E. W. Crawford suffered a paralytic stroke last week and is now lying dangerously ill at his home here.

Wheat was being sown in Northumberland county, on Monday. Most of the wheat sown earlier is just coming through the top soil.

The Miller Motor Company in this place last week received by freight a sedan, coach, coupe and truck—all Chevrolets.

Mode Auman, of Gregg township, sentenced September 13, 1922, to serve five to ten years for larceny, and breaking and entering, was paroled by Governor Pinchot last Thursday. He was one of nine paroled upon recommendation of the State Board of Pardons.

Misses Bertha and Isabel Snyder, daughters of Mrs. Ida Snyder, of Mifflinburg, were recent guests of Miss Elizabeth Royer, in town. Miss Royer and Miss Isabel Snyder are both teaching school in Port Matilda. Miss Bertha Snyder is a telephone operator in Mifflinburg.

C. E. Leitzell, of Milton, is at present track foreman on the L. & T., filling the place vacated by Levi Hartley, of Centre Hall. Mr. Leitzell, it is understood, will hold the position only temporarily. He will likely be succeeded by a man who has had longer track-work experience.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Smith, of Dillsburg, were in town on Monday, visiting the former's brother, Postmaster R. M. Smith, and also another brother, Lloyd Smith at Centre Hill. Mr. Smith is engaged in the general store business at Dillsburg, and is feeling the depression keenly along with the rest of us.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Shultz, and Mrs. Sarah Donaldson, of Marklesburg, drove to Centre Hall on Saturday, and on returning home took with them Miss Sarah Donaldson, R. N. Mrs. Donaldson is the mother of Mrs. C. A. Spiker and the other ladies are her sisters. The ladies and Mr. Shultz, of course, were guests at the Spiker home while in town.

Lowell Thomas, radio news broadcaster, told us a few nights ago just how Pennsylvania measured up with regard to wild game. Not New York, or Colorado, or any other State in the Union was first in the number of deer and bear killed, but Pennsylvania held that position. Value of wild game taken last year was estimated at $10,000,000, and adding the value of furs, etc., brought the total to $16,000,000.

Walter Leroy Miller, while at the home of his grandfather, D. A. McDowell, at Axe Mann, climbed into a tree and by the breaking of a limb on which he was standing fell a distance of thirty feet. He was picked up unconscious and taken to the Centre County hospital where he regained consciousness Saturday morning. He is suffering from a slight concussion. He is nine years old and is a son of Paul E. Miller, Bellefonte.

A most bold and almost successful attempt to rob the gas tank on a car was discovered in Millheim the other evening. Earl Espenshade had his car parked close to a street light and later was informed there were suspicious actions of men seen in the vicinity of it. Investigation revealed that a thin rubber hose formed a line from the gas tank to a five-gallon can nearby, and that almost all the gas had gravitated to the can. The can and hose were taken in charge by Mr. Espenshade.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Jordan, of Reading, for the first time drove over the new concrete road from Potters Mills westward on Wednesday evening of last week. It was a rainy night and dark. The changes in the road confused the driver so that he was unable to locate himself, and continued driving until he found the barrier over the road above Tussey Sink school house. He retraced and after making inquiry succeeded in finding Tusseyville where he had lived for many years. He had passed the old home within twenty-five or thirty rods.

While Clymer McClenahan and Joseph Hartley were engaged in repairing a local telephone line at Pine Stump school house, a deer came bounding from the mountain and through the fields in the direction of Gregg Station. It was a buck with three prongs, and as he was making good headway the continuous baying of a hound was heard along the mountain side. In due time the dog came along on the deer's trail, and when he reached the Brush Valley road he was intercepted by James Seanson, who happened there at that time. By a bit of coaxing the dog was befriended and finally penned in the coal bin at the school house nearby. The collar the dog wore indicated he belonged to a State College party.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Some forty persons enjoyed a card party at Sunset Club house on Thursday evening.

An estimated loss of $50,000 in the destruction of farm property within a 30-mile radius of Williamsport has been sustained by six families since September 25.

The car shops at Avis were booked to open Monday with a force of 210 men. About fifty men were previously employed. The shops have not been operated on a production basis for two years. It is not known how long the work will last.

Colonel Frederick B Kerr is a native of Clearfield, fifty-six years of age and has made good everywhere he started. He served his country gallantly during the Spanish-American War and again during the World War. To meet and know him is to admire his sterling qualities of mind and heart. There are no better men anywhere. Send him to Washington and his constituents will always know where he stands and what he will do.

Mrs. L. P. Smith, with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nelson, as auto guests, all of Cleveland, Ohio, on a pleasure drive through Pennsylvania mountains, stopped for a brief time with Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Smith, on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Smith was here for a few days about a year ago with a party of ladies, among whom was Mrs. Julia Smith Peacock, also of Cleveland, and at that time the farm home of Mrs. Peacock, at Centre Hill, was made their headquarters. Mr. Nelson is connected with the Cleveland Board of Education and is on vacation at this time.

R. M. Smith and W. L. Jacobs on Saturday morning, drove to Philadelphia where they visited the former's daughter, Miss Marian Smith, in training at Jefferson hospital. From there they went to Camden, N. J., where they paid their respects to Mr. and Mrs. Clay W. Reesman, and Willis A. Holley. The latter came to the Kurtz home here more than forty-five years ago, and became "one of the boys." He and his wife are taking care of a large business block. I. A. Sweetwood and family, at Norristown, were also visited and were found to be in "reunion" for the day.

Mrs. Roxanna Robertson, accompanied by her father, B. D. Brislin, arrived here Friday evening from Hartford, Conn., by auto. The distance, by the most direct route, is 370 miles, necessitating an overnight stop which was made at Washington, N. J. Mr. Brislin, long a resident of Centre Hall prior to going to the New England city to live, will become ninety-one years of age next April. He is looking fine and is feeling that way. While his step is not as regular as it was when under the command of General James A. Beaver during the Stratten, he is not dependant on any one for aid.

W. R. Neff, of Centre Hill, is gradually recovering from the effects of a paralytic stroke and on Saturday was able to walk out through the yard. Being able to eat and sleep well and without pain for many days—even this began getting on the nerves of the former active man led to the belief that the monotony might be broken up by a twinge of pain now and then. He was accommodated. Out of doors too long one day bred a case of pleurisy, which broke out in the dead of night. It was but for one night he suffered from this well-known disease, but since then he is of the mind that if being without pain again becomes a bore, he will want the spell broken by some other disease than the one which came without being selected by him.

In a note from Prof. A. M. Allison, of Highland Park, Illinois, he compliments Centre Hall taxpayers on being but ten per cent. short of normal in the payment of taxes at this time, and expresses a wish that that much could be said of the great city of Chicago. Mr. Allison is a former principal of the Centre Hall High school (30 years ago) and is one of the outstanding instructors in the long list who occupied that position. Both as a teacher and citizen, Mr. Allison is most pleasantly recalled. The fact that he is a regular subscriber to the Reporter, although absent from here for so many years, attests to his interest in the affairs of the community in which he once labored so faithfully.

BOALSBURG WINS FROM CENTRE HALL HIGH

In their first meeting on the soccer ball field this season with Centre Hall High, Boalsburg won on their home grounds, Friday afternoon, by a score of 2 to 0. It was a hard fought game from start to finish, the visitors adding scoring on several occasions by a few inches, but—close ones do not count in soccer.

Boalsburg is credited with having the strongest team in the league this season, and are starting out with high hopes of winning by hard consistent work when in practice as well as when meeting competitors.

The Roosevelt-Garner Club will meet in Odd Fellows hall, Friday night, 8 o'clock.

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Grover Weaver, in Altoona, last week.

Mrs. Alice Smith, of Akron, Ohio, is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Mary Neff, south of town.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Homan, with their aunt, Mrs. C. N. Kryder, and Mrs. W. W. Kerlin as auto guests, made a business and pleasure trip to Williamsport, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Herman, together with a party of friends of Phillipsburg, on Sunday, spent the day at the Herman summer home at Manor Hill. An evening dinner was spread on the lawn and was much enjoyed by the participants.

Mrs. L. R. Lingle, on Friday, went to Kennett Square, near Philadelphia, where she will remain for the winter with her son, James B. Lingle, and family. Her home here is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Fuller, the former one of the superintendents for the Lassiter Co., road builders.

Voters in Centre Hall borough and Potter township favoring the election of Roosevelt and Garner are invited to join the Roosevelt-Garner Club at its meeting Friday night, in Odd Fellows hall. No dues are required. Come to the meeting and join in forming a permanent organization.

C. D. Bartholomew had the misfortune to fall from a four-foot step ladder and injure one of his legs sufficiently to force him to sit the remainder of the day with his leg cocked at a forty-five degree angle. He was making some repairs on a low roof and in stepping from it to the ladder, the ladder tilted over, causing Mr. Bartholomew to fall. He states the injury is most singular since he landed on the best cushioned part of his body and the back of his head, the least protected, while the injury is to the lower part of the leg held in the air when landing. He is improving at this time and is moving about with the aid of crutches at the time this issue of the Reporter is being printed.

JUDGE JOHNSON RESERVES DECISION IN SKINNER CASE

A dispatch from Scranton says: Judge Albert W. Johnson of the United States Court reserved decision in the appeal of counsel for the New York Life Insurance Company for a new trial of the suit of Mrs. Flo Skinner, of Lewistown, who was awarded $58,000 in insurance for the death of her husband by a jury last March. Attorney Clarence Baletine of Scranton, and Col. Clarence Rufus Elder of Lewistown, argued for the company and presented affidavits from two witnesses at the trial in which they admitted they perjured themselves. The question at issue was whether Skinner was murdered or committed suicide.

The witnesses, according to defendant counsel, were Esther Beck and Ruth Troy, both nurses at the Dr. F. W. Black Hospital in Lewistown. The women said in the affidavit they came to testify at the insistence of Dr. Black. They testified at the trial that they heard two shots fired, apparently in the Skinner home, on the night Mrs. Skinner's husband died of a bullet wound. They were on the roof of the hospital at the time they testified. In the affidavits the company's counsel pointed out they now state they never heard any shots.

It was Dr. Black who conducted the autopsy and who testified that he extracted the copper-jacketed bullet from Skinner's skull, a slug which could not have been fired from the revolver found near his body. Former Senator Fred W. Culbertson represented Mrs. Skinner in opposing the petition for a new trial.

Do This, Please, When You Change Address

Will Reporter Subscribers who change their address, kindly bear this in mind: To Send Us a POSTAL CARD immediately upon removing to a New Location, notifying us Both as to the OLD and the NEW Address. Doing so will cost you only a penny. For some reason unknown to us, Uncle Sam exacts 2 cents from us every time he notifies us of the change of address of a subscriber. These changes of address, kind reader, amount to a considerable number in a year's time, and the cost incident thereto cuts into the meager income obtained these days in the Country Weekly Newspaper office. It is only fair to ask you to do this—send a cent in notifying us of your change of location. We shall consider it as being very thoughtful on your part, and thank you.
