The Reporter's comments on the lack of knowledge of how to cut a limb from a tree by workmen in town, brought resentment, but also closer cuts, and that was the purpose of the comment. It is only fair to say that the removal of limbs being done here is solely being done with the idea of permitting light to shed more freely from the street lights. In doing this without regard for the appearance of the tree itself, many of our beautiful shade trees now present a lopsided appearance. Home pride should have prevented this by permitting no cutting other than would have raised the clearance to a reasonable height and not put the tree out of balance.

Well one thing must be said for the property owners in Centre Hall; they are submissive.

Boalsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smeltzer, of Pleasant Gap, were visitors in town Saturday evening.

Leland Walker and family have returned home after spending the past three months in Junction City, Kas.

A number of people from this vicinity attended the Kiwanis-Farmers picnic at Grange Park, on Thursday.

Dr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Hall, of Wilmington, Del., arrived in town last week, expecting to spend the summer in their main street residence.

Miss Dolly Lonberger, Mr. and Mrs. Snowden Lonberger and son, of Washington, D. C., spent a few days among friends in town and at State College.

The town team were winners in a game with Pine Grove Mills, on Thursday, and also at Baileyville, on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Meyer and P. W. Weber were Sunday dinner guests of Miss Annie Weber.

Miss Hester Christ and Dr. P. L. Swank are driving new cars.

Misses Lucille and Virginia, and John Patterson, who were released from scarlet fever quarantine last week, spent Sunday with their grandmother, Mrs. Anne Patterson.

At present the town is without a scarlet fever quarantine sign.

DEATHS.

BENNER.—Frank Benner, son of William and Nancy Odenkirk Benner, both deceased, died in Boston Massachusetts, on Thursday. He had been living in and about that city for more than thirty years, and during that time engaged in various pursuits. He was at the home of his brother John and sisters, in Centre Hall, for several weeks, having come here for the summer. About ten days before his death he began feeling ill, which condition induced him to return to Boston. The announcement of his death was the first news concerning him after returning to New England.

The body was shipped here Sunday, and was buried from the home of his brother, G. O. Benner, where services were held, the same conducted by Rev. J. M. Kirkpatrick, of the Presbyterian church.

The deceased is survived by these brothers and sisters, all living in Centre Hall: George O., John, Bessie and Breeze Benner.

ROSS.—Mrs. Barbara Ellen Ross died from apoplexy at her home near Linden Hall, on Wednesday morning of last week, at the age of 75 years, 11 months and 11 days. Interment was made in the Boalsburg cemetery, Saturday morning, Rev. S. A. Snyder, of the Lewistown Evangelical church and former pastor of the deceased, having the services in charge.

Mrs. Ross was a daughter of Henry and Rebecca Kline Houtz. Her husband, James Ross, died in 1922. The widow continued living on the farm, conducting the same with the aid of her sons, John and Samuel. There also survive her three brothers and sisters: Elmer Houtz and Mrs. Edward Cunningham, Bellefonte; Harvey Houtz, Toledo, Ohio, and Mrs. William Houser, Linden Hall.

WEBER.—Mrs. Blanche E. Weber, wife of W. W. Weber, died in Howard on Tuesday, at the age of 63 years. She was a daughter of Dr. L. R. Hensyl, deceased. She is survived by her husband and a daughter, Mrs. R. I. Hoch, of Lock Haven, also two brothers, Dr. W. C. Hensyl, of Berwick, and Dr. G. F. Hensyl, of Mahoney City, and a sister, Mrs. W. J. Kurtz, of Howard.

WATSON.—William G. Watson, a freight conductor on the Snow Shoe branch, died in Bellefonte on Monday, aged 53 years. A wife and several children survive him.

LINGLE.—John David Lingle, after an illness of four or five weeks, died at his home at Spring Mills on Friday evening, at the age of 80 years, 2 months and 24 days. Interment was made on Monday morning in the Holy Cross church cemetery, Georges Valley, Rev. W. E. Smith, of the Evangelical church, officiating.

The deceased was a son of Conrad and Sarah Immel Lingle. He is survived by his second wife and these children: Mrs. Minnie Jamison, of Youngstown, Ohio; Mary Jane Lingle, Milroy; Mrs. Nora Ripka, State College; Mrs. Annie Ritter, Lock Haven, and Stella Lingle, at home. A brother, Henry Lingle, Colyer also survives him.

Mr. Lingle suffered from a peculiar ailment, a breaking out on his face, which in a short time spread over much of the face and back of the head. About twenty years ago, Mr. Lingle was afflicted with cancer on the lip, but this had apparently entirely healed.

VICKERS.—Mrs. Rosalie M. Vickers died in Washington, D. C., on Wednesday, aged 79 years. Funeral services were held on Saturday.

Mrs. Vickers was the mother of Mrs. Morrow, wife of Dr. Hugh Morrow of Centre Hall. Dr. Morrow and family drove by auto to Washington on Friday, returning Saturday after the funeral services.

HAINES.—Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Haines, widow of David Haines, died at her home in Bellefonte Wednesday of last week, of complications following apoplexy stroke received Tuesday evening. She was 90 years of age. Surviving are two sons: William E. and Charles Haines, both of McKeesport; also by one brother, S. T. Barry, of McKeesport. She also leaves her granddaughter Margaret Haines, who has made her home with her for a number of years, and other grandchildren. Mrs. Haines was a member of the United Brethren church and has been a resident of Bellefonte for fifty years.

GAUNT.—Critically ill for the past several weeks, William Rhoads Gaunt, a retired blacksmith and one of Mifflinburg's highly respected residents, died at 8:30 P. M., Tuesday of last week at his home in Mifflinburg, at the age of 78 years and 20 days. Death was due to infirmities. He had been in poor health for five months.

Mr. Gaunt was born May 21, 1854, at Potters Mills, the son of Richard and Susan Gaunt. He was a member of the Mifflinburg Lutheran church and Mifflinburg Lodge, F. and A. M., No. 370.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Ella Heimbach Gaunt, and one son, Charles B. Gaunt, of Mifflinburg.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon from the late residence at 2:30 o'clock, with Rev. Dr. W. M. Reasick officiating. Burial at Mifflinburg.

As the Reporter goes to press the Democratic convention in Chicago is building a platform and is preparing to nominate the next president of the good U. S. A. We know who it will be, but we don't like the idea of being called a political prophet, so we are not telling the world.

RAILWAY MAIL CLERK

REICHENBACH RETIRES

Under a recent act of Congress, J. S. Reichenbach, railway postal clerk on the Bellefonte and Lewisburg branch for twelve years, will be compelled to retire on Friday, after a service of thirty-two years.

M. Reichenbach entered the mail service in 1900 as a transfer clerk in Pittsburgh, and after a year in that department he was given the Elmira and Baltimore run, where he remained for four years, and then transferred to the Harrisburg and Erie run where he served for eleven years. For four years his run was between Sunbury and Lewistown, and his last twelve years' service was on the branch through Penna Valley.

Due to the fact that the postal railway clerks who served during the period of that covered by Mr. Reichenbach, received very low salaries, except for the last few years, their compulsory retirement is resented and declared an injustice. They gave their services in youth at insignificant salaries compared with the salaries given those in the beginning of the service now. Many feel they should be permitted to serve longer so their salary for the entire service would average up better.

Mr. Reichenbach, a resident of Sunbury, has been very efficient in his line of work and is held in the highest esteem by the postmasters and mail messengers along the L. & T.

WILBUR STOVER IN

AUTOMOBILE WRECK

Tuesday evening at about 9:00 o'clock, a Chevrolet coupe driven by Wilbur Stover, of town, and a touring car crashed together on the concrete road below Milesburg. Mr. Stover and his companion in the car, Paul Stoner, were pretty badly battered up, but were able to be about Wednesday morning to attend a hearing of the case before a Bellefonte justice.

The accident occurred when a car turned in the road in the path of the Stover car. The coupe was badly damaged.

Mr. Stover, who is the catcher for the local ball team, with Stoner, was on his way to bring back a car that had become disabled while Stoner was driving it, when the accident happened.

ANGRY BULL UPSETS

FARMER ASTRIDE HORSE

Cleve H. Eungard, farmer east of Centre Hall, had an experience Sunday morning which was unusual, and while he suffered some bruises, he and his family nevertheless consider him fortunate in escaping with nothing more serious. Mr. Eungard was watching some cattle in pasture, owing to no fence having been made to enclose the pasture land, and was riding horseback. Without a moment's notice a bull came for the horse and running between the animal's front legs, upset the horse, throwing Mr. Eungard to the ground and the horse on top of him. The bull evidently was satisfied with his conquest for it made no further advances.

Mr. Eungard sustained a bruised hip and a general shaking up which confined him to bed Sunday and Monday.

METHODIST CONFERENCE

CLOSES SESSIONS

Gains in Methodist membership during the last year in the Central Pennsylvania annual conference area reached approximately 1,400 according to the reports of district superintendents which were received at the opening of business session of the 64th annual conference held in the Pine Street Methodist church, Williamsport, last week.

Conversions throughout the four districts totaled 5,674 and raised the net church membership of the conference to 108,810 persons.

These reports of the encouraging spiritual progress were less reassuring in financial matters, all of them showing slumps in receipts that approximated 10 per cent. Contributions for World Service, which includes missionary and benevolent gifts, totaled $160,146. The congregations raised for conference causes $48,715 and expended in physical improvements or for debt retirement, $173,500.

Rev. H. F. Brumbtugh, Newport, was re-elected conference treasurer and designated as his assistants the following: Revs. M. H. Crawford, Milesburg; D. M. Kerr, Burnham; N. G. McCloskey, Hazelton; A. A. Price, of McConnelsburg; J. G. Rigby, of Neff's Mills, and W. M. Young, Williamsport. T. Max Hall, of Warriors Mark, who has been first assistant statistician, was elected statistician and appointed these assistants: Victor B. Hann, of Martinsburg; Herbert Glasco, Altoona; J. Miles Pheasant, New Bloomfield; N. A. Thomas, of Beach Haven; and Seth W. Russell, of Pine Grove Mills.

Historic moments marked Friday's procedure of the conference, when for the first time in the history of the denomination laymen and clergy assembled together on an equality in an annual conference.

Former Mayor Herbert T. Ames, 88, former mayor of Williamsport, the author of the first general conference memorial providing for equal lay representation in annual conferences, was chosen by acclaim honorary president for life of the lay conference.

After much discussion it was finally decided to hold the annual conference meetings hereafter following Easter, in April, instead of during June as has been the practice for the last two sessions, and to retain the four districts of the present conference.

The First Methodist Church of Lewistown will be host to the 1933 session of the conference.

Sixty-two changes were made in the appointment of ministers. Changes in this section, also new fields of ministers known here, are noted:

Altoona District—Ramey and Jamesville, M. S. Derstine.

Sunbury District—Pleasant Gap, R. C. Dershen; State College, Wesley Foundation, G. C. Welner.

Harrisburg District—Burnham, H. E. Crow.

Williamsport District—Bellefonte, E. R. Heckman; Mill Hall, J. L. Copck; Port Matilda, H. P. Simons; Salona and Lamar, J. P. Huribert; Woolrich, H. L. Jacobs.

Rev. H. A. Pruyn, pastor of the local church, it is announced with pleasure, has been returned to this field.
