woods on the Alfred Reiber farm.
Those present were Mr. and Mrs. James Runkle and children; Steward Jordan, Stoner and daughter Jean.

Mrs. Mark Fetterolf, of Colyers who turned to the John Weaver home for the summer months to recoup his health.

The farm crops are not growing very fast on account of the dry weather, but there will be fruit in places where Jack Frost did not destroy it.

There are four young fellows from Mt. Carmel who are spending some time in their hunting cabin in this place, who say they are out of work and times getting harder; that the poor in Mt. Carmel are moving together—several families in one house—to lessen the rent.

DEATHS.

McCOOL.—Bruce Franklin McCool died very suddenly from heart trouble on Sunday morning. He had been employed for a considerable length of time at the Spring Mills silk mills and 9:00 o'clock laid down on a lounge to rest. A short time thereafter when a room, the young man was at the point

Slips on Linoleum, Youth Breaks Leg

Monday morning of last week, while assisting to move a stove, Glade Horner, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs.
Samuel Horner, of Tusseyville, slipped on the linoleum and in falling twisted his left leg in such a manner that the bone snapped between the thigh and knee. He was taken to the Centre County hospital where the fracture was reduced.

Glade had gone to the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Slatterbeck, nearby, to help move a stove. It was while he was lifting at one corner of the range that his foot slipped and he fell, the weight of the stove causing him to twist his leg.
A year ago last February the youth broke his right leg while playing with some friends at school.

pleted, the boys entered enthusiastically into playing games and storing away the delicious refreshments served. The members of the class present were: James Gearhart, Wm. Kerlin, Donald Foust, Eugene Emerick, George Emerick, Chalmers Weaver, Gerald Fetterolf, also, the teacher.

A "YOUNG DEMOCRATS" CLUB FOR CENTRE COUNTY

National Slogan Is "A Million Members by November"—Eugene Burkholder Is District Superintendent for This Section.

On the eve of the National Democratic Convention in Chicago, on June 27th, "Young Democrats" Clubs of America plan to hold a convention of their own. Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, the 34-year-old President of the University of Chicago, has been chosen to deliver the principal address. The choice of Dr. Hutchins in this capacity is significant of a new interest in the connection between education and politics. President Hutchins is a national figure, not only because of the Chicago Presidency, but because he has been apioneer in the work relating to education and politics. Being a youthful executive, organizer and an original thinker, President Hutchins has illustrated the fact that advancement depends upon "not how young a man is but what he can do." Today this can be applied to politics in a very helpful manner. Both major political parties need young blood—young men who will become statesmen with the best interest of their country as their political objective, instead of selfish political gains. The Democratic party needs the opportunity for the young voters and have taken advantage of it by effecting a National organization of young Democrats.

A group of representative Democrats from every State in the Union met in Washington, last March, to lay plans for the national organization.
Many clubs have been organized since then. The rapid development of the organization has led to the calling of this national meeting to formally launch a drive for "A Million Young Democrats by November," and to complete a permanent National organization. Approximately 1500 young Democrats will assemble in Chicago for the convention.

During the day of the 27th there will be meetings of the constitutional committee the executive and financial committees, of the district chairmen and vice-chairmen, and of the national Students Committeemen. The conference dinner will be held at 7 P. M., at which time Dr. Hutchins and other speakers, will deliver addresses. The evening session will be devoted to the adoption of a constitution prepared by a committee appointed at the March meeting. The Hon. Wright Patman, Texas congressman, is chairman of the Constitutional committee.

The National officers of the organization are: Tyre Taylor, president; Raleigh, N. C.; Elizabeth Wheeler, vice president, Washington, D. C.; John Boyd, secretary, Salt Lake City, Utah; John P. Stedman, temporary treasurer, Raleigh, N. C.

Pennsylvania is a part of the second district comprising Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia and the District of Columbia.
The chairman of this district is Arthur C. Perry, Washington, D. C.; vice-chairman, Miss Kathryn M.
Strine, York, Pa. Eugene W. Burkholder, of Centre Hall, has been chosen as district supervisor for this section.

Centre county should have a strong organization of young Democrats, and this movement gives Mr. Burkholder an opportunity to effect one that can be made an asset to the party in the county and State. The county organization, together with individual influential men of the party, should cooperate in accomplishing it. May Centre county contribute her proportionate share of "A Million Members by November."

T. J. QUIGLEY SPEAKS
ON "SAFETY" TO KIWANISANS

Thomas J. Quigley, of the Department of Labor and Industry of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, addressed members of the Bellefonte Kiwanis Club at the meeting Tuesday noon in the Penn Belle Hotel. Mr.
Quigley, speaking on "Safety," made the astounding statement that one person is killed in an accident every five minutes in our country in its mills, factories, mills, on the highways and streets, in our homes and elsewhere. Over one hundred thousand people a year have their lives cut short by accident, suggesting that far more attention should be paid to safety, and methods thereof, of life and limb. Seventeen millions of dollars are paid out for accident compensation every year in Pennsylvania, but the cost of accidents in our State mounts up ninety millions of dollars a year with the addition of hospital costs, medical and nursing care and incidental expenses.

Formerly the most dangerous place was in the mines. Accidents in mines and in industry have been reduced to a very large degree through safety devices and precautions. The speaker declared that at present it is safer in mines and in industry than on our highways and city streets.

The rate of accidents in homes is high. The speaker suggested one "don't" and a "do" as two very fruitful sources of accident prevention in the home. The don't is to never turn on or off or handle any electrical appliance or any switch while in the bath tub or turning on a faucet; the do is to put hand rails on all stairways. Disobeying these has been responsible for many of the long list of accidents in the home.

Guests present were Joseph G. Butterworth, Pittsburgh; W. E. Gremley, Lock Haven, and Kiwanian Jack Frost, State College.
