Pierce Duck and family, of Woodland, who are intimate friends of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wingard, spent several days outing at Paddy Mountain.

Miss Josephine Duck, of the University of New York, is at her parental home, that of Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Duck, enjoying her vacation.

E. T. Jamison made a business trip to State College last week.

J. O. Beaty, of Avis, was in town Friday evening, transacting business.

Bartges Reunion Held—

The Bartges reunion held at Woodward Cave last Saturday was attended by about 125 members of the clan. The first thing asked of the members as they arrived was to be sure and register at headquarters. The forenoon was spent in greeting and meetings.

After dinner the meeting was called to order by the president, Prof. N. L. Bartges, of Avis. Rev. Lee Bartges, of East Point, offered a prayer, and Rev. Woodrow Bartges, of Millheim, made a very appropriate address of welcome, followed by an address by Rev. C. N. Wolfe, of Wilkes-Barre.

Then there was a talk by C. C. Bartges, giving a history of the first Bartges who arrived in Penna. Valley. A. E. Bartges also gave historical facts of the clan. Following is a list of those present: Prof. and Mrs. N. L. Bartges and Miss Harriet, of Avis; Rev. and Mrs. C. N. Wolfe and son Charles F. and daughters Grace and Dorothy; Rev. Woodrow Bartges, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bartges and children Tessie and Ina Ruth, of Millheim; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ertel, of Coburn; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bartges and children of Logan Mills; Rev. and Mrs. Lee Bartges, of East Point; Mrs. John Moyer, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Moyer and daughter Josephine, of Green Bury; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hettlinger and daughter Ethel, R. E. Hettlinger and daughter Miss Verna, Spring Mills; Henry Hettlinger, Altoona; Mrs. Clara S. Muaser, of Johnstown; Miss Mayme Gentzell, of York; Mrs. Anna Bingham, of Selinsgrove; Mrs. Mary Frankenberg, of State College; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Emig, Logan Mills; Mr. and Mrs. Welshans, Hillaire Calvin, and Elwood, of Booneville; Frank Emig, Logan Mills; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gobbie, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Gobbie, C. F. Bartges, C. C. Bartges, Ivy W. Bartges, Mrs. H. H. Raschau, Spring Mills; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bartges and Miss Isabelle, Booneville; Mrs. E. A. Bartges and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hinkle, of Danville; Mrs. Ammon Showers, Miriam and Frances, of Green Bury; Ernest Guisevite, of Eastville; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hettlinger, Spring Mills; Mrs. Della Reiser and daughter Ruth and son William, of Centre Hall; Mary and Harry Bartges, of Booneville; George Bartges, of Uffington, West Va.; Maud Beck, Loganton; Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Iken and daughters Mary and Sarah, of Logan Mills. The day was spent very pleasantly; the weather was fine, and the slogan was: "My Wulla Elch Widder Sena."

CHILDREN'S DAY IN EVANGELICAL CHURCH

The Evangelical Sunday school observed their Children's Day on Sunday evening. The cantata, which was written by Rev. C. W. Baker, Jr., was entitled "The Awakening."

A short review of the cantata follows: The King had promised the children a party, and then fell asleep and forgot all about it. Mother Nature finds him asleep and reminds him of the party he has promised the children. He then places Mother Nature in full charge of the arrangements. She calls her daughters, Spring and Summer, to assist her. After the children, flowers and birds had been called together, the King bade Spring and Summer present the real reason of the party to the children.

Spring pointed the children to their flag. She told them that few countries dedicate a day to their children, and she hoped they would honor their flag, emblematic of the land of the brave.

Summer pointed to them the fact that before the flag could wave over our land, the Cross of Jesus Christ inspired our founders to noble deeds and lofty purposes. Christianity is at the base of all true government.

The cast of characters was as follows: Mother Nature, Ruth Hartley; King, Rouben Rickett; Herald to the King, Junior Hartley; Spring, Marie Snyder; Summer, Kathryn Bender; Girl, Bernice Frazier; Her Sister, Margaret Smith; Children, Elaine Snyder, Bobby Frazier, Dean Runkle, Gilbert Ralston, Gerald Ralston.

Flowers were represented by Grover Smith, Louise Ralston, Kenneth Runkle, Paul Bender, Lefa Blitner, Grace Smith, Lillian Bender, Jay Runkle, Lawrence Bender, Frances Snyder, Jean Hanna, Fernie Hanna, Betty Lou Sweeney, Geraldine and George Lutz.

Birds were represented by Edwin Crawford, Billy Daup, Anna Marie Whiteman, Margaret Smith, Janet Runkle, Kenneth Frazier, George Ralston.

The program was well executed throughout, including the singing and speaking of the smaller children.
