The electors' names, under a new law effective for the first time, will not appear on the election ballot.

The State Senate, with the aid of Senator Scott, passed a measure providing for nominations of candidates by the convention method, abandoning the direct primary laws. The measure should pass the House. The direct primary laws have failed in accomplishing what was claimed for them.

Potter township is advertising for bids to transport school children from their homes to school and back for the 1932-33 school term. The fact that a route has been established from the Earl Ross farm to Earlstown indicates that the Manor Hill school has been closed, leaving but nine schools in the township to be opened.

DEATHS.

LEE.—Mrs. Clara Burton Lee, wife of F. D. Lee, passed away at her home in Centre Hall on Friday morning of last week at 5:30 o'clock. Mrs. Lee was stricken with gripe in the spring time, and complications developed which caused her to take her bed about seven weeks ago. Her condition grew worse daily until the end.

The deceased was the daughter of John and Charlotte Calvert, and was born at Lock Haven. She resided at Williamsport for many years, at which place her marriage to Mr. Lee took place, nearly three years ago. Following that event, Mrs. Lee came to Centre Hall with her husband, and became identified with the Lutheran church here. She was a woman of many fine characteristics, made friends readily, and held those friendships. Funeral services were held at her late home Monday morning at 9:30 by her pastor, Rev. S. F. Greenhoe, following which the funeral cortege proceeded to Jersey Shore where interment was made.

WALKER.—In Philadelphia, on Monday, Annabelle, wife of Clifton Walker, aged about forty-five years. Interment was made in Berlin, on Wednesday. The deceased was the eldest of three children of William L. Kurtz, deceased, and Annabelle Kissinger, and was born in Centre Hall, in the home now occupied by W. J. Bradford.

RIMMEY.—Ida Mae, aged 3 months, 25 days, daughter of Edgar and Esther Bitner Rimmey, died of bronchial pneumonia, at the family home near Tusseyville, after an illness of a few days, although the child had been in rather delicate health for the most of its short life. Interment will be made this (Thursday) afternoon at Tusseyville, Rev. D. R. Keener of the Reformed church to officiate. Besides the parents, a sister and three brothers—Lola, Robert, David and Harold, mourn the little one's death.

RISHEL.—Rev. C. W. Rishel, of State College, died in the Clearfield hospital on Monday evening, following an operation. The body was brought to the home at 729 West College Ave., State College, and today (Thursday) will be taken to Montoursville, where interment will be made. The deceased was a son of John and Margaret Dauberman Rishel, and was born on the Rishel homestead, near Stone Mill. He was aged 71 years.

There survive the deceased a wife and two children—a son and a daughter; also, several brothers. Rev. Rishel was in the active ministry of the Methodist church for 36 years.

POORMAN.—Although he left Centre Hall in the spring of 1889 to locate in York, Matthew Daniel Poorman, for many years a prominent figure in various ways in that manufacturing center, notice of his death was received here with great regret by former close associates. Mr. Poorman died on Tuesday of last week, at the age of 67 years.

During the time of the funeral on Friday afternoon, at the bureaus and departments at City Hall, except the police and tax collector's office, were closed as an expression of regret.

Before attaining his majority, Mr. Poorman left Centre Hall for Preport, Ill., where he engaged in the extensive carriage works of Haney, in that city, which at that time was an outlet for ambitious young men from here to earn. His health failed, and he was brought back here by his mother. Upon regaining his health he went to York, where he has since lived.

Like in the Illinois town, when first going to York he engaged with the Martin Carriage Works, and devoted his labor exclusively to varnishing vehicle bodies. He became an expert in this line and was able to command high wages.

Later he associated himself with the York Iron Bridge Company, a concern selling largely to county commissioners, including those of Centre county, and finally acquired the business, taking his son, Riter Poorman, as a business partner.

Having in the meantime filled minor political city office with ability, he was appointed a city commissioner, and succeeded himself in that office once or twice by election. He was a Democrat, but his faithful performance in office won the confidence of the voters and he was elected by a handsome majority, although the city had a normal Republican majority of 2000 and up.

He was born in Milesburg, his mother before marriage to Mr. Poorman having been Miss Margaret Tate. There were two sisters, both deceased—Mrs. John Smith and Mrs. Wm. Runkle—both of whom lived in Centre Hall for a number of years. The mother married John Riter, the well known veterinary surgeon. About fifty years ago the Riter family moved from Milesburg to Tusseyville and later to Centre Hall.

The deceased is survived by a son and a daughter, his wife having died some years ago. There also survive him a half-brother—Edward Riter, of Centre Hall; also, Mrs. Frank Ross, Library, and Mrs. Pearl Brown, Bellefonte.

Woodward Evangelical church, the Rev. A. C. Paulhamus officiating. Interment was made in Fairview cemetery, Millheim.

LOCAL GOODYEAR TIRE DEALER EXTENDS TIME FOR SAVING ON TIRE BILL

R. S. Hagan, local Goodyear tire dealer, whose sensational announcement in these columns, last week, to allow from $6 to $18 for your old tires on the purchase of new Goodyears, has met with such success in the sale of tires on the above proposition that he has decided to continue the opportunity until Saturday night of this week. "That's a bargain worth buying, as millions of car owners know by experience," says Mr. Hagan. "When Goodyear tires sell at prices like this, it certainly pays to say to yourself, 'Why be satisfied with any second-choice tire? First choice costs no more.'" See the ad. in this issue which gives detailed information.
