There are plenty of cabinet makers, good and bad, overstocking the market with hand-made cabinets, also good and bad, for President-elect Roosevelt. The head-of-the-Government announced that his own selection of cabinet officers will not be made until the New Year breaks in, and further that no denials will be made of any guesses made by friend or foe.

DEATHS.

KOCH—Mrs. Susan Bower Koch passed away on Friday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Finn Stover, at Carnegie. Five or six years ago Mrs. Koch suffered a paralytic stroke from which she never fully recovered. Her age was 78 years. The body was shipped by rail to Bellefonte, and Sunday afternoon transported to Centre Hall where interment was made, services having been conducted by Rev. S. F. COURT HEARS LIQUOR CASES.

Almost the exclusive time of Criminal Court this week was given over to the hearing of liquor law violations. Offenders in some cases were given imprisonment and fines as sentences. Two cases of special interest to residents about here were disposed of on Tuesday. Charles P. Bilger and Ambrose Dodson, two cases, were each given a fine of $150.00 and placed under probation for three years. The charges involved the offenders with making it possible for prisoners in the Rockview Penitentiary obtaining liquor. Mr. Bilger lives on Nittany Mountain and has a contract for cutting and sawing timber on the penitentiary tract. Dodson was given a like sentence. P. K. Detwiler, of Spring Mills, also charged with liquor law violations, pleaded guilty as charged. Sentence, $200.00 fine, imprisonment in the county jail for sixty days. The Court warned him that if he again appeared before court on a similar charge, it would mean two and one-half years in the work-house. The court sessions were largely attended by both sexes. The State Highway Department is anticipating snow falls during the coming winter and now has a part of its employees constructing the portable snow fences along sections where snow drifts have heretofore blocked roads.

VOTE ON CHANGES IN CONSTITUTION IN 1932

Nineteen Pending; Only Five Have Passed Legislature Finally. Nineteen proposed amendments to the Constitution of Pennsylvania are now pending. They include two changes approved by the 1927 and 1929 sessions of the General Assembly; three by the 1929 and 1931 sessions; ten passed for the first time by the 1931 session and four by the extraordinary session of 1932. All nineteen have been advertised by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, but none were voted on at the last election. Amendments to the Constitution may be submitted no oftener than once in five years. The last time they were submitted was in 1928. The next vote will be in November, 1933.

The legislative session of 1927 proposed three amendments, two of which were again approved by the 1929 session. Amendments of particular interest to rural residents are noted below: Resolution 1-B proposes that section 18 of article 3 be changed to permit the General Assembly to make appropriations to blind persons 21 years of age and upwards. That section now limits such appropriations to pensions or gratuities for military service, and with that exception, prohibits appropriations for charitable, educational or benevolent purposes to any person or community or to any denominational or sectarian institution, corporation or association.

Resolution 2-B proposes giving the General Assembly power to authorize cities and boroughs to assess costs of highway improvements against abutting property in all cases where no prior assessment has been made for similar improvements. Resolution A-2 authorizes the creation of a debt of fifty million to pay compensation to Pennsylvanians who served in the war with Spain, the Philippines, Guam, China and the World War. Resolution A-3 would eliminate the present Constitutional requirement that a citizen must pay a State or county tax as a pre-requisite for voting.

The changes proposed by the regular session of 1931 are designated Resolutions C-1 to C-10 inclusive. They were advertised this year. They must again be approved by the 1933 session before they are voted on. Resolution C-1 would permit appropriations by general law for the assistance of mothers with dependent children and for aged persons without adequate means of support by reason of indigency, disease, infirmity, or other disability. If adopted this change will overcome the constitutional objections to old age pensions that come up when such a measure was passed by the 1933 sessions of the General Assembly. Resolution C-2 would exempt from taxation real and personal property owned, occupied and used by any branch, post or camp of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors or marines. Resolution C-3 is the absentee voting amendment. It would empower the Legislature to provide a method for voting by qualified electors who are unavoidably absent from their voting districts, or unable to go to the polling place because of disability. Resolution C-4 would authorize the creation of a debt of ten millions for the acquisition of toll bridges, such debt to be paid by the collection of tolls after which the bridges will be free. Resolution C-5 would permit counties, municipalities and townships to appropriate money to assist mothers with dependent children, and aged persons without adequate means of support. Resolution D-1 would give the General Assembly power to authorize the Governor to borrow money from the United States Government when loans to the States are authorized by Congress. This is designated to empower the State to take advantage of Federal relief measures. Resolution D-2 would permit the Governor, Auditor General and State Treasurer to borrow not more than $25,000,000 to defray expenses of the State for the next biennium, provided the 1933 session authorizes such borrowing. Resolution D-3 would give the State power to raise $25,000,000 to reimburse counties, cities and poor districts for amounts expended for unemployment relief.

He stated there was much optimism among the Dodge firm representatives as well as among car dealers. Premature drives for postmasterhips are being made by candidates in several sections in the valley. Some applicants are already circulating petitions, a thing useless under all conditions. Be patient, boys and girls, be patient. While operating a jig-saw a few days ago, Hiram Lee, of State College, sawed off a small portion of the end of the thumb on the right hand. The injury is expected to heal and result in no slight disfigurement and little loss in usefulness to the member.
