

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

The Hotel Restaurant, Paul Bradford, proprietor, has been newly papered and presents a most sanitary and inviting appearance.

After a few days of the most delightful weather, rain set in on Saturday morning; Saturday night peals of thunder were heard, followed by intense cold.

Miss Elsie Weaver, of Wilkes-Barre, visited her college friend, Miss Agnes Geary, over last week-end. Miss Weaver teaches Latin in the Myers High school of her home city.

Funeral director F. V. Goodhart has already had two funerals this week. One body was interred Monday at Curtin, and the other on Wednesday, at Zion.

Wilkey Horner, of Altoona, who with Mrs. Horner is taking care of William Grossman, near Tusseyville, suffered a serious heart attack one day last week.

James E. Solt, who for many years lived at Frederick, Md., but now is living in Williamsport, was in town beginning of the week. He is a tobacco salesman now.

Miss Irene Herring, a Penn State student, had the misfortune to break a bone in one of her ankles and at present is unable to leave her home, near Spring Mills.

Joseph E. Miller, 30, a baker, was electrocuted in Altoona on Friday when he came into contact with a live wire while attempting to replace a belt on an electric motor. He was a native of Homewood.

Dean, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ross, west of Old Fort, contracted a case of scarlet fever. It is the only case in that immediate section. No new cases have developed in Centre Hall during the recent past.

H. W. Rote, of Spring Mills, was caller at this office on Saturday in the interest of his brother, Andrew E. Rote, of the same place, who has been seriously ill for some time past, and who will make public sale of his personal property on Saturday, March 11.

Solomon Homan, of Williamsport, was a week-end visitor of his son, Fred Homan, local plumber, and family. The elder Mr. Homan belongs to that great army of the unemployed at present. He was formerly employed in the wire-roping mill in Williamsport.

Messrs. Harry Weis and A. B. Portzlein, members of the Weis Pure Food Stores, Inc., were, in town last Friday, and to prove that the gentlemen are familiar with every little detail of their large store business, they put in proper working order a large disabled coffee grinder in their store here, showing that a knowledge of things mechanical helps in the store business.

During a visit of Mrs. Frank D. Goodhart and Lillian, Frank William, with her parents in Johnstown, Mr. Goodhart, right-hand man of Undertaker Goodhart, and his brother-in-law, Edward Gilbert, are having their first experience in housekeeping without a feminine hand in the pot. Mr. Gilbert is a graduate of the Johnstown High school, having obtained his diploma at the mid-winter exercises.

Mrs. C. D. Bartholomew has recovered from a serious illness sufficiently to warrant the discharge of Miss Orpha Segal, R. N., Spring Mills, who had been caring for her for a number of weeks. Regular visits by her physician have also been discontinued. During the past week she has enjoyed automobiling in company with members of her family, which also indicates that permanent recovery is on the way.

George G. Fink, former county treasurer and at present inheritance tax appraiser, accompanied by his grandson, Wayde Fink, of Phillipsburg, was in town one day last week, the senior having come here on official business. They called on the Reporter to renew old acquaintanceship. The elder Mr. Fink is no less an enthusiastic Republican than he was when elected to care for the county's money, about 1905.

With competition very keen, the two main routes coming from Brush Valley to Millheim and Coburn were awarded to the low bidder, Miffin R. Moyer, the present carrier on the Robertsburg route, was again the successful bidder to that route, while James I. Lingler, of Madisonburg, is said to be the successful bidder for the Madisonburg route. This service was rendered under the old contract for less than a decent wage, and now evidently is again reduced.

The sale of personal property at the James B. Swab residence by G. L. Swab, on Saturday, was largely attended, and very fair prices were obtained. Night came on before the offerings of the stock—two horses and two cows—and implements, tools, etc., at the barn were made, necessitating holding these over. S. H. Lohr was the auctioneer. Mr. McClintic and H. L. Ebright clerks. Nearly all purchases, amounting to about $500, were paid in cash.

Mrs. Columbus, widow of the well-known Columbus Columbus, in Millheim, is very seriously ill, following a paralytic stroke suffered about two weeks ago. She is well advanced in years and is living alone, her two children being located at distant points—a son in California and a daughter in Michigan. Another aged lady in the same place, Mrs. John Koenig, is very critically ill with slight hopes of recovery. She is also a sufferer from paralysis, having had two strokes within the past two months, the last about two weeks ago. Mrs. Koenig is living with her daughter, Mrs. M. H. Smith.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. Bright Bitner and daughter, Miss Jeraldine, drove to Milton and spent the week-end with friends there.

A son was recently born to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Spicher, at Spring Mills, on the Allison farm. The family now consists of six children.

Walter Wilkinson, a sophomore in Lock Haven Teachers' College, hitchhiked to Spring Mills for the week-end, and became a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Wingart.

Street light taxes in Milroy are so far in arrears that it is possible that the town may be dark at the end of this month, at which time the lighting contract expires.

Public sale of the personal effects of Harry Shively, Spring Mills, deceased, will be made some time this month by the administrator, H. P. Erdley, cashier of the First National Bank, Spring Mills.

Mrs. L. A. Beightol, of near Penn Hall, became a Centre County hospital patient on Sunday afternoon and on Monday forenoon underwent an appendicitis operation. Her condition is being reported as very favorable.

Miss Mayeva Fetteroff and Miss Margaret Kerstetter, of Millheim, the former a teacher and the latter an attendant at the Laurelton State Village, were at their home in Millheim over the week-end. Both the young ladies have been employed at the institution for several years and have been successful in their special lines of work.

Mrs. Ralph Confer, daughter of Elmer Foust, of Spring Mills, has been a patient in the Lewistown hospital for several weeks. She was visited on Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Bitner, of Spring Mills and reported by them to be improving and in good spirits. She will be glad to see friends who can call conveniently.

Mrs. Vera Meyer, who is continuing the butchering business carried on by her husband, the late John P. Myers at Spring Mills, purchased a Chevrolet delivery truck. She is being assisted by her son, Carl, in conducting the business, and after the close of the present school term a second son, Ardell, a Vocational school senior, will join the efforts of his mother and brother to make the business a success.

CORONER'S JURY HOLDS P. R. R. NEGLIGENT IN DEATH OF MISS REA

Six Port Matilda residents comprised a coroner's jury that late yesterday afternoon returned a verdict absolving James J. Hildebrandt, 21 year old Penn State student, from any blame in the death of Miss Julia Rea, 20, of Reynoldsville, and laying the entire cause of the accident at the feet of the Penna. Railroad Company. Miss Rea's death was caused when a car in which she and four others were riding hit a freight train at Port Matilda, on the night of February 19.

Dr. W. R. Heaton, Coroner of Centre county, personally conducted the inquest which was held at the scene of the accident and called as witnesses the passengers in the car on the fatal night, a representative of the P. R. R. Co., the father and uncle of the dead girl, and Corporal John Rasavage, of the Phillipsburg Detail Motor Patrol.

A Monument Erected-

to the memory of a loved one is a substantial expression of your lasting affection. To select one that will be appropriate requires careful consideration—for it must last through all the years to come. Let us co-operate with you by submitting suggestions based upon our wide experience as memorial sculptors.

Say! Who Owns the Highways, Anyway?

THE modern highways were originally planned for the use of the private car driver, says the Railroad Employees and Taxpayers Association of Philadelphia. Private car drivers are also the country's home and farm owners. They constitute the great army of the nation's taxpayers. Two-thirds of the up-to-date highway systems of the United States have been built out of property and income taxes, and only one-third out of license fees and gasoline levies. As a consequence, the Association declares, the great truck, which has enormously increased highway costs, enjoys a right-of-way chiefly paid for by the private car driver, farmer and home-owner. The private car operator has a natural right to the safe and convenient use of the high-
