Miss Mary Durst, east of Centre Hall, was a pleasant caller at the Reporter office on Monday.

Mrs. C. D. Bartholomew and her mother, Mrs. Susan Lutz, who have been quite ill with flu for two weeks, are gradually convalescing.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Filson of Lewistown, recently visited their newest and most entertaining grandchild, Harry R. White, Jr. and found him hale and hearty.

Lowell Thomas, nationally-known radio news reporter, will speak at State College, Saturday, February 11. His topic will be "From Singapore to Mandalay."

Clayton Wagner, who had been seriously ill from an attack of pneumonia, has been improving since Sunday. Mr. Wagner is a farmer and lives a few miles south of town.

Miss Marguerite Swann and Miss Margaret Cobangh, both employed at the Torrence State Hospital, were recent guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Swann, in Millheim.

Mrs. Homer Detwiler called at this office Saturday afternoon to say that the Fruittown correspondent was incorrect in stating that she and her husband were week-end guests at the home of John Bubb.

E. C. Zerby and son, George, Gregg township farmers, were in town on business on Saturday. The senior Mr. Zerby is a former Gregg township school director, having served the district faithfully for thirteen years.

Fred Fisher, the genial and efficient manager of the Richelieu and State theatres in Bellefonte, was taken to the Geisinger hospital, Danville, last week, where he is now a tonsil and appendicitis patient. His condition is reported as favorable.

George W. Felding, of Linden Hall, was one of the Reporter's callers on Monday. He helped to make up the large number of persons who took enough interest in horses to come here and look over the animals offered for sale on that day.

Miss Marion Smith successfully passed the final examination for entrance as a student nurse in the Jefferson Hospital, Philadelphia, and is now wearing an official cap. She is a Centre Hall High girl and can be depended on to do commendable work.

In making a remittance to the Reporter which boosted his subscription well into 1934, Wm. H. Haney, formerly of Centre Hall, now a field man with the Sheffield Farms Company, at Rising Sun, Maryland, says: "We enjoy reading the Reporter as much as ever, if not more, so am boosting the label a bit."

L. Maynard Barger, of near Posters Mills, was a Reporter caller on Monday, and stated he and Mrs. Barger attended the State Farm Show, at Harrisburg, last week. The farm show, in Mr. Barger's opinion, was well worth the time and expense making the trip to the capital city. The crowd was the largest in years.

M. C. Delaney is planning to move to his new home, the former Raymond farm, the beginning of March. It will be nineteen years in the spring since Mr. Delaney moved to near Centre Hall. T. F. Delaney lived on the Baird farm two years and moved off the spring his brother Michael took possession. M. C. Delaney's son, Earl, will now take up farming the Baird place.

The second attempt was made Monday night to organize a Centre County baseball league and failed like the first effort because of apparent lack of interest in the movement. The only clubs represented at the meetings were Centre Hall, Rebersburg, Pleasant Gap, and Bellefonte. Millheim, Lamar, Orviston and Howard were not represented at either of the meetings.

Mrs. M. C. Delaney is spending a week with her mother, Mrs. Israel Yearick, at Nittany, and from there will go to Flemington, to visit her sister, Mrs. Robert Kramer, and also with relatives in Leek Haven. She is bringing home with her Miss Margaret Kramer, of Flemington, and Miss Vivian Bennet, who will visit with the Delaney family until Sunday.

Prize-winning baby beef brought about half as much per pound at the annual State show at Harrisburg, last week, as at the 1932 show. A 900-lb. Hereford, entered by 19-year-old Amos Grady, of near Lebanon, was sold to a Harrisburg restaurant at 35 cents a pound, the lowest price in years. Last year's winner brought 60 cents a pound.

A buck deer, chased by dogs on Saturday, met his fate when he ran into a woven wire fence and broke his neck. The incident took place near the farm buildings of Daniel Coeyer, west of Old Fort. Men working on the Old Fort-Boalsburg road at once began to salvage the carcass by dressing it and calling a game warden who promptly took it to the Centre County hospital.

Among the families expecting to change their locations next spring in Centre Hall are two who at present are occupying the W. H. Homan property east of the borough line, and are Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Zellers and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Smeltzer. The former couple will at the time named occupy the Mrs. Anne's Homan apartment, and the latter the Lambert house, now tenanted by Constable W. B. Hanna and family. The Hanna family will move to the western end of Church street into a part of the Lanson Burdick dwelling.

Mrs. Lucy Henney, who has been in the Pittsburgh district during the past few weeks, is expected to return home shortly.

Mrs. W. J. Cann and young granddaughter, of Johnstown, for a week have been guests of Mrs. Cann's sister, Mrs. Margaret Godshall, in town. On Tuesday they visited friends at Linden Hall.

Elmer R. McClellan, one of Potter township's good substantial farmers, was a brief caller at this office on Tuesday, and reported his neighbor, William Grossman, to be in a very serious condition physically, with no hopes of recovery.

Sheriff John M. Boob accompanied Jack Smith to Centre Hall on Tuesday on a business trip, but was obliged to hurry home to attend the Bellefonte Kiwanis club meeting at noon on that day. The sheriff states business in the sheriff's office is slowing down—less prisoners, less sales, less money.

Puts Penna. Business at a Bad Disadvantage

Pennsylvania's abrogation of motor vehicle reciprocity with the states is a short-sighted policy which will cost the people millions of dollars and drive industry from the state, in the opinion of Harold S. Shertz, executive director of the Highway Users' Conference. Mr. Shertz points out in a statement issued by the Conference that the enforcement of the anti-reciprocity law means an increase in the cost of distribution which, in the final analysis, means an increase in the cost to the consumer.

"Abrogation of reciprocity," Mr. Shertz says, "places motor transportation in Pennsylvania at a disadvantage. The trucking industry, which contributes so largely to the state treasury, will find it difficult to compete in interstate commerce with similar concerns in neighboring states. Common carriers operating from Pennsylvania have had their costs increased by virtue of the licenses they have to pay to other states, the result of reciprocity's abrogation."

"Whereas a Pennsylvania trucking concern must acquire a license tag for every state its vehicles traverse, perhaps eight or ten, concerns in neighboring states are required to take out only two license tags to operate in interstate commerce. The additional cost to the Pennsylvania concern of doing business either must be absorbed by the company or passed on to the consumer. If it is absorbed, the additional expense may so cut into the company's profit as to make it unwise to continue in business; if it is passed on, the public will take advantage of the lower charges of concerns in neighboring states."

"The Pennsylvania truck-for-hire thus has been dealt a staggering blow. It will be impossible for truckers to continue to operate at a profit unless this law is repealed and the industry in Pennsylvania placed on an equal footing with the industry in nearby states."

Letzell. Sale to commence at 11:05 o'clock A. M. of said day. Terms cash. Sheriff's Office, JOHN M. BOOB, Bellefonte, Pa., Sheriff. January 23, 1933. x6

GOOD COFFEE NEVER CLOUDY OR BITTER

A hint to housewives! Good coffee is never cloudy, never bitter. The first fault may come from pouring before the grounds have had a chance to settle, a frequent and sad mistake.

Bitterness in coffee may come from over-brewing or permitting the beverage to remain in contact with the grounds beyond the period when the desirable quantity of flavor-and-roma-producing oils have been extracted. A second cause of bitterness is the types of coffees from which the blends are made. Bitterness and strength in coffee are not the same. A weak cup may be bitter, a strong cup rich in flavor and smoothness.

In the coffee trade, coffees strongest in the rich flavor and aroma oils are termed "milds" and are necessary to every good blend. In the production of these fine coffees Colombia, S. A., leads the world.

Lost 20 Lbs. of Fat In Just 4 Weeks

Mrs. Mae West of St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I'm only 23 yrs. old and weighed 170 lbs. until taking one box of your Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and furthermore I've never had a hungry moment."

Fat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce as tens of thousands of men and women know.

For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at any drugstore—the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back.
