

CORRESPONDENTS' DEPARTMENT

Boalsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. John Horner moved into their new home on Saturday, and Mrs. Wm. Taylor and family, of State College, moved Monday into the home purchased from the Horners.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Louck, of Honeybrook, are spending some time at the home of Mrs. Louck's sister, Mrs. John Horner.

Harold Foster came up from Harrisburg on Wednesday to enjoy a few days of the hunting season at Bear Meadows Farm.

Mrs. John S. Dale, of State College, spent Friday afternoon calling on friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Goheen, Mrs. H. M. Hesterman, Mrs. W. F. Tennis and E. R. Tusey, attended the funeral of Rev. Walter Harnish at Alexandria on Wednesday.

The Victor Grange players, with their director, Priscilla Wasson, and stage manager, Frederic Dale, will be in Centre Hall this (Thursday) evening to present the play, "Kidnapping Betty," in the rural players' contest.

Mrs. Roland French and children, of New Haven, Conn., have been guests of Dr. and Mrs. Wm. Ham for several weeks.

T. A. Williams, of Liberty, was a caller in town on Saturday afternoon. Mr. Williams taught the Boalsburg High school some years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Odenkirk and daughters, Helen and Sarah, of Centre Hall, were visitors at the home of Mrs. Jacob Meyer on Saturday.

Mrs. Henry Bubeck, of Philadelphia, is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Mothersbaugh.

Millard McGirk and family, of Altoona, were visitors in town Sunday.

Spring Mills.

Lutheran Class Hears Noted Children's Chorus.

Rev. S. F. Greenhoe, pastor of the Lutheran church of Spring Mills, recently gave an extraordinary treat to his pupils upon the completion of their catechistical studies by arranging for the Reformed Ladies' Aid Society to prepare a supper for these young folks and the Altaria Children's Choir. Every year young people have been prepared for membership in the church by discussion and study of the catechism. During the catechization period the pupils receive talks about the church history and relative inspirational work. In the future the pastor expects to offer additional work to the group just admitted.

Upon completion of the meal, which was very much enjoyed, as there was an abundance of food served, the Children's Chorus entertained the class and a number of townspeople, under the direction of Prof. Raynard VonWelsenbusch, of Lewistown. It is interesting to note that his chorus started with a class of three and today that body has increased to well above twenty individuals of teen age who have won national recognition. At Spring Mills they were accompanied at the piano by Prof. Stackpole.

A note might be dropped here that the chorus also recently answered requests to sing in New York City and for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Pictures Corporation. In the spring they may be heard over radio stations KDKA, Pittsburgh, and WPG, Atlantic City.

Mrs. Irene Dehong, of Salvia, is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. F. Skiles.

Prof. H. C. Hayes and sister spent Sunday at their parental home in Mackeyville.

T. R. Wagner, of Williamsport, spent last week at his parental home, that of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wagner.

Mrs. C. J. Finkle was brought home from the Gelsinger hospital last week, not much better.

Mrs. Blaine Bitner was brought back from the Lewistown hospital where she had been for surgical treatment, and has been much benefited.

The G. T. V. S. Juniors will give a class play in the Grange Hall, Friday evening, Dec. 16.

Miss Sara Enlist, of Potters Mills, is doing the housework for Mrs. G. B. Bitner.

A. F. Rote is still on the sick list.

EMERICK KIN SUIT

OPENS ASTOR PARTNERSHIP

The partnership alleged to have been made in 1787 between John Nicholas Emerick and John Jacob Astor, which if proved, would make the heirs of Emerick fabulously wealthy, was brought into court in Philadelphia again on Saturday.

The petition of Maude E. Burth, described as the nearest surviving next of kin to Emerick, made to Judge Gest in the Orphans Court Saturday, resulted in his handing down an order authorizing the Register of Wills to grant letters of administration on the Emerick estate.

Similar action taken by Mrs. Martha E. Patton, of E. Penn st., Philadelphia, understood to have been based on concerted action of the association of John Nicholas Emerick, a number of whom are residents of Centre county, was withdrawn voluntarily.

It has been claimed that Emerick's agreement with Astor entitled him to two-thirds of the proceeds of the fur-trading, shipping and other mercantile ventures which accumulated the Astor fortune. Emerick died in 1814.
