

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Martha Boal recently visited her sister, Mrs. E. R. E. Auman, in Rebersburg.

Attaining her sixteenth year, on Friday, Miss Miriam Mitterling was given an evening dinner by her parents in celebration of the event.

J. Lewis Foust, of Burnham, was in town last week, having come to this section on account of the death of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Harry Foust, at Potters Mills.

The Ishler farm, near Linden Hall, vacated by John White when he moved onto the Wm. Brooks farm west of town, is now tenanted by Wm. Young, who formerly lived above State College.

Prof. W. W. and Mrs. Reitz, of Ithaca, N. Y., motored to Centre Hall the latter part of last week for a few days' visit with Mrs. Reitz's mother, Mrs. Margaret Thomas, and sister, Miss Jennie Thomas.

Mrs. W. F. Keller returned from Homestead the latter part of last week, after having been in that place for about three weeks caring for her sister, Mrs. (Rev.) D. J. Wolfe, who had been ill, but is now able to be out of bed.

The Philipsburg Daily Journal entered upon its forty-fifth year. It is the outgrowth of The Weekly Journal, established in 1868, and came under the management, in 1881, of W. T. Bair, the present owner. The paper well deserves the patronage it enjoys.

S. E. Sharer, of near Linden Hall, was a business caller at this office on Monday. He is engaged in hauling milk for the College creamery and is also a general dealer—a busy man. He built for himself one of the handsomest houses in Harris township and is living very comfortably in it.

Roy Dutrow is kept busy these days in properly caring for 2050 chicks and 150 yearling White Leghorn hens. He is rearing the chicks for the Kerlin Poultry farm. The birds range in age from a week to six weeks. To date losses by death have been very light. The birds are all doing nicely.

For a week or more following Easter there was a dearth of eggs in this section. Hucksters running into Lewistown found the same condition there, making the demand for eggs much greater than the supply. No one seemed to know any reason for it. At this time hen fruit is again on sale with scarcely a limit in quantity.

Truck owners are receiving a brief questionnaire from the State Bureau of Revenue, together with a letter from the Secretary of the Commonwealth, Beamish, asking them to state whether they are using their trucks to haul for profit, and if so, whether charges are made by the hundred weight, and other information. At the session of the last Legislature a bill was passed laying a tax of eight mills on the gross earnings of individuals, firms or corporations using trucks for transporting merchandise of any kind for pay.

Mrs. J. M. Coldron, who is successful in handling hens for egg production, was not in good grace with a well-groomed Leghorn rooster, judging from the bird's actions a few days ago. Mrs. Coldron was looking over her flock of about 140 hens, when the rooster flew in her face, striking her with both spurs on the forehead. Long deep lacerations were made from which blood flowed freely. A second attack was avoided by the swish of a broom handle that happened to be conveniently located. The hens, by the way, are laying eggs in such numbers that their owner is satisfied with their efforts.

R. S. Hagan, local Dodge and Plymouth dealer, comes before Reporter readers this week with the first of a series of advertisements on Goodyear tires which will greet you throughout the year. We need tell you nothing about Goodyear tire quality in this item. That well-known tire is so well established in the opinion of its users that further praise would be superfluous. But the matter of price is something to talk about. It is doubtful if you ever again will be able to purchase such tire quality as at present prices. Give your local dealer a "break" when you need new tires for your automobile. Don't fish out a small order blank, and take a chance. For the same money—certainly at a higher price of no consequence—you can get recognized quality. Keep an eye on Mr. Hagan's weekly ads, every one a new one.

The following is reprinted from the Centre Democrat and refers to a former Potter township youth: Prof. Lester E. Baird, and family, of Mansfield, Pa., spent the Easter week-end period with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Baird, of Pleasant Gap. This was Prof. Baird's first visit here since last fall, when he came home to satisfy an urge to witness one of the Penn State football games. Prof. Baird is principal of the Mansfield High school and, incidentally but by no means no less important, is coaching the high school wrestling team, and we are confident is developing some promising grapplers. Local friends of the Professor will recall his student days at Penn State and his rise to stardom at the mat game. This is assurance that Mansfield High team will be heard from in their mixup with future opponents. The Baird family have several boys who have inherited their father's fondness for wrestling and it wouldn't be surprising to learn that before long they will be able to "pin" Dad's shoulders to the mat.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Irvin Stover, of Yeagertown, was a Reporter caller on Saturday.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Levan Smith, Tuesday night.

Miss Cathryn Dale, of Boalsburg, has recovered from an illness of a week or more, due to grippe.

Miss Grace Smith, of town, the Charles representative, attended the National Fitting Institute held at Altoona from March 28 to April 2.

D. A. Boozer, who has been confined to bed for two weeks from complications, is no better at this time. Fortunately he suffers little or no pain.

Mrs. W. R. Neff, at Centre Hill, entertained for a few days, two of her grandchildren—Agnes, daughter of Homer Neff, and Helen, daughter of John Neff.

Those from a distance who attended the funeral of Mrs. Harry Foust, at Potters Mills, were: Mrs. Anna Johnston, daughter, Mrs. Tomlinson, and son, from Harvard; Mr. Hurst, from Greensburg; Mr. Blair and son, from Westmoreland county.

Fire wardens in Penn District, which includes this section, were called to Milroy on Wednesday night for instruction. State Forester Wert was the principal speaker. The meeting was held in Community hall.

Mrs. Wm. H. Reish, of State College, visited her mother, Mrs. Annie Homan, in Centre Hall, last Friday, and upon returning home was accompanied by her sister, Miss Cora Homan, and niece, Anna Elizabeth, who remained in the college town for a day.

A series of meetings especially for young folks will be held in the Centre Hall Methodist church the first week in May, under the auspices of the local Epworth League. Young people from neighboring places will conduct these religious meetings.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Buckwalter and little daughter, of Cincinnati, Ohio, arrived here by auto Sunday and have since been at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Brooks. Before returning home they will go to Philadelphia to visit Mr. Buckwalter's parents.

Mrs. Grace Fruzzell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Millward, of Pleasant Gap, on Tuesday returned to her home from the Lock Haven hospital where she underwent an appendicitis operation. She has the brightest prospects of fully recovering in a brief period of time.

John Snaveley, of near Centre Hall, on Tuesday, was taken to the Geisinger hospital, Danville, by his neighbor, Fred Slack. He was also accompanied by his son, Harry Snaveley, of Spring Mills. Mr. Snaveley has been ill for some time.

Mrs. B. W. Ripka, accompanied by her son Dean, daughter, Miss Luella, and granddaughter, Wava, of near Potters Mills, on Sunday drove to Sewickley, in the Pittsburgh district, where she visited her brother, H. F. Burkholder. On her return she brought with her her son, Paul Ripka, who had been employed in that section for a number of years, but of late has been one of the great number of unemployed.

R. M. Smith and J. G. Dauberman, on Sunday, went by auto to Syracuse, and Monday continued on almost sixty miles farther to Adams, where they transacted business and returned home the same day. They found the roadsides through northern New York covered with great banks of snow, and the fields, too, were snow covered in many sections. The elaborate dairy barns about Syracuse indicated to them a prosperous dairying section.

Ernest Frank, of town, who will close his second year of teaching in the Pleasant Gap Junior High, has been engaged for the 1932-1933 school year by the Spring Township school board. He is a graduate of the Centre Hall High at a time it had but a three-year course, and the following year attended State College High, which gives him the credit of a full four-year High school course.

From the Mifflinburg Telegraph: Mr. and Mrs. Levi Hartley, Bruce and Ruth Hartley, of Centre Hall, visited here Sunday with Mrs. Mabel Hartley, Donald and Junior Hartley, who had been spending sometime in Centre Hall, were here also. Junior, who recently recovered from scarlet fever, is suffering with a heart condition as a result of the malady. While here he was examined by the family doctor, who suggested that he return again to Centre Hall for his health. He expects to stay for another month.

C. P. Long, prominent citizen of Spring Mills, was a caller at this office on Wednesday. His advertisement for delegate to the Republican National Convention from this district will be found in this issue. The district is entitled to two delegates and Mr. Long aspires to be one of them. The Republican party may well feel safe in placing its faith in the judgment of Mr. Long, who has for many years given sincere and conscientious thought to all political issues, as well as his best services to the party.

J. N. Mong, district deputy grandmaster, I. O. O. F., in the southern district in Centre county, accompanied by his staff, on Monday evening installed the officers of the I. O. O. F. lodge in Blanchard. His staff was made up of seven district past deputies, among whom were J. M. Carson, V. A. Auman, Centre Hall; J. E. Clinger, Lemont; and Edward Zong, Boalsburg. On Saturday evening, Jerre Altonduffer, district deputy of the northern district, assisted by his staff, will install the officers of Penns Valley lodge at Pine Grove Mills.

Chicago, Convention Champion of 1932

Chicago Stadium in which the Democratic National Convention will be held. Inset—Melvin A. Traylor, member of the Civic Committee which obtained the Convention for Chicago

CHICAGO has jumped into a long lead over other cities in the race for winning convention assignments, and particularly the two great assemblages of Democrats and Republicans in June puts Chicago well in the lead and gives the "Windy City" an opportunity to stage these colorful affairs as a curtain raiser to the "Century of Progress" which will be a headline attraction in 1933. Already the convention pot is boiling merrily as committees of prominent business men are organizing to receive thousands of visitors in Chicago during June.

One of the leaders who has helped to bring the blue ribbon convention assignments to Chicago is Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National Bank and a business man with a flair for tackling big jobs. Mr. Traylor, a native of Kentucky, has achieved national and international fame in finance and business by his distinguished service in Chicago, Texas and throughout the Middle West. He was one of the delegation headed by E. N. Hurley and Mayor Cermak of Chicago who went to Washington and clinched their bid for the National Democratic Convention with a fund of $200,000.

Chicago has exceptional facilities for entertaining both Republican and Democratic conventions within a single month. Already the engineers are at work with blue prints to arrange the interior of the huge Chicago Stadium where both conventions will be held.

The assembling of both conventions promises to be a great spectacle, for the arena where delegates will be seated will accommodate between 8,000 and 10,000. Circling the arena are 16,000 seats where guests and visitors may be accommodated.
