

CORRESPONDENTS' DEPARTMENT

Rebersburg.

Clymer Tyson and friend, from Harrisburg, visited at the Wm. Tyson home for several days.

Mrs. Johnston, of Lock Haven, visited at the Wm. Brungart home last week as the guest of Sara Brungart.

Mrs. Johnston and Miss Brungart were student nurses at the Centre County Hospital and graduated in the same class.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Gramley and Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Haines spent Saturday at Bellefonte and State College.

Harry Ziegler and family were to State College on Saturday to witness the football game.

Mr. and Mrs. Behm, from Coburn, visited Mrs. Behm's grandmother, Mrs. James Ziegler, on Sunday.

Calvin Weaver, Jr., and wife spent Sunday at Lemont, the guests of their son, Prof. Walter Weaver.

Roy Kreider, of East Orange, N. J., was at the home of his father, W. J. Kreider, over the week-end.

Mrs. N. O. Weber, an aged lady, suffered a paralytic stroke on Friday night, and due to her age very little hope is entertained for her recovery.

Ralph Gramley brought his mother, Mrs. Clement Gramley, from Forty Fort on Saturday, where she had visited at his home for a week.

Charles Gramley, of Lock Haven, transacted business in town Saturday. (From last week.)

Prof. Earl Smull, of Jenkintown, spent the week-end at the home of his father, C. C. Smull.

Miss Kane spent the week-end at Kingston.

Prof. Ralph Gremley, of Forty Fort, arrived in town on Saturday and Sunday his mother accompanied him to Forty Fort for a short visit.

Rev. and Mrs. Brown, of Reading, are visiting friends in town. They came at this time to assist in the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the Madisburg Reformed church. Many of our people attended the services at Madisburg on Sunday.

Boalsburg.

Rev. W. J. Wagner, of State College, spent Thursday in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Smeltzer, of Pleasant Gap, were visitors in town on Sunday.

Twenty-five members of the Stormstown Grange visited Victor Grange on Tuesday evening. The visiting Grange had charge of the degree work and the host Grange served refreshments.

Miss Rachel Segner spent Tuesday evening with Mrs. Edwin Dale on the Branch.

Miss Marian Dale spent the week-end with a party of friends in camp at the Ice caves near Spruce Creek.

Philip Bradford, of Lemont, recently purchased the Rowe property on Main street. His son, Carl, and family expect to occupy the home.

Forrest and Millard McGirk, of Altoona, were in town on Friday. The Women's Class of the Lutheran S. S. will serve a chicken and waffle supper, with vegetables and dessert, on Thursday evening, November 3rd, in Grange hall at 5:30 o'clock. Price 50c.

Luther K. Dale is representing the Boalsburg Lutheran charge at Conference at Snyderstown.

Mr. and Mrs. George Homan and daughters, accompanied by Mrs. Waldo Homan and children, of Oak Hill, spent Saturday in Bellefonte.

The soccer game between Spring Mills and Boalsburg on Community Day was a tie. The Spring Mills girls won the Volley Ball game.

Spring Mills.

Mrs. Della Reber, of Centre Hall, spent a few hours in town Sunday, visiting friends.

Mrs. Harry Showers of Pleasant Gap, and her brother, Fred Mulfinger, and lady friend, of Akron, Ohio, were visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Mulfinger last week.

Word has just been received that John C. Auman, a life-long citizen, had died, and his remains will be laid to rest in the Georges Valley cemetery on Wednesday.

FRUITTOWN.

Mrs. Blanche Fye, who is still in the Bellefonte hospital, expects to arrive home next week, much improved.

Roland Fye, a patient in the Bellefonte hospital, underwent an operation, and a second one will be necessary in the near future.

The new road job opened on Bald Mountain to give the unemployed work.

Albert Brubaker spent a few days last week at the W. M. Ishler home.

Cyrus Stover saw a large bear on a tree near his home a few days ago. Bruin was busily engaged enjoying a meal on acorns.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stone of Potters Mills, visited at the Fye home over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Stiri Stoner and children spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George Sweeney at Centre Hall.

There will be Communion and Feet Washing service at the Brethren-in-Christ church, Saturday evening of this week, and services all day Sunday, and Sunday evening there will be recitations. Everybody is cordially invited to attend these services.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

J. A. Wagner, et ux, to Charles F. Single, tract in Gregg twp., $1,400.

Wm. D. Gordon, secretary, to Mary K. Stuart, tract in State College, $1.00.

Edward C. Riley, et ux, to Emma M. Riley, et bar, tract in Harris twp., $1.00.

Charles Corl, et ux, to Mary E. Corl, et bar, tract in Harris twp., $1.00.

A JOURNEY TO THE PENN STATE FOREST

By LEWIS E. STALEY Secretary, Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters.

An automobile tour through the Penn State Forest during the autumn months presents an allurement of changing color of the foliage of Pennsylvania's hardwood forests.

The Penn State Forest, named in honor of William Penn, founder of Pennsylvania, is located in the beautiful Seven Mountain section of central Pennsylvania, located in parts of Centre, Mifflin and Juniata counties.

The forest is bisected by State Highway Route No. 53 between Lewistown and Bellefonte. From this route other highways lead off into the surrounding country. The excellent system of roads and trails which traverses the Penn State Forest makes accessible to tourists, hikers, and nature lovers an area of singular scenic charm.

Starting at Bellefonte, Mifflin county, eleven miles from Lewistown, on Highway Route No. 305, one enters State Forest land three miles distant. Interesting vistas along the highway unfold panoramas of mountains, streams and valleys. The beautiful Kishacoquillas Valley and the northern slope of Jacks Mountain are plainly visible. Continuing over Standing Stone Mountain brings one to Greenwood Forest Tree Nursery and Public Camp.

The Greenwood Forest Tree Nursery supplies millions of trees annually for reforestation purposes, and a visit to this nursery affords an excellent opportunity to see the manner in which forest tree seedlings are raised. A quaint stone church, erected in 1876, is located near the nursery site, and its beauty is ever admired by the thousands who visit it. The Greenwood Public Camp is equipped with fire places, shelters and tables. Pure mountain water is piped to all parts of the camp.

Continuing from Greenwood in an easterly direction, over an improved State Forest road for a distance of five miles, brings the motorist to the Greenwood forest fire observation tower, where a splendid view of the Seven Mountain region may be obtained. Retracing two miles and turning left, one descends the northern side of Standing Stone Mountain. A short distance down the mountain a vista has been provided which affords a most interesting forest view.

At the foot of the mountain a left turn over an improved State Forest road, and following the telephone line brings one to a game refuge caretakers cabin. Continuing on and rounding the western end of Buck Ridge, you descend to Stone Creek, after first crossing Chestnut Spring Run. After crossing Stone Creek, you soon intersect the Stone Creek Forest Road.

Turn right, follow Stone Creek for a distance of two miles, and then a left-hand turn takes you through Stone Creek Gap; a picturesque, winding, and improved State Forest road, for a distance of six miles, extends through an improvement cutting in a white oak stand and a white oak study plot. This road intersects with State Highway Route 53, at the Sunset Club House.

Turn right, and in following Route 53 on passes a George Washington memorial forest tree plantation and the Penn Forest Tree Nursery, which is also the headquarters of Ranger W. F. McKinney, near the town of Potters Mills. Continuing southward across the mountain on Highway Route 53, one and one-half miles distant, you arrive at a mountain clearing known as the Faust place, which is the site of a road house famous in the early days. At this point turn left and travel over an improved State Forest highway, which ascends to the top of Sand Mountain, 2150 feet above sea level, which is higher than any land in sight, and seemingly the top of the world, as it affords a panoramic view of the surrounding mountains.

Continuing eastward you descend into Big Poe Valley and pass through several interesting forest tree plantations. Winding along the crest of Little Poe Mountain and finally ascending the north side of Long Mountain you arrive at a vista which gives an extensive view of Poe Valley and the Poe Mountain tower. Arriving at the top of Long Mountain, turn south and you will soon approach a vista from where six mountain ranges are distinctly visible. Be sure to go into second gear down the mountain. At a distance of two and one-half miles you skirt Devil's Hole, and finally emerge into the agricultural Kishacoquillas Valley at the foot of the mountain and continue over a good township road to Sigleville.

At Sigleville turn right to intersect with Highway Route 53 at Milroy, which is the District Forester's headquarters. During this tour you traverse thirty-five miles through continuous but changing forest area, have passed but one gasoline filling station, one restaurant stand, and 25 camps or cottages.

On this journey through the Penn State Forest the tourist will find the forest officers courteous and willing to do all in their power to answer questions and make your journey a happy and instructive one. The district forester of the Penn State Forest is T. C. Harbeson with headquarters at Milroy.

1931: $593.25.

Joseph Smith, loss of grain by fire, February 26, 1932: $125.

All of the above claims have been satisfied and the company is in good condition.

Additional weight may be put on turkeys and the quality of the meat improved if the birds are fed fattening milk for 15 days before marketing. Such a mash, used successfully by turkey growers, consists of 2 pounds of ground corn, 1 pound of ground oats 1 pound of middlings or ground wheat and 2 pounds of liquid skim milk or buttermilk.

Young tree seedlings growing in fields near the woods, in open spots in the forest, or on the windward side of isolated trees may be located and tagged now. Next spring these can be pulled and used for plantings.

Cabbage, beets, carrots, parsnips, rutabagas, salsify, and winter radishes can be stored in an inexpensive barrel pit. Layers of soil and straw or leaves are used to cover the barrel which is placed in a horizontal position in the side of the bank or in a well-drained location in the garden.

Where records of production are kept on every cow those not coming up to the required yield can be promptly removed, say State College specialists. Many dairymen weed out all cows producing less than 7000 pounds of our per cent milk in a year.

Young men and women who desire to become familiar with the very latest agricultural information and practices will have an opportunity in the winter short course at the Penna. State College, January 5 to March 2, 1933.

If the bees need additional food it can be supplied in the form of sugar syrup.

At a recent meeting of the Centre County Mutual Fire Insurance Company, Patrons of Husbandry, the following farm losses were reported for Centre county:

Dr. W. S. Bigelow Estate, loss of barn by fire February 5, 1932: $4000.

Miss Delinda Potter, damage to house by fire August 25, 1932: $37.55.

O. H. Nason, loss by fire of barn and contents, machinery, May 19th, 1930.

J. A. Heckman, damage to house by fire, May 9, 1932: $15.23.

Miss Anna Dale, damage to furniture by fire; June 1, 1930.

W. E. Homan, loss by fire of barn and contents, implements; $2964.18.

Claims in Clinton county satisfied include:

H. N. Nighthart Estate, loss of grain, hay, stock, machinery, October 26th,

Worth selling is worth telling—advice.

1931: $593.25.

Joseph Smith, loss of grain by fire, February 26, 1932: $125.

All of the above claims have been satisfied and the company is in good condition.

Additional weight may be put on turkeys and the quality of the meat improved if the birds are fed fattening milk for 15 days before marketing. Such a mash, used successfully by turkey growers, consists of 2 pounds of ground corn, 1 pound of ground oats 1 pound of middlings or ground wheat and 2 pounds of liquid skim milk or buttermilk.

Young tree seedlings growing in fields near the woods, in open spots in the forest, or on the windward side of isolated trees may be located and tagged now. Next spring these can be pulled and used for plantings.

Cabbage, beets, carrots, parsnips, rutabagas, salsify, and winter radishes can be stored in an inexpensive barrel pit. Layers of soil and straw or leaves are used to cover the barrel which is placed in a horizontal position in the side of the bank or in a well-drained location in the garden.

Where records of production are kept on every cow those not coming up to the required yield can be promptly removed, say State College specialists. Many dairymen weed out all cows producing less than 7000 pounds of our per cent milk in a year.

Young men and women who desire to become familiar with the very latest agricultural information and practices will have an opportunity in the winter short course at the Penna. State College, January 5 to March 2, 1933.

If the bees need additional food it can be supplied in the form of sugar syrup.

At a recent meeting of the Centre County Mutual Fire Insurance Company, Patrons of Husbandry, the following farm losses were reported for Centre county:

Dr. W. S. Bigelow Estate, loss of barn by fire February 5, 1932: $4000.

Miss Delinda Potter, damage to house by fire August 25, 1932: $37.55.

O. H. Nason, loss by fire of barn and contents, machinery, May 19th, 1930.

J. A. Heckman, damage to house by fire, May 9, 1932: $15.23.

Miss Anna Dale, damage to furniture by fire; June 1, 1930.

W. E. Homan, loss by fire of barn and contents, implements; $2964.18.

Claims in Clinton county satisfied include:

H. N. Nighthart Estate, loss of grain, hay, stock, machinery, October 26th,

Worth selling is worth telling—advice.

Have You Seen

the alluring array of Fall and Winter Coats and Dresses at NIEMANS? We have gathered the most complete stock of new merchandise we have ever shown. Dresses, Coats, Hats, Shoes—'from head to foot' as it were—at most unusual prices.

HATS

New shipments arrive constantly. New colors and shapes. 95c to 1.95

COATS

Amazing—outstanding and exquisite garments. Every style selected for a particular type. Abundantly furred; at reasonable prices. Do not wait any longer to select a new COAT.

DRESSES

in both wool and silks, are new with a smartness of neckline and sleeve treatment—and a return of feminine individuality. Prices range from $1.95 to $8.95, and higher. Make it a point to see the new colors and the smart swagger suits at $8.95.

SHOES

this fall mean Suede. We have a full line.

The TOPCOAT

Season is here. —$8.95, and higher—

The famous BALL BAND Rubbers & Arctics

Open Every Evening except Tuesday & Thursday

NIEMAN'S DEPT STORE

MILLHEIM, PA.

GREEN SAVINGS STAMPS WITH EVERY PURCHASE

Clothes for the Needy

Women volunteers sewing for the needy under direction of the Red Cross produced 296,000 garments last year, and will produce millions of garments in the winter of 1932-33. These will be from the millions of yards of cotton cloth distributed by the national Red Cross from the 500,000 bales of cotton turned over to the organization by Congress. Cloth was sent to all chapters requesting it, and later it was proposed to send some simple ready-made garments, including trousers, overalls, underwear, stockings and sox.

Democratic Candidate For REPRESENTATIVE in the GENERAL ASSEMBLY

ROBERT J. MILLER State College VOTE FOR HIM November 8, 1932.

leads all candidates by MILLIONS of Sales! The public votes Goodyear Tires the best again in 1932 as it has every year since 1916. That's a record you can bank on. The public KNOWS tire values by experience. Last month, Goodyear built its 200 millionth tire. Why buy any second-choice tire when GOODYEARS cost no more?

HAGAN'S GARAGE Phone 56 CENTRE HALL

The Centre Reporter $1.60 a year

I'll Tell You Free How to Heal

Bad Legs

Simply anoint the swollen veins and sores with Emerald Oil, and bandage your leg. Use a bandage three inches wide and long enough to give the necessary support, winding it upward from the ankle to the knee, the way the blood flows in the veins. No more broken veins. No more ulcers nor open sores. No more crippling pain. Just follow directions and you are sure to be helped. Your druggist won't keep your money unless you are.

FOR SALE—Fine iron white enamel bed, with heavy continuous posts and link springs; also, 3-burner oil stove with oven—Apply at this office.

Penny-a-word ads are effective. Try them.

The Centre Reporter, $1.50 a year

When contemplating holding PUBLIC SALE, call the undersigned, and reverse charges.

E. M. SMITH STATE COLLEGE, PA. Phone 1082

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK CENTRE HALL, PA.

WEIS PURE FOOD STORES

FRED LUSE, Manager CENTRE HALL

Manzanilla STUFFED OLIVES qt bot 49c

Conqueror Mixed Vegetables 2 cans 19c

Del Monte Brand RED SALMON 2 tall cans 25c

Fancy PRUNES 3 lb 25c WEIS QUALITY Evaporated MILK tall can 5c Sundale KETCHUP 2-14-oz bots 25c

Longhorn CHEESE . . lb 21c Pabst-Ett CHEESE 2 6-oz pkgs 29c

California Apricots 2 cans 29c Pineapple lg can 17c Milco Malt lg can 39c Pabst MALT 2 1/2 lb can 37c FOOTBALL FREE!

SPICED WAFERS . . . . . pkg 10c PREMIUM FLAKES . . . . . 2 lbs 20c CAMPFIRE MARSHMALLOWS . . lb pkg 19c