PLASTER & STUCCO CONTRACTOR

At 12 Locust Street in Lewistown, phone 3064, is considered the leading contracting firm that makes a specialty of plaster and stucco work. Many fine homes in this section are examples of this firm's material and workmanship. Be sure to see these superior plaster and stucco contractors before letting your next contract.

What is the first boast of every community? Not its factories, although factories are important. Not its stores, although stores are indispensable to convenient living. Not even its churches and its schools does a community boast first, but of its homes. And rightly so. We boast of this as a great community and of America as a great country, but we must remember and remember always that this community and this great country of ours will survive only so long as our good homes survive. Destroy our homes and our cities and we will go as Athens and Rome have gone and will be one "With Ninevah and Tyre."

To make houses and homes more beautiful and by so doing speed the onward progress of the community as a whole—this is the purpose of this enterprising modern plaster and stucco contracting concern.

The owners of this concern know that homes cannot long be fine homes, if unattractive appearing houses. Yet they know that not everyone can afford a fine new house. Stucco, as almost everyone knows, is a composition which can be placed over any sort of house, wood or brick, which gives the house a dignified yet homely appearance, which is imperious to the elements and which, once on, needs no further attention—not even painting. And the beauty of it all is that this can be one at a cost within the reach of all.

Such a business is a great asset to the community on a most fundamental way. It provides better, finer, more livable homes. The owners of this concern render that service because their hearts are in the community. It is to them one great home, and to serve it is their pleasure.

FOREIGN MANNERS

"How are you getting along at school Henry?" asked the father.

"Fine," answered the son. "I have learned to say 'thank you' in French."

"Good," came back the father, "that's more than you ever learned in English."

WHAT ABOUT THE DUMNESS?

Dear Doc—"When I was a freshman in college I was hit on the head with a paddle and have been deaf and dumb ever since. What shall I do?"

Answer—"Consult a physician; he may be able to help your deafness."
