Republicans are pretending they are glad over Democrats scrambling for Federal appointments under the incoming administration, while the truth is that it is hurting everyone of the 134 in Pennsylvania alone who have a nose in the feed bag. In addition to this number are the postmasters, a class by themselves. Every day brings the time nearer when the opposition must yield positions to the Democrats.
The yielding of patronage, it is given out, is to be first on ability and second, party loyalty on the part of the applicant.

HOLMES VOTES "NO."

The Conner-Sawyers bill, repealing the Armstrong-Snyder State Enforcement Act, passed the House on Tuesday by a vote of 136 to 62. Centre county's representative voted "no," as was anticipated.

FIRE DAMAGES REFORMED CHURCH AT HUBLERSBURG

The Hublersburg Reformed church was damaged by fire Sunday afternoon.
Fire was discovered on the roof of the building, and a call for help was immediately sent to the Bellefonte fire companies, who responded in record time. When they reached the scene they found a bucket brigade had been formed by citizens of the community and the fire extinguished.
It originated from an overheated furnace and the damage was confined to the roof of the building.

Rebersburg.

Mrs. Ida Weaver returned to her home on Sunday after being with her daughter, Mrs. John Metzgar, in Har-sburg and with her son Edwin Weaver, in Lewisburg, since Christmas.
Clymer Tyson, claim adjuster for the P. R. R. with residence in Harrisburg, had business in Beavertown on Saturday, and before returning home drove to Rebersburg to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Tyson.

Miss Jessie Moyer was at the home of her father, M. E. Moyer, over the week-end. Miss Moyer is employed in the Visco main office at Lewisburg, and reports business in their line better than a year ago.

Miss Sarah Zettle from Penn Hall visited her sister, Mrs. John Reish, for several days.

Raymond Granley, from Illinois, is visiting at the S. L. Gephart home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bierly and daughter Doretha, drove to Lewisburg last Wednesday on business.

Mrs. John Moyer returned to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Roy Marsteller, in Bloomsburg, on Friday night. Mr.
Moyer drove up for her to come care for Mr. and Mrs. Marsteller, who are ill.

Adam Reish spent the week-end in Grampian.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Bierly and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hackman visited at the Adam Bierly and Samuel Hillish homes, in Snyder county, a day last week.

When we hear some one speak dis-paragingly of the home paper, we give a moment's reflection, and soon discover that either that some one has failed in the conduct of his own business or is engaged in doing nothing to attract any favorable attention.

quiry whether or not persons who sold foods were properly qualified to do so from the standpoint of the State Board of Health. It was stated by him that preparations are being made to give to some qualified local person the right to act instead of a board of health,

RUMBLE SEAT PASSENGERS
INJURED WHEN CAR HITS
LOW LONG TRAILER

The Potters Mills-Boalsburg concrete road has one more accident to its credit, the last one having occurred on Friday evening at 7:45 o'clock, when a truck with a long low trailer attached was run into from the rear by a coupe driven by George R. Shoemaker, Allentown. There were in the coupe three passengers, some of them riding in the rumble seat, all of whom together with the driver were injured.
Shoemaker sustained lacerations of the lip; Katherine Landenslager, also of Allentown, fractured nose and body bruises; Estelle Gordon, Philadelphia, lacerations of the face, and Frances Barnett, Norristown, lacerations of the head and chest injuries.

The driver of the International truck —Roger O'Brien, of Phillipsburg, was not injured.

The accident occurred at a point near the intersection of the Red Mill township road and the concrete road, about two miles west of Potters Mills.
The trailer was one used for hauling machinery, but carried no burden.

BOY FALLS FROM HAY LOFT, SCALP CUT FROM SKULL

Brice Smith, the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Smith, on the C.
B. Neff farm west of Old Fort, proved a hero on the operating slab in Dr.
Light's office, here, one evening last week. While playing in the barn, the lad fell from the hay loft into the entry, and on landing struck his head against a stone wall. The scalp was torn from the skull on the right side.
While the injury was being dressed by the surgeon, the lad never once wimpered, and volunteered the information "the doctor must think me a pretty good fuy".

In the absence of the father from home, M. A. Burkholder, a neighbor, took the boy to Dr. Light's office.

score, while the Gregg boys lost by a score of 21-13. Both games should be interesting and fast as the Gregg boys are anxious to even up the series with the Beaver boys.

V. S. Girls, 32; Millroy High Girls, 6; Millroy at Spring Mills on Friday, Mar. 10.

CONTAGIOUS CASES MUST BE REPORTED BY HOUSEHOLDER

Contagious disease reports, now being received by the State Health Department, show that many householders are failing to call physicians unless the need appears to be urgent.
Consequently many cases of contagion are not being reported for quarantine, resulting in spread of disease and financial burden.

The law on the subject is very clear.
It requires householders to report suspicious attacks to the health officer if no physician is in attendance. The present situation requires extraordinary diligence by local health officers.

ESCAPES ASSASSIN'S BULLET

Anton Cermak, Chicago mayor, was severely wounded at Miami, Florida, Wednesday night, of last week, as were four others, when a would-be assassin attempted the life of President-elect with a bullet wound in the abdomen.

The three less injured were Miss Margaret Krus, Newark, N. J.; William Sinnott, New York detective, and Russell Caldwell, Miami.

Giuseppe Zingard, the would-be assassin, is a native of Italy, and when grilled by police stated that he had intended killing both President Hoover and Roosevelt, but found the former too well guarded, so confined his attention to the President-elect.
