunday. Other callers in the afternoon were Henry Hoy, of Salona; John Dorman, of Mill Hall; Miss Ruth Fisher, of Lock Haven, and Margaret Fisher, of Snyderstown.

Among the school teachers who came to Centre Hall during the Thanksgiving vacation were Miss Sara Neff, teaching in the State of Delaware; Miss Cora Luse, Altoona; L. O. Packard, Pittsburgh; George Boggs, Pittsburgh; Robert Neff, Simpson Consolidated school near Smethport; Miss Elizabeth Royer, Port Matilda; Miss Charlotte Keller, Reedsville; Miss Mary D. Potter, Belleville.

Wednesday night of last week fire broke out along a fence row close to the mountains, south of the Pen proper. Before it was gotten under control it had spread over a field of ten or more acres but did not reach the forest nearby. Prisoners had retired before the fire was discovered, but they were roused from their sleep and gave valuable assistance in battling the marching column of fire. Forest Ranger Richard Brooks, of town, was also called to the scene.

Ralph Henney, after an absence from Centre Hall for about twelve years, returned to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Henney, the latter part of last week, wearing a U. S. Army uniform, a style of clothing he has been wearing for nine and one-half years, and during about half of that time was in foreign service. He is now at the Schuylkill Arsenal, Philadelphia, taking a course in Army Supply work, which includes supervision of construction and general quartermaster work. He is one of a class of fifty-two young men to begin this training in October, and one of the sixteen remaining at this time. The training will continue until next June. Schuylkill Arsenal is the oldest arsenal in the States, dating back prior to 1800, when it fitted out the Lewis and Clark expedition.

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST.

D. A. Boozer had a telephone installed in his residence.

Miss Margaret Delaney, a student at Juniata College, was home over the Thanksgiving vacation.

Thomas Houghton, an extra station master for the Pennsy, is taking care of the local railroad business for the week during the absence of W. Frank Bradford, who is in the Seven Mountains hunting.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lanson Burris, in town, on Thanksgiving day were Mrs. Jeff Shaffer, Mrs. Clyde Shaffer and son Jackie, Mrs. Lawrence Bowser, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wendler and son, Clifford, all of Altoona; Mrs. Clara Leister and Miss Mary Coble.

Mr. and Mrs. George Glossner, son Doyle and daughter, Mrs. Ed. Holy, of New Castle, were guests of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Spayd, on Sunday. They also visited the Delaney families before returning home. Mrs. Glossner is a sister of the late Samuel H. Hoy.

The Pennsylvania State Grand Lodge, F. & A. M., met in Philadelphia on Wednesday for the election of officers. Representatives from this section who attended the sessions were D. A. Boozer, Centre Hall; John Knisely, Bellefonte, and District Deputy W. Harrison Walker, Esq., also of Bellefonte.

Col. Thompson, band instructor at Penn State, was unfortunate in having an auto accident while coming to State College from the eastern section of the State. Passengers with him were Mrs. Thompson and two students. The students having been picked up by the way. Both the young men received slight injuries. The accident was due to tire trouble.

PINCHOT ASKED $120,000,000; GOT BUT $20,500,000

Bond Issue Hopelessly Lost—Gas Tax of One Cent for 15 Months; Cigarette Tax of One Cent for Each 10 Cigarettes. Only Tax Permitted in New Anti-Pinchot Program.

Governor Pinchot's elaborate program presented to the special session of the State Legislature was radically changed, and so accepted by the governor. This program totals hardly more than $20,500,000 for work relief, plus any sums that local communities may wish to raise on delinquent taxes. Governor Pinchot had asked for $120,000,000.

A tax of one cent additional on gasoline for 15 months is substituted for a two-cent tax for two years.

The one-cent tax on cigarettes will hold for but 17 months.

The $35,000,000 relief bond issue was rejected.

The indorsement of a constitutional amendment creating a $20,000,000 loan for future emergencies, was also rejected.

The Governor's plan to provide a $10,000,000 relief fund to be spent under his direction, with the indorsement of the State Treasurer and Auditor General, was slashed to $2,500,000.

Other measures in his large program were amended and bound with many yards of tape.

"O. K." was placed opposite House Bill No. 1, which amends the general appropriation act of 1931 and which adds $1,332,000 for work in the Departments of Forests, Health, Welfare, Industry, Military Affairs, Property and Supplies and Revenue.

There was no objection to House Bill No. 3, which defers the sale of real estate for unpaid taxes and it gets through.

The bill creating the State Relief Commission is written down in the summary as having been killed.

The leaders of the Legislature amended this so as to require the approval of the Court after five days' notice. They also stipulated that the loans be based upon aggregate uncollected taxes for 1931 and for prior years.

Even the bill making an emergency appropriation of $2,000,000 for State-aided hospitals was altered from the Administration plan. It was amended so as to provide definite of maximum amounts for specified hospitals.

The appropriations of $250,000 to State-owned hospitals and $100,000 contained in House Bill No. 15 were unchanged.

But the measure authorizing the Highway Department to construct or reconstruct streets or highways anywhere in Pennsylvania will be amended so that emergency power expires May 31, 1933.

First Day's Deer Kill.

The kill of bucks and does during the first day of the deer season began trickling in during Tuesday night. The reports are very incomplete, few of the camps having made reports. "Day" hunters from town were successful, four deer, three of them bucks, having been hauled in during the afternoon. The lucky hunters and their kill are listed below.

Harry Harper got the largest buck seen hereabouts. He was captured on a short hunt on a mountain peak, near Sunset club house. John Coldron and W. F. Colyer came off Nittany Mountain each with a buck anyone could be proud of. The buck killed by Coldron was unusually fat; it was covered on inside and outside with layers of it. Bruce Arney and Raymond Brooks are each credited with a deer.

John Mowery, the road house man in Old Fort woods, killed a perfect Albino buck on Nittany Mountain. He wore "buttons" only, making himself lawful buck game. His weight was well above 50 lbs.

McKinney's Report Good, But Incomplete.

Forest Ranger W. F. McKinney made an incomplete return of deer slaughtered the first day of the season. He was unable to visit but a small section of his field. He reports these "fatalities":

- Storock in Krise Valley 3
- Bradford, at Pole Bridge 3
- Shamokin, along State road..... 3
- Cherokee, of Pleasant Gap..... 1
- Camp Claire 2
- Potters Mts hotel hunters 2
- W. F. McKinney 1
- Neff Party, on Decker road.... 3
- J. H. Foust 1
- Wm. Snyder, Jr. 1
- Joseph Carson 1
- Two "short horns," illegal bucks, were picked up.

Hunters, travelers, cattle and horses, all escaped without injury from gunshots, accidental or otherwise, in local hunting fields during the first day's hunt.

17 Kills in Ranger Smith's Ballwick
L. P. Smith, forest ranger east of Spring Mills, on Tuesday evening, when the big game season was in its very infancy, reported seventeen deer had been killed in his immediate vicinity. He predicted a heavy kill before the season closed. The parties successful in his field were these:

- Poe Mills, Shamokin 1
- Gordon 2
- Shady Nook, Sunbury 2
- Settlers 1
- Day Hunters 11

HUNTERS SHOOT HORSE IN MISTAKE FOR DEER

A valuable horse, belonging to one of the sons of Harvey Haugh, at Livonia, was shot in the jaw and was afterwards killed. The animal was mistaken for a deer. The animal was killed.

Aside from the fact that the horse was shot in the jaw and was afterwards killed, the surrounding incidents are indefinite. One story is to the effect that hunters using a light saw the horse in the bushes and fired a shot at it. The animal was one of a team of bays purchased at one of the Dodds horse sales here for which $400 was paid for the team.

The shooting was done a day or two prior to November 22nd.

William Arney, of Millburg, is taking care of the Coburn railroad station. Ray Wilmer, the regular agent, is off due to an injury of the back sustained while pulling a hand truck.

$8000 EXTRA FOR CENTRE COUNTY HOSPITAL—IF!

Providing the plans now proposed to add hospitals in the State goes through, the Centre County Hospital will get $8,000 of the $2,000,000 appropriation provided in the anti-Pinchot program.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Charley Lingle is the right hand man on the Meeker farm since Paul Bradford is giving his time to the Hotel restaurant.

Misses Bettie Ebricht and Donna McKay spent a few days last week in Lewistown. The latter's brothers and sisters came here and for a few days were with her at the Ebricht home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ashley were guests of the latter's brother, D. Mitterling, and family. They came from Lancaster where Mr. Ashley had been employed on the Safe Harbor dam. The couple expect to spend the winter in Southern Florida, and left for the South Wednesday morning. Miss Emeline Brungart spent Thanksgiving Day in New York City, using the Greyhound buses as a means of transportation.

A Stevens Gun—is your lifelong friend

Any number of men are using today the same Stevens rifle or shotgun they bought as boys. For Stevens is accurate—and it stays accurate.

Here's the reason: when a Stevens barrel is bored or drilled, the final cutting removes less than one-half of a thousandth of an inch.

And the same painstaking care is given to every detail—to getting a handsome finish; to striking just the right balance.

And then—the prices. Little short of amazing are the prices of Stevens rifles and shotguns. You can pay more, a lot more, for your guns, but you can't buy better shooting qualities or longer wear.

Ask at your dealer's or write for the interesting catalog describing in detail the Stevens complete line of rifles and shotguns.

After hearing the evidence in an automobile wreck case on Tuesday evening, before Justice C. W. Slack, the parties were able to make a settlement. The plaintiff was Harry W. Frantz, of near here, and the defendant George B. McClellan, a Penn State student. About ten days ago, late in the evening, Mr. Frantz backed his car from the curb to the front of the Emery store and was struck on the right side by the student named in an attempt to pass the car on the right. The cost of repairing the Frantz car was $20.00, and the costs, $12.55, all of which was paid. On the night of the accident Mr. Frantz offered to settle for $22.50.

BULL RUN
BY CARL ED

Here's Where He Gets the Noble Appointment as Official Washer for the Runn Family

1072 Car!

Cartoon strip titled "Bull Run" by Carl Ed. It depicts a man washing a car and a woman talking to him. The man says: "Surely a car is to be proud of one looks like a million dollars when I get here. All cleaned up." The woman says: "Well, she's no time, she's down at the office -- just now he can hardly move like a shell to get here to drive his new shiny feller!" The man replies: "I know, but early we could take a spin --" The woman replies: "Spin indeed -- I've got a job for you that will take you right to the top!" The man replies: "My job is to wash a car and we've got to get some heavy rain!" The woman replies: "So I'll be -- so I'll be --"
