

FARM CALENDAR

TIMELY REMINDERS FROM PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE

Fruit to Win Prizes—

Fruit growers who exhibit at the Penna. Farm Show in January will share in a large prize fund. Several varieties have been added to the unusual standard list of apples. Commercial packs will receive special attention. County exhibits will receive larger amounts as well as a larger number of prizes at the coming show.

Grow Choice Sweet Corn—

In 63 early sweet corn variety demonstrations conducted on truck farms of Pennsylvania during 1931 Early Market was the growers' choice of earliest white and Golden Early Market their first choice of earliest yellow corn.

Cull the Poor Cows

Low producing cows and heifers from poor dams should not be carried through the winter. It is a better and more profitable practice to dispose of these animals which do not pay their board bills and either sell the surplus feed or retain it to supplement a possible shortage next year.

Market Christmas Trees—

Farmers can market Christmas trees from roadside stands. Some find there is less waste when orders are taken before the trees are cut. Poorly shaped trees will not sell readily; they should be converted into wood products later. Freshly cut trees are more desirable because they will last longer in the home than the earlier cut trees.

Keep Potatoes Cool—

Many experiments prove that shortage temperatures affect the yields from seed potatoes. The best temperature is from 36 to 38 degrees F. Very few cellars with heated rooms above can be maintained at this temperature, and cellars with furnaces are unsuited for storage. Where these conditions obtain and a storage is not available, pitting the seed potatoes will give the best results, say State College farm crops specialists.

BIRTHS DOUBLE DEATHS IN PENNSYLVANIA

During the month of August, the birth rate in Pennsylvania was almost exactly double the death rate. There were 15,658 live births and 7,659 deaths. This is a drop of a half point in births compared to August, 1930, and a full point off from 1929. The death rate is also slightly lower than for August of 1929 and 1930. In the United States the death of babies less than one year old is 64.2, that is, out of every 1000 live babies born, 64.2 died before reaching the age of one year, which is 4 less than the average in Pennsylvania.

County Instruments Issued in November.

Sixteen marriage licenses were issued during November at the office of Registrar Harry A. Rossman. Other instruments filed with the same official were fourteen letters, testamentary and administration. County Recorder Lloyd Stover filed eighty-five mortgages and deeds. Prothonotary S. Claude Herr issued 59 judgments and three divorces.
